COURT ENDS OIL FIGHT.

Mexico Enjoined from Acting.

Southern Capitol Tribunal Decides Confiscation of Rights is Wrong.

Decision May Remove Cause of Refused Recognition; Hughes Silent.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.
[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WASHINGTON, Aug. 31.—The decision of the Mexican Supreme Court enjoining the Mexican executive from confiscating American and other foreign oil properties acquired before May, 1917, is believed to remove one of the obstacles to the settlement of differences between the United States and Mexico, and to American recognition of the Obregon government.

Secretary of State Hughes was unwilling today to discuss the effect of the decision upon Mexican-American relations until he should have opportunity to study the opinion of the court. He did not conceal, however, his hope that the action would prove instrumental in paving the way to a satisfactory understanding with Mexico.

SOUGHT NATIONALIZATION.

The present Mexican constitution, which went into effect May 1, 1917, provided for the nationalization of Mexican oil and other mineral lands, and Carranza issued a decree providing for the retroactive application of the law, threatening the seizure and confiscation of American and other foreign oil lands acquired before that date. The decree was not annulled even under the Obregon administration.

The United States and other foreign governments protested against the retroactive provision of the law, and as a condition precedent to American recognition of Obregon Secretary Hughes insisted that Mexico enter into a treaty guaran-

GIRLS PHONE FOR CLOTHES.

Garments Taken While Bathing, Tell Officers Troubles Through Closed Doors.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

BERKELEY, Aug. 31.—Seven girl students at the University of California used a telephone instead of a barrel to obtain clothes tonight after a thief took their clothing from lockers in Hearst Hall while the girls were bathing in Hearst pool. The girls informed the police, and detectives arrived before friends could bring clothes. The detectives were given a report of the lost articles by talking through closed doors.

BONUS LAW IS VOID IN NEW YORK.

Court of Appeals Holds it Unconstitutional Because of Gift of Credit.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

ALBANY, Aug. 31.—The New York State soldier bonus law is unconstitutional, according to a decision of the Court of Appeals handed down here today. The opinion, written by Judge Andrews, held that the bonus law involved the gift of the State's credit, which is prohibited by Article VII of the State constitution. Judges Cardozo and Pound dissented.

The soldier bonus law was enacted by the 1921 Legislature after being indorsed by a huge majority in a referendum last November. The referendum sanctioned a bond issue of $45,000,000. The legislation, introduced by Miss Marguerite Smith of New York, the only woman member of the Assembly, provided for the creation of a bonus commission. Under the provisions of the law New York State residents who served in the World War were entitled to receive $10 for each month in service between the entry of the United States into the conflict and the signing of the armistice.

OLD ULSTER SPIRIT UP.

Belfast Trouble is Religious.

Business Suspended and City in Darkness; Additional Troops Called.

BY JOHN STEELE.
[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]
(Copyright, Chicago Tribune.)

LONDON, Aug. 31.—The Belfast riots continued to be waged fiercely today, one more man being killed and many wounded. Five died in the hospital yesterday, making the total deaths since Monday night, fifteen. The official figures give over fifty wounded, but the real number is probably in the hundreds, owing to the efforts of the rioters to conceal the injured.

The Lord Mayor protested to the officer commanding the troops at the inaction of the military, who have been contenting themselves with patrolling the streets in armored cars pleading for a truce and not taking active measures to stop the fighting.

MILITARY TAKES HAND.

Following the protest the military took possession of the streets, posting pickets everywhere, and the situation now is reported as quieter.

Among the casualities today was Mary McCracken, one hundred years old, who was shot in the arm while standing at the door of her house.

Early this morning the fiercest fighting to date occurred. There seems to be little doubt that the fighting was started by the Orange men, but the Catholics were not far behind. Catholic gunmen attacked Orange shipyard employes while on their way to work this morning, and the first clash of the battle began at Royal Avenue and York Street and soon spread to other principal streets, which soon became impassible. The street car service was stopped after a couple of passengers had been wounded by flying bullets.

ENTRENCHED IN GARDENS.

During the night the rioting spread to Antrim road, the middle class district which heretofore has been free of fighting. Gunmen from both sides seized front gardens where they entrenched themselves and maintained a steady fire for hours. Sandbag barricades were also thrown up and from time to time heavy explosions of bombs were heard in all directions.

The religious line was drawn even in the case of the wounded, the Protestants being taken to the Royal Victoria Hospital and the Catholics to the Misericordia.

The town was in complete darkness during the night, as the lamp lighters refused to make their rounds owing to the risk.

The Rev. John Pollock, a local clergyman who has just returned from New York, where he presided at the Christian Endeavor convention, speaking at a Presbyterian meeting today declared that the disgraceful condition in Belfast would not be endured for a day in the United States, where the government would put down the trouble in a few hours. A section of the Irish people, he said, professed a great regard for the American flag and he, a staunch loyalist, wished they could have the government of the Stars and Stripes for a short while, for then the Irish problem would be solved at least so far as the maintenance of law and order was concerned.

PRAISE FOR ULSTER.

Sir James Craig today received a telegram from James Ray of Boston, president of the Ulster League of North America, saying that 80 per cent of the American people repudiated the agitation for an Irish republic and would unhesitatingly uphold the Ulster contention.

The Belfast Chamber of Commerce passed a resolution today calling on the Ulster government to reconsider the purchase of Stormount Castle for its Parliament house. The reason for the action was not stated, but it was undoubtedly due to the belief that the separate Ulster Parliament will be short lived.

News from Dublin states that the Irish reply to Prime Minister Lloyd George's latest letter has not been completed and may not be dispatched now before the end of the week.

All the interned men in the Spike Island internment camp are now on a hunger strike, demanding the release of the twenty men convicted by military courts.

NO TRUCE IN BELFAST.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

BELFAST, Aug. 31.—Although the truce between the discordant factions is being observed throughout the remainder of Ireland, Belfast again today experienced another period of terror from gunmen and snipers. The death list was augmented by six, while thirty persons were injured, many seriously.

Today's casualities bring the total death roll for the three days' rioting to fifteen. There probably have been 100 persons more or less seriously injured, of whom numbers were noncombatant.

With some quiet intervals, resulting from the police putting snipers to flight, shooting persisted at various sections from early morning until late tonight. Sometimes it became so dangerous as to necessitate suspension of the tramway service. Many workers could not reach their places of employment and returned home, while shopkeepers did not dare open their stores. In some disturbed districts manufactories were compelled to close.

CABINET MEETS.

The Ulster Cabinet met today to consider conditions here. Military officials and police authorities joined in the discussions. Arrangements were made to draft additional troops

BATTLE WITH THOUSANDS OF OUTLAW MINERS NEAR.

Authorities of West Virginia Again Appeal for Troops at Once; Three of Defensive Forces Killed.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

LOGAN (W. Va.) Aug. 31.—Logan authorities tonight announced that a telegram had been sent to Washington stating that, unless troops were sent at once, the county would be attacked by between 4000 and 6000 men. Sheriff Chafin, in a statement to newspaper men, said that there has been more or less continuous firing today at Beech Creek, Blair, Crooked Creek and Mill Creek.

The statement says:

THE STATEMENT.

"Casualties, according to the best reports we can obtain, were limited to three in the defensive forces. John Gore, deputy sheriff, was killed. We have not received identification of the other two. We have received no information as to the number killed on the opposing side. We know of one miner who was shot when striking at our men. The most serious fighting was reported from the vicinity of Blair. At all points our forces drove back the invaders. Our opponents advanced one mile in the Blair district and were driven back. In the Beech Creek district they advanced one mile and also were turned back. In the Peck's Hill district they advanced two miles along Hewitt Creek. Here we also drove them back.

"We have 1200 men and have arranged for reinforcements. I have heard nothing of the fate of the deputies held prisoners.

Additional reports received by Sheriff Don Chafin of Logan county and Sheriff Bill Hatfield of McDowell county, were that three other men had been killed at Mills Creek.

INVADERS ADVANCE.

Other developments included the announcement that the invaders had advanced their lines two miles today and on the Logan sector were only four miles from the county forces. At Peck's Mills, headquarters of the McDowell men, six miles of rough mountain country were said to separate the outposts. Through this wild section scouting parties from both sides passed, and it is assumed today's casualities occurred there. Surgeons and nurses were sent to Peck's Mills, where a field hospital was established.

Volunteers continued to come to Logan from all over the southern part of the State, en route to the front.

LONG CONTROVERSY.

The situation confronting the people of Logan county is the direct outgrowth of the long controversy between organized and unorganized miners. All of Logan county east of Spruce Fork ridge is unorganized, but the little section between the eastern slope of the mountains and the Boon county line is filled with union miners.

These men last week prepared to join the march of other union men from Marmet to Mingo county, to protest against the enforcement of martial law in Mingo county.

Many of these miners who abandoned the march are said to have retraced their steps and started for Jeffery, where the union miners of Logan were gathered. Tonight it was estimated fully 5000 were in that region.

READY FOR MARTIAL LAW.

Troops Will Be Rushed to West Virginia Today If Fighting Continues.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Aug. 31.—The Federal government stood ready tonight to act in West Virginia should tomorrow's reports show lack of compliance with President Harding's proclamation calling on all persons engaged in unlawful and insurrectionary proceedings to return home.

Two regiments of troops of 1000 men each, one at Camp Sherman, O., and the other at Camp Dix, N. J., were ready to move into the State on a moment's notice, War Department officials said.

PROCLAMATION SIGNED.

A proclamation declaring martial law in five West Virginia counties has been drawn up and signed by the President, ready for promulgation.

Officials, however, remained still hopeful that neither step would be necessary, although their spirit of optimism was lowered today by dispatches telling of clashes between bands of armed men and State authorities and containing no indications of a disposition to comply with the President's proclamation.

Decision as to whether the Federal government will order troops into the State and declare martial law—a step which has not been taken in any State since the days immediately following the Civil War—will depend on conditions as reported by Brig.-Gen. Bandholtz at noon tomorrow, the hour fixed as a limit by President Harding.

Gen. Bandholtz left today for Charleston.

IN FIVE COUNTIES.

The declaration of military rule and use of troops if found necessary by Gen. Bandholtz, it was stated, will be confined to Kanawha, Fayette, Boone, Logan and Mingo counties, a section in the southwestern part of the State, embracing Charleston, the State capital.

Reports from the disturbed area were forwarded to Secretary Weeks by Gov. Morgan today. They said the armed men resented orders to disperse, declaring they would force the government to declare martial law and threatening to blow up troop trains should soldiers be sent.

A telegram signed by members of the West Virginia delegation, which conferred yesterday with Secretary Weeks, reached the War Department late today from Charleston.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE.

"The committe just returned to Charleston," the message said, "and find miners from practically every camp in the Kanawha-Fayette-Boone section rushing to Logan-Boone line. We saw several man with high-pow-

RETURN OF TROOPS IS NOW ASKED.

Textile Workers on Strike in North Carolina Again Go on Rampage.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

ASHEVILLE (N. C.) Aug. 31.—Conditions in and near Concord, important textile center, are again beyond control of the city and county authorities, Gov. Morrison was advised late today by Sheriff Spears and Mayor Womble of Concord. The Governor was requested to order the return of State troops to the posts from which they were withdrawn a few days ago.

A strike among textile workers in Cabbarus county mills in June caused the shutdown of more than a dozen factories and led to disorders which resulted finally in Gov. Morrison sending troops to take charge. Failure of the workers and employers to agree on wages and working conditions was given as the cause of the strike.

With the arrival of the militia the situation rapidly cleared. With approval of the local authorities the Governor about two weeks ago ordered the withdrawal of the troops.

Burgenland is Quiet After Recent Rows.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

VIENNA, Aug. 31.—Reports from Burgenland indicate that yesterday was free from further conflicts between Austrian and Hungarian forces, which started Sunday night, when Austrian troops went to take control of the Burkenland district were attacked. Some 4000 Austrian soldiers have been moved near Mattesdorf and will suppress disorder there.

ODENBURG (Burgenland) Aug. 30.—This city, center of the disorders growing out of the award of Burgenland to Austria under the Treaty of St. Germain, was comparatively quiet today. The local council apparently is successful in keeping order.

Greeks Break Silence; Turks Are Retreating.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

ATHENS, Aug. 31.—The official silence was broken today by a communique announcing that after seven days' desperate fighting on strongly fortified heights north of the rivers Gheuk and Katrandji—on a sixty-kilometer line—the Turks have given way and have begun a retreat northeast. The Greek troops are in close pursuit.

Another communication by the official news agency says that according to the war correspondents, "the resistance of the enemy is broken."

"It is declared from an authoritative source," adds the statement, "that the operations are developing in our favor. All Turkish reports concerning the pretended victories are unfounded."

SCORES LAW EVASION.

Personal Liberty Plea Attacked.

Attorney-General Daugherty Declares Theories of Many Are Dangerous.

Criticises Radicals and Those Who Defy Prohibition Law of Nation.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

CINCINNATI, Aug. 31.—Theories of political philosophy "now advanced by those who either violate law or sympathize with law violators" in industrial conflicts, agitation to upset American forms of government, and against enforcement of prohibition statutes, are the greatest forces at work in the United States to undermine respect for the law, Atty.-Gen. Daugherty today told the American and Ohio Bar associations.

Arguing equally against sentiment that regards a convicted I. W. W. as a "herd of conscience" and a "political prisoner," that holds a bootlegger an exponent of "personal liberty," and sets the slogan of "human rights against property rights," in employment disputes, Mr. Daugherty asserted fallacy and danger lay in all.

WOULD INFORM PUBLIC.

He suggested a method of informing public opinion by semi-governmental means to obviate industrial conflicts, but advocated complete disregard for the theories advanced in the two other fields. He declared that the demand for "personal liberty" in prohibition enforcement had been "advanced in the past by every champion of lawlessness who has sought excuse for unlawful conduct."

"Every citizen of the law is not undermined by the ordinary criminal who commits murder, robbery or larceny," he said. "On the contrary every occurrence of crimes of this sort tends to impress on society the profound importance of law and its vigorous enforcement. The supremacy of the law is and has been challenged baldly in that class of legislation where there exists a difference of opinion as to governmental policy in enacting the legislation in question. At present among the forces undermining respect for law . . . are the doctrine of so-called political offenses, erroneous conceptions of personal liberty and false doctrines as to the rights of individuals and minorities."

Resentment of large corporations of "persons and capital" against "interference of laws regulating them," he said, involved a "mistaken attitude" for "law and order is the shield of business and its only security."

Commercial and social leaders who scoff at the Federal prohibition law are aiding anarchy and promoting mob violence, robbery and homicide, it was declared today in a warning issued to the people by the judicial section of the American Bar Association.

"The people have undertaken to suppress the age-long evil of the liquor traffic," the statement said. "When for the gratification of their appetites lawyers, bankers, merchants and manufacturers and social leaders, both men and women, scoff at this law, or any other law, they are aiding the cause of anarchy and promoting mob violence, robbery and homicide.

"They are sowing dragon's teeth, and they need not be surprised when they find that no judicial or police authority can save our country or humanity from reaping the harvest."

MORE JUDGES ADVOCATED.

Appointment of eighteen new Federal judges, two for each circuit in the United States, to take care of the increased business of the courts, was urged before members of the judicial section of the association this afternoon by Chief Justice Taft of the Supreme Court of the United States. A bill for their appointment has been recommended to the President and Congress by Atty.-Gen. Daugherty, the Chief Justice said.

The new judges would be appointed for life and would be assigned to any district where they were needed to clear up the docket, Chief Justice Taft said.

Delay in the courts was scored by Justice Taft, who laid the blame in a large degree upon the fact that legislative power does not provide adequate machinery for prompt dispatch of business.

"Delay works always for the man with the longest purse," Justice Taft said. "The importance of impartial, prompt and effective administration of justice has not lost its importance in any change of view as to other functions of government."

MESSAGE FROM HARDING.

A liberal attitude toward those who question the law will lead to better safeguarding "the good we possess and rightly shaping the measure of progress that we must have," President Harding declared in a letter of greeting to the association.

President Harding expressed regret that he could not attend the convention, but praised the association for upholding "the highest ethics of a noble profession." The President's letter was read by Hampton L. Carson, acting president of the association, who presided at the opening.

AGE OF SHAM.

A revolt against tradition and authority has sprung up not only against the political state, but in music, art, poetry and commerce, until the age has become "preeminently one of sham and counterfeit," James M. Beck, Solicitor-General of the United States declared. He spoke on "The Spirit of Lawlessness."

"The statistics of our criminal courts in recent years show an unprecedented growth in crime," Beck said, "but this revolt against authority is not confined to the political

PRICE REDUCED BY "THE TIMES."

Pledge to Cut Subscription Cost as Soon as Possible is Carried Out.

When a shortage in labor and transportation, due to war conditions, caused a radical increase in the cost of production in 1918, The Times made a pledge to its readers to reduce the then inevitable rise in the subscription price, "as quickly as lowering cost conditions warrant."

That time has now arrived, and The Times is not among those who take advantage of the lower cost of material to buy for less and continue to reap a profit by selling its products at war prices. Although there has been no reduction in the pay of any of its employees, the cost of paper going to make up a newspaper has been reduced.

Mindful of its pledge in 1918, the price of The Times, delivered by carrier to its regular subscribers will be reduced today from $1.05 to 90 cents a month.

Lowering the price will occasion no deterioration in quality. For The Times will enrich its pages with many new and notable special features. Its corps of trained special correspondents girdles the globe. Whenever history is in the making trained observers are on the ground to report faithfully and truthfully what is taking place. They are newspaper men, not propagandists.

The Times aims to be a paper of character. It never publishes without first investigating; but when the facts are once established it narrates them boldly, without fear or favor.

The Times does not permit its editorial policy to encroach on its news columns, for it recognizes that what happens is of vastly more importance than what The Times thinks ought to happen.

The Times does not resort to the vile practice of printing scandlis, immoral and sensational articles, pandering to the sexual passions. Primarily a home newspaper, the publishers of The Times seek to make its pages as clean and wholesome as the dwellings it enters.

ALL GERMANY PROTESTING

Wheels of Nation Stop an Hour.

Government Officials Leave Berlin at Critical Time to Attend Funeral.

Services at Bier of Slain Leader, Erzberger, Are Most Impressive.

BY DONALD STONE.
[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

BERLIN, Aug. 31.—Workmen and employers—Democrats, Socialists, Independent Socialists and Center party men—from all the factories, plants and business organizations throughout Germany—left work this afternoon in order to take part in manifold acts "for the republic and against political murder."

In order to keep the water works, street cars, electric plants and hospitals from complete stoppage, representatives were left, but in most towns, such as Hamburg, they announced a complete tie-up of everything for an hour.

Although the demonstrations were favorable to the present government, it was feared that extremists might try to provoke clashes, and therefore auto trucks with policemen armed with machine guns passed through the streets of Berlin on their way to the court yards of public buildings, where they were kept hidden for emergencies.

ATTEND FUNERAL.

Despite the fact that high officials considered the day most critical, the members of the Cabinet and other high officials, including even Chief of Public Order Weismann, left town to attend the funeral of Herr Erzberger. It was rumored that the main reason for their trip to South Germany was because of the infection of the South German governments with the Presidential decrees on the press and public meetings.

More than an hour before the time set for the demonstrations, more than 2000 persons had filled the Leipzigerstrasse, overflowing into the side streets, while more kept streaming in with red flags and Republican and anti-monarchist placards calling for the security and protection of the republic's president.

In the true Prussian fashion of Orpheus, which for eighteen years has been the Berlin theater with the heaviest subscription, the Republican element was the chief one represented in the audience gathered to hear German celebrities gathered to pay their last respects to the late German leader.

SERVICE IMPOSING.

In the church where the coffin was placed last night an impressive service was begun at 7 o'clock this morning in order to enable all his friends to pass the coffin before the final requiem.

The Pope sent special representatives for the service, which was held in the presence of all the leading men of the present republic. A special train brought the officials, including Chancellor Wirth, who placed a purple and white chrysanthemum wreath on the coffin and who, as the closest friend of the late leader, kneeled at the right side of the altar during the requiem.

The president of the Reichstag and special delegations representing all the German states and consuls-general attended the funeral. After the religious ceremony, which lasted an hour, Chancellor Wirth paid tribute to his friend.

TO SUSPEND PAPERS.

As a result of yesterday's decree giving the government the power to suspend publications agitating against the government public peace and the security of government officials, the National Zeitung reports that nine reactionary newspapers will be suspended within two weeks, including four in Bavaria.

It is declared that it will be difficult to stop the publication of the papers in Bavaria owing to the weakness of Federal authority there. One paper, the Spandau Tageblatt, the day following Herr Erzberger's assassination, openly advocated the murder of the pacifist editor, Helmuth von Gerlach.

YAP TANGLE IS UNWINDING.

Japanese Cabinet Decides on Questions That Must Be Excluded From Washington Conference.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

TOKIO, Aug. 31.—The Japanese Foreign Office has received advices, according to Tokio newspapers today, indicating that the points at issue between Japan and the United States over control of the island of Yap would soon be settled upon the following basis:

First, the United States would recognize the Japanese mandate over the island.

Second, the United States would control the cable between the islands of Yap and Guam.

Third, the cable connecting Japan, Yap and Menado would be settled on a basis of recognition of Holland's rights therein.

POLICY IS OUTLINED.

The Cabinet yesterday decided on an outline of Japan's policy at Washington, the Nichi Nichi says, whereby, Japan will insist "to the last" on exclusion from the agenda of the following accomplished facts:

First, the Kwang-Tung leased territory; second, the operation of the South Manchurian Railway; third, Kiao-Chow, which will be returned to China, according to previous declarations; fourth, the question of Yap.

This outline will be submitted to the Diplomatic Advisory Council.

The Chugai Shogyo Shimpo thinks it is almost certain China will endeavor to reopen the twenty-one demands question, and that the Hara government will find it difficult to oppose such a move, because it is on record as against the Japanese policy behind these demands. It also believes Japan will have difficulty in including powers participating in the Washington conference to refrain from discussing matters solely affecting particular powers and accomplished facts in general.

PROSPECTS BRIGHT.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Aug. 31.—The question of adjusting points at issue in Yap is still the subject of diplomatic conversations between the United States and Japan, with good prospects of satisfactory settlement, it was said today at the State Department.

No intimation, however, was given as to the probable basis of adjustment.

Previously, it had been indicated, the cables would very possibly be distributed among interested powers, such as the United States, Japan and Holland. The question of recognizing the Japanese mandate over the island, however, it is understood, is still open

ROB LOS ANGELES TRAIN.

Bandits Board Union Pacific Limited and Clean Out the Passengers.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SALT LAKE CITY, Aug. 31.—Two masked and heavily armed bandits held up Los Angeles Limited No. 7 of the Union Pacific system shortly after 2 o'clock today near Clearfield, nine miles south of Ogden, between Ogden and Salt Lake City, and made their escape after robbing all the male passengers. No details of the robbery have yet been received by the local officials of the railroad beyond the bare outline of the hold-up.

Immediately on receiving the news, officers were sent by the Union Pacific to meet the train to get further details. The limited on which the hold-up occurred is due in Los Angeles tomorrow at 2:40 p.m.

The train was stopped by an automatic block signal. The two robbers boarded the train and commanded everyone in the observation car to hold up their hands. While one gathered the loot in the observation car, the other proceeded to the other cars. The exact amount taken is not known.

RIDE TO CITY.

The train is not scheduled to stop between Ogden and Salt Lake City. After a few minutes delay the robbers signaled to Robert Hayes, the conductor, to have the train started. It came on toward Salt Lake City. Nearing the outskirts of the city the robbers pulled the cord and again brought the train to a standstill. They alighted and escaped in the northern part of the city.

One passenger in the observation car rather than hold up his hands, jumped from the train. As he was fleeing, one of the bandits shot at him.

R. A. Torrens and wife, of New York, occupying a drawing room, were among the victims. They reported a loss of $13. H. M. Ormston, a commercial traveler of Salt Lake City, reported a loss of $75.

The woman and children on the train were not molested, with the exception of Mrs. Torrens.

SCRIBBLES NOTE.

While the train was speeding here, one passenger scribbled a note and threw it out of the window. It was a notification that the train had been held up. A railway employee picked it up and telephoned to headquarters here. A posse was immediately organized but by the time it reached the incoming train the robbers had disappeared.

The robbers were described as being between 26 and 35 years old.

ENGLISH RESPECT LAW.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

The average Englishman, with all of his proverbial insistence upon his personal rights, calls less often upon his courts for relief than does his American cousin, declared John W. Davis, former Ambassador to England, in an address tonight before the Bar Association, in which he gave "some random observations on the organization of the legal profession in England and the administration of English justice."

"Startling as it may seem, the litigation of England and Wales is relatively little more than the litigation in our Federal courts alone; and the vast tide of controversy that flows through our State tribunals may be credited to us as surplus belligerency."

The speaker, after discussing the ranks and orders into which the legal profession in England is divided, declared that "in comparison with the close knit organizations sheltered by the Inns of Court and Law Society, we in America seem so many scattered grains of sand."

It is difficult to make one familiar only with the English atmosphere, he continued, "understand that, in truth, notwithstanding this association, there is no such body as the American Bar. There are, instead, scattered groups consisting of county, city and State bars, with a Federal bar here and there composed in part of the same members, but united by no tie of common origin or discipline."

AMERICAN SHIP HELD FOR DEBT.

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

NAPLES, Aug. 31.—While the Shipping Board and the United States Postal Service are deadlocked in New York, the steamship Pocahontas, the property of the United States government, has been seized for debt in Naples, where for two months it has been the subject of ridicule by the Italian press. Americans here say the situation is a disgrace to the United States merchant marine and a blow to national pride.

The twenty-six passengers and 250 members of the crew are destitute, they being without money and their clothes and shoes being worn out. The food supplies will last only five days longer and further credits are impossible.

and other steps were taken to maintain order.

Gunmen were again active tonight in the Old Lodge district. They opened a heavy fire toward Shank Hill road, a thickly populated Protestant quarter. A young man was killed and four seriously wounded.

Workmen were attacked on the way home in West Belfast. The police fired on the attacking forces, which were dispersed.

The trouble had its origin in Warren and side streets lying between West street and North Queen street. The residents there and on Old Lodge road, another storm center, are of mixed political views, and constantly bickering is the result.

AUSTRIAN REGULARS SENT TO ODENBURG.

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

VIENNA, Aug. 31.—Austrian regular troops in armored cars are being rushed to the disputed territory where the Hungarian rebels, under the command of Lieut. Hejas, continue to hold Odenburg.

The West Hungarian population is fleeing to Austria, jamming the roads with their carts and their live stock, which they are taking with them. The Allied officers are preparing to take command of the operations in the disputed zone and to force the Hejas forces to evacuate.

AGREE ON PATERNITY OF CHILD.

Science, Law and Art All Say Bay City Man is Father of Wife's Third Baby.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 31.—Science, art and the law are one in declaring Julius B. Sorine the father of the third child of his divorced wife. The mother had declared the husband was not the father of the child, whose custody he sought. Dr. Albert Abrams made a series of blood tests of father and son, which, he declared, provided positive proof that the child was Sorine's.

The mother maintained she should know better than science who was the father.

Then art was called into the case by Judge Graham. Sculptor Haig Pattigan, by sketches, worked out a facial expression test like that used in the famous Slingsby case in England. Pattigan reported to the court the child resembled Sorine.

Today the law spoke through Judge Graham: "Irrespective of these tests, which were very interesting and instructive, the law determines the question very clearly. The youngest child was born during the lawful wedlock of the parties, and there is legal presumption that the boy is their legitimate child."

Though Mrs. Sorine lost her contention that the child was not Sorine's, the court ruled the child should remain in her care. Sorine was proved the father, but lost the child.

MEXICO LOSES FIGHT ON OIL.

feeling that there would be no confiscation of the properties acquired before May 1, 1917.

President Obregon was unwilling to give such guarantees in the form of a treaty, and for the last three months he has been endeavoring to devise means of satisfying the United States and winning the coveted recognition of his government without entering into a treaty.

Undoubtedly his hope now is that the United States will be satisfied with the decision of the Mexican Supreme Court, which, it is more than likely, was influenced to hand down an opinion in harmony with Obregon's efforts to reach an agreement with Mr. Hughes without signing a treaty.

The Mexican court enjoined the executive from carrying into effect a retroactive application of the nationalization law on the ground that the constitution itself provides that "no law shall be given retroactive effect to the prejudice of any person whatsoever."

Whether this decision will satisfy the Harding administration and cause Mr. Hughes to waive further insistence upon a treaty remains to be seen. He might take the position that the court decision merely had removed any possible ground Obregon might have had for refusing to sign the proposed treaty, for in his official statement of June 7, the Secretary of State said:

"If Mexico does not contemplate a confiscatory policy, the government of the United States can conceive of no possible objection to the treaty."

If the United States were to accept the Mexican court decision alone as a satisfactory settlement, there would still remain no assurance that the court at some future time would not reverse itself and authorize the resumption of a confiscatory policy. It might likewise be contended that the signing of a treaty on the subject by Mexico would be no assurance that some future Mexican administration would not scrap the treaty.

In that event, however, the situation would be more serious for Mexico, for scrapping of a treaty would be a repudiation of specific pledged obligations which would sanction severe action by the United States.

On the other hand, the decision of the Mexican court annuls the Carranza decree and halts the confiscation policy which gave rise to the protests of the United States and to the demand for a treaty guaranteeing respect for American property rights. It will be contended by Obregon that the removal of the cause of the dispute by the court leaves the United States no just ground on which to exact the guarantees.

MAKE NO COMMENT.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

MEXICO CITY, Aug. 31.—Local representatives of American oil companies declined today to express opinions concerning the action of the Supreme Court in unanimously granting an injunction to the Texas Company enjoining the Mexican Department of Commerce and Industry from denouncing rights to oil lands held by the Texas company prior to May 1, 1917. They said they preferred not to give their opinions until the text of the decision of the court is published.

It was the general sentiment here, however, that the non-retroactivity of Article 27 of the Mexican constitution, has been definitely decided by the decision, and that supporting the Supreme Court's decision is President's Obregon's reiteration that the famous Article 27 never was construed by his government as being retroactive.

UPPERMOST QUESTION.

The question most frequently asked today was what would be the attitude of the United States toward recognition of Mexico if the Supreme Court's action is construed as the final word on the retroactivity of Article 27. Persons who are not considered optimists and several newspapers opposed to the government asserted that the United States' State Department probably would maintain its insistence that President Obregon sign a treaty, inasmuch as the Supreme Court's decision, or even a Congressional enactment, might be subject to revision or modification by any succeeding administraton.

One newspaper, the Omega, pointed out that the Supreme Court two years ago declared article 27 was retroactive. It is a matter of record that the Mexican Foreign office six months ago officially informed the American ambassy that the article was retroactive.

The next step taken by the Mexican government doubtless will be introduction in the Chamber of Deputies of a new petroleum bill, shortly after the chamber convenes tomorrow.

BEST OF MOTIVES.

A Mexican government statement today asserted the "American oil magnates have come to Mexico animated with the best motives and determined to come to a speedy and amicable agreement."

President Obregon was quoted as saying the first conference between Secretary De la Huerta and the Americans indicated widely divergent opinions regarding taxes, but that "this disparity will be smoothed out, granted that good will animates both sides."

It is understood the oil delegates have prepared counter proposals regarding taxes. It is considered unlikely the Americans will meet President Obregon except to exchange social courtesies, as the entire settlement so far as Mexico is concerned lies with Secretary De la Huerta.

CAN'T PASS LOSS ON TO CONSUMER.

RAIL COMMISSION DECLARES UTILITY MUST BEAR SHARE OF HARD LUCK.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 31.—The Railroad Commission declared today that a utility must bear its share of community loss in times of financial stress and not pass it on to the consumers, the statement being made in denying the application of the Kennett Water Company of Kennett, Shasta county, for a surcharge.

The company based its application on the material loss of revenue due to the shutting down of the United States Smelting and Refining Company. The commission suggested that the company reduce its operating expenses by rigid economy.

REDS BUYING SEED GRAIN FOR FARMERS

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

RIGA, Aug. 31.—The recent sale of 5000 tons of seed rye to the soviet government representatives stationed at Reval was the first contract made without the customary five per cent graft commission being paid unofficially to the soviet purchasing agents, according to a canvass made today among Reval merchants and foreign manufacturing representatives.

Last week it was possible to sell any quantity of seed rye to the soviet agents who specified that deliveries must be made before September 5, as that was the latest date possible which would permit the sowing of the grain in the famine areas. A week ago the soviet embassy received the first shipment of gold made in many weeks and it immediately began to purchase seed rye, for which it paid a high price. Three contracts were made with Swedes and one with Denmark, the prices paid ranging from 280 krones (normally about $95) to 440 krones ($110) per ton. The Russians were not satisfied with their bargain with the Swedes as the latter lacked ships to transport the grain.

The soviet has announced that 1400 freight cars are being rushed to Reval to bring grain to the Tartar republics, which are suffering most from the famine. Seventy-five per cent of the children there are dying from lack of nourishment.

The soviet agents announce that 2,500,00 krones (normally about $500,000) which was donated by the Danes is going to the relief of the Tartar children.

Owing to the slow collection of the grain tax a decree authorizes a potato tax which, it is expected, will yield 300,000 tons of potatoes.

The Moscow government has warmly thanked the Esthonian government for fourteen cars of food which arrived in the Russian capital August 29, the Esthonian relief being the first aid actually received in Moscow.

The Petrograd staff of the American relief administration, consisting of Charlton Bowden, formerly with the organization in Budapest, Donald Cowrie and Albert Inooka, left for the former Russian capital to open a kitchen. It is expected it will be in operation within a week.

RICE GROWERS ASK DUTY BE RESTORED.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WASHINGTON, Aug. 31.—California and Southern rice growers today appeared before the Finance Committee of the Senate to urge that a duty of a cent a pound be placed upon the Patna rice imported from the Straits settlements and other portions of the Orient. This rice, importers said, was the only kind that could be cooked and canned without becoming mushy. The American growers demonstrated to the committee the proper cooking of the American-grown rice produced as good or better results as the Patna rice, and disproved the contention of the importers. The growers called attention to the amendment introduced by Senator Shortridge calling for the duty of a cent per pound, and asked that the committee take action to that effect.

When the Fordney bill was introduced in the House it carried a cent per pound protection, and in the eleventh hour of its consideration in the House, this protection was eliminated. When the matter was called to the attention of Senator Shortridge he introduced the amendment restoring the protection.

From the best information attainable tonight it is believed that the Senate Finance Committee will restore the duty and that the market will be preserved for the American-grown rice.

LEAPS OVERBOARD FROM SHIP'S DECK.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

NEW YORK, Aug. 31.—Government and city authorities and officials of the White Star Liner Olympic are trying to discover what became of Thomas Brassington, an Englishman, who leaped from the ship while she was in quarantine late last night.

Brassington was last seen when Miss Anna Louise Thompson, aged 20, of Alameda, Cal., fainted while talking to him in the upper salon. She was carried into the cabin and has been hysterical since and unable to make any explanation. Brassington wrote a note and then crawled through the porthole and jumped into the ocean. The note reads:

"Troubles at home and fear of being detained at Ellis Island are more than I can bear."

Brassington was 39 years old and was en route from New Castle-Underlyme to Abbotsford, Vancouver. Miss Thompson went to Europe several weeks ago on the Adriatic and met Brassington in England. There is a bare possibility that he swam to Staten Island, but the ship's officers believe he committed suicide.

HOUSE REVENUE BILL TO BE TAKEN UP TODAY; NO OPEN TAX HEARINGS.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Aug. 31.—Tariff questions had their last inning for several weeks before the Senate Finance Committee today, and the committee prepared to take up the House revenue bill tomorrow.

The tax measure will hold the center of the stage until final committee action is taken and it is ready for the Senate. Leaders said it would be possible to complete committee action in two weeks.

No open hearings on taxes have been announced, the committee intending to work behind closed doors, discussing the subjects with treasury officials and tax experts.

ANTIRED LEADER CAPTIVE.

RIGA, Aug. 31.—Official confirmation of the reported capture of Gen. Ungern-Sternberg, anti-Bolshevik leader, who has been operating against the far eastern republic of Siberia, was contained in a dispatch from Moscow today by the Rosta News Agency, the official soviet news disseminator. The dispatch said he had been captured in the Mongolian steppes and that he was being brought to Russia for trial.

DECISION EPOCHAL IN POWER DEVELOPMENT.

PERMITS GRANTED FOR WORK ON COLORADO PROJECT; BIG RESULTS DUE.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WASHINGTON, Aug. 31.—A new epoch in water-power department of the Colorado River has been inaugurated by the Federal water power decision to grant a license for the development of 120,000 horsepower in Mojave County, Ariz. Immediate work will be started to develop the project, which is said to be the forerunner of other power developments along the Colorado, which in time will be the greatest single concentration of hydroelectric power in the United States. This permit is issued to James B. Girand, who says there will be no delay in completing the work, as the entire project is financed and much of the engineering work well advanced.

There is more power available for development on the Colorado than on any other river in the United States. It has been estimated that the maximum potential energy available for development in the Colorado River drainage basin exceeds 5,900,000 horsepower. Of this 439,000 horsepower has been utilized, though there are plans on file with the commission for development on this river, involving over 3,000,000 horsepower for primary power.

Mr. Girand proposed to construct a masonary dam 250 feet high at a point just above the mouth of Diamond Creek, to back water up the river about twenty-five miles, and has already made foundation explorations for the dam under a permit from the Interior Department issued some time before passage of the Federal Water Power Act. As the river is subject to a wide variation in stream flow, special provision must be made to insure a spillway capacity sufficient to discharge the flood waters on occasions, and Mr. Girand will make a special investigation of this feature, one year being allowed under the preliminary permit within which to prepare the data requisite for license.

COUNT VON BUELOW IS DEAD IN BERLIN.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

BERLIN, Aug. 31.—Field Marshal Gen. Count Karal Von Buelow, who was commander-in-chief of the German second army during the war, died here today.

Marshal Von Buelow, who was 76 years old, was one of Germany's leading commanders during the war. He was made a field marshal Jan. 27, 1915, on the 54th anniversary of the Kaiser's birth.

Von Buelow's name was among the Germans whose surrender for trial was demanded by the Treaty of Versailles. After his name was published he declared publicly that the Germans whose names were on that list and those whose extradition was demanded by the Allies "only did their duty to the Fatherland," and that extradition was an ignominy to which "no German would voluntarily submit."

FARM EXPORT LOANS TO BE MADE SOON.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Aug. 31.—The War Finance Corporation is at the point of completing its organization for extending credits for exports of farm products.

Senator Curtis and Representative Tincher of Kansas, conferred today with Director Mayer of the corporation regarding credit aid to western agricultural interests and were informed that the farm exports functions soon would be made operative.

Physical evidences of suffering in the famine region of Russia, which now are observable in Moscow, have been published for the first time by the Pravda, a Moscow Soviet organ, a copy of which was received today.

The newspaper describes groups of fugitives from the famine area, seen in the streets of Moscow and sitting in large numbers in the lobbies and anterooms of the state institutions.

"They are camping in the streets, housed in their shaky old wagons and carts, with their half starved and dead horses," the newspaper says. "How they managed to reach the center of the city and from what source aid can be given are questions which neither they nor the government institutions to which they apply, can answer."

"The Russian Red Cross will take over the relief work formerly in charge of the all-Russian famine committee, headed by Maxim Gorky, which was dissolved by the Soviet government, this week, according to a dispatch to the Rosta News Agency today.

In one of Russia's starving regions, the Tartar republic, even children will receive no food after tomorrow, according to the Izvestia today. Twenty-five thousand children maintained by the state institutions will be dismissed, while 500,000 fed under the card rationing system, have received their last supplies, the announcement said.

American food for starving Russian children is rapidly being unloaded at Riga and Reval. Eleven cars, carrying fifteen tons each left Riga with facilities for shipment by crossing traffic. Each ton of food will feed 1000 children one week. At the rate the American supplies are being forwarded to Moscow, the base will have enough in the first shipments to feed approximately 20,000.

ALLIES DISAPPOINTED.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

PARIS, Aug. 31.—Walter S. Brown, European director of the American relief administration, today definitely informed the executive committee on co-ordination of the International Commission for Russian Relief that the American relief administration cannot operate as a central allied authority under the commission. The relief administration, he declared, will only cooperate with the commission in the famine area of Russia, reserving to itself complete liberty of action in the administration of relief.

Delegates representing the United States, France, Italy, Belgium and Japan today appeared to be disappointed over the refusal of the American relief administration to pool its work with the committee's projected general plan. After hearing Mr. Brown, the committee adopted a resolution pointing out that the governments favoring immediate co-ordination of all plans under way.

Mr. Brown took no official note of this resolution, inasmuch as he had made it clear that his position was one of "unofficial observer."

The international committee probably will adjourn tomorrow with the only definite results being the appointment of a commission of inquiry to Russia.

One Monopoly That Is Safe

A monopoly nobody wants unscrambled!

There is no Sherman Law against a monopoly of Good Will.

No trademark need fear the Supreme Court because it has a far-reaching, interlocking hold on the Good Will of the public.

Here is the unassailable monopoly!

And as for secret rebates, trade agreements, exclusive territories and the like—they simply do not exist; they are so unnecessary for the trademark owning public Good Will as to be obviously silly.

Even with the most splendid product it takes years to win a national monopoly of Good Will in any line.

It is easier now, for the world was never so receptive to new habits and new thoughts.

SAD PICTURE OF STARVING TOWN

Children Falling Off First, Mother Says.

All Houses the Same and All Near the End.

BY FLOYD GIBBONS.

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

MORDOVSKAIA BORDOVOKA, (State of Samara, fifteen miles inland and 120 miles by wagon from the nearest railroad station) Aug. 27.—Here is a village of living death. We first saw it from the distance of a mile when our careening droskies emerged from a silent pine wood and plunged hub deep into sand and chuck holes in the snake-like Russian road winding across a rolling plain of bare blackened fields over which hungry crows flapped and cackled.

Against the sunless slate-gray sky was a double line of thatched roofs separated from a broad unbroken village street, 300 feet wide and adorned with neither paving or walks.

Thatch was gone from a number of the roofs. There was no living soul in sight—no barking dog—no playing children, no sign of life was apparent. Coming up the middle of the street we looked into the windows of the log huts on either side, but not a single face peeped out. Our two panting horses were the only animals in the scene, over which hung a terrible silence.

"Which house?" my interpreter asked the secretary of the State's Governor who was accompanying us.

ALL ARE THE SAME.

"Any one. They are all the same. One is as bad as another," replied the secretary.

We drew up in front of the nearest, pushed in a small door made of hewn planks and stepped into a low-ceilinged room with a flooring of loose boards. On some clearly scrubbed planks in the center of the room was a whitewashed brick oven, reaching almost to the ceiling. In one corner was the family ikon and a collection of brightly colored pictures of saints in gilded frames.

There was a woman in the room. She saw us as we entered and rose from a stool before the oven. Her head was covered with a white handkerchief tied under the chin. Her face was wrinkled and gaunt, but her eyes were piercing. She wore a man's flannel shirt and a much patched, but clean skirt made of material resembling floursacking. Her stockingless feet were incased in home-made cloth slippers, which were much worn. A rapid exchange of Russian between the interpreter and the woman was followed by the latter's translation of her reply.

"Why do you see no one in the village?" the woman repeated, "because all are too weak to move about except in case of absolute necessity. I have not tasted real black bread since Easter. Where is my husband? He died three weeks ago. The doctor forbade all else to touch him. I washed and buried him—I and my children."

Our eyes followed the final wave of her hand toward the ceiling, over the edge of which peered four pairs of eyes—four white faces—four small mouths munching listlessly on sunflower seeds. The false ceiling located over the oven was getting the full benefit of the heat rising therefrom.

"We shall all follow him soon," she continued. "We sit and wait and grow weaker every day. We have hunted long for food—there is no more. We have eaten grass, straw, weeds, the bark of trees and roots, and we still eat these things that we never would have fed to our cattle—but there is no food in them. Here is our bread." She produced a damp black chunk of sour smelling punk from which protruded wisps of straw and green and yellow chunks of fiber.

"It is made from melon rinds dryed in the oven and then ground," she explained. "It fills, but it does not feed. The children do not know, but I do—each day they grow thinner. Every morning I see them wasted. They ask me for bread and this is all I have to give them. But not much longer."

Her chin quivered as she summoned her strength to support her peasant pride that forbade weeping. The mother's eyes glistened but the tears were suppressed as the heart's emotion was denied an outlet.

We visited other huts in the long silent street, which once was a village containing 250 families of 1000 souls. Now it is reduced almost one-third by starvation, cholera, typhus and flight. Some families still maintained a skeleton cow or horse, which they refused to devour for food because "it would not be Christian" to destroy animals necessary for the next harvest which hope of these villagers are likely to live to see.

Although the village is comprised of a single clan, speaking a language of its own, it resembled in houses and customs of the people a number of others which we visited today, except that in Mordovskaia Bordovoka there were more starved faces, more wasted frames stretched out in bed, and less sign of life abroad.

VILLAGE DOCTOR.

The news of strangers' arrival brought several dozen villagers to the windows and doors, among them the village doctor, who himself was yellow and shrunken almost to a point where his shell rimmed spectacles seemed several sizes too large, and his umbrella, encased in a black oil cloth cover, looked almost as thick as his body.

"There is nothing that I can do," he said. "They ask for medicine. It is not medicine that they need, but food, and there is none. These fields are bare for nine miles. Some of the people go out into the fields and die of exhaustion. They never come back. We hear of them no more. It saves us the painful exertion of burying them. I do not belong here. I am a medical professor at Samara. The soviet mobilised me and sent me here to care for these people, but I have nothing to feed them, and I know of no way that anything can be sent here. I have been ordered to remain, so I expect to die with them. I do not think that my death is more than a month away. I am old and it does not matter, but it is the children that seem to die first. They drop over in the street. We old ones just live on—gnawing our way to death day by day and dreaming of it at night. God pity us."

ELEVEN KILLED, MANY HURT

Men Are Entombed in Illinois Mine Following Dynamite Explosion.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

HARRISBURG (Ill.) Aug. 31.—Eleven bodies of miners entombed late today in the Harco mine, following a dynamite explosion, were brought to the surface tonight. They were found at from 445 to 1000 feet below the mouth of the mine. Seven miners were brought from the mine badly injured, burned or overcome by afterdamp.

The mine rescue team stationed here is at St. Louis today attending a convention, and volunteers offered to work to release the men still believed to be underground.

An official of the Harco company said that, of approximately 450 men at work, all but a few were warned and got out. He described the explosion as caused by gas.

The men were entombed when a dynamite charge in a new coal bed penetrated an old walled room, loosing black damp, which is believed to have caused their death.

A special train bearing a United States mine bureau car was despatched to the mine within an hour after the accident.

Seven men who are suffering from the effect of black damp were taken to local hospitals. It is believed they will recover. The mine will be sealed tomorrow by State authorities, who will issue a permit after an investigation authorizing continuance of operations.

Volunteer rescue teams were organized by miners but their efforts were futile, as the black damp drove them back.

A check of the miners tonight showed 436 had entered the shaft this morning, and that all but those dead had been returned to the surface. Warnings after the explosion by miners in a nearby shaft probably saved their lives.

STRANGEST NAVY IS ON THE JOB.

Little Baltic State Latvia Commissions Fleet of Tug Boats.

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

LONDON, Aug. 31.—What is probably the strangest navy in history has just sprung into being. The little Baltic state of Lativa recently decided it must have some warships to protect its long coast line and prevent smuggling, and it has now put into commission a battle fleet of three armed tugboats. Not content with this armada, Latvia has decided to have a flagship for it. Her first battleship, the Virsaiti, will be launched this month. It will be a vessel of 525 tons with a speed of seventeen knots. The Virsaiti has had an interesting if not glorious career already. It is an old German guardship which was sunk in Latvia waters in 1917 and is now being raised and will be renovated.

EX-MINISTER INDICTED FOR DEATH OF WIFE.

FOUR WOMEN ON JURY WHICH HOLDS JOHN SPENCER ON CHARGE OF MURDER.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

LAKEPORT, Aug. 31.—An indictment charging murder was returned against John A. Spencer, former clergyman, by a special county grand jury here today. Spencer is accused of killing his wife.

Her death, Spencer asserts, was caused by drowning when she fell from their boat in Clear Lake recently at night.

Mrs. E. D. Barber, also known as Mrs. E. D. Duncks, will be brought here tomorrow and arraigned as an accessory of Spencer, it was announced tonight by the District Attorney.

Four women were members of the grand jury which indicted Spencer. Of seven witnesses whose testimony formed the basis for the indictment, the more important were Robert Siddell, Mrs. H. R. Taylor and Sheriff Shaul of Lake county.

When Sheriff Shaul informed Spencer of the jury's action the prisoner received the news calmly, Shaul said, and was solicitous about Mrs. Barber, inquiring as to her health and whether she is to be brought here. She is in Santa Rosa and the Sheriff asserted he probably will go there tomorrow and bring her here for arraignment. Meantime Dist.-Atty. Churchill also will make a trip to Santa Rosa, he said, in an effort to obtain additional evidence.

"We introduced before the grand jury just enough evidence to satisfy it that we had a strong case," declared the prosecutor. "We withheld other evidence which we regard as strong."

Spencer is to be arraigned Friday.

UNCLE JOE DENIES HE WILL QUIT CONGRESS.

VETERAN DECLARES HE HAS MADE NO ANNOUNCEMENT ONE WAY OR OTHER.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WASHINGTON, Aug. 31.—"Uncle Joe" Cannon denied today that he would not run again for his seat in Congress. In fact, he said he had not made any announcement, one way or the other, no matter what Representative W. O. Rodenberg of East St. Louis might have said in Chicago about the veteran not returning to the House next term.

"My first duty here is to the people of the eighteenth Illinois District and in political plans I have always consulted the wishes of the Republican organization in that district," said Cannon this afternoon. "I have been pretty busy here during the extra session and have not been home since last November. I have made no announcement as to my future plans and will not do so until I have consulted the Republicans at home when that announcement will be made to them before I take the world into my confidence.

"I must beg to be excused from discussing the alleged statement from Chicago. Mr. Rodenberg is my personal and political friend and I do not believe he made the statement attributed to him. I am more interested in the legislation of Congress that I am who will represent my district in the future Congresses."

NEW MANAGER NAMED FOR STEAMSHIP LINE.

PANAMA COMPANY OFFICIAL SELECTED TO HANDLE SHIPS IN DISPUTE.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, Aug. 31. — F. H. Rosbottom, general manager of the Panama Railroad Steamship Line, today was appointed general manager of the United States Steamship Line, which temporarily is operating passenger ships involved in the controversy between the Shipping Board and the United States Mail Steamship Company.

The appointment is contingent on his being released by the War Department, which controls the Panama line.

The United States Mail Steamship Company tonight issued a statement denying charges it had diverted moneys received from the advance sale of tickets. It said these funds had been used "in accordance with the practice followed by all other steamship companies—as a revolving fund for the operation of its services."

G. B. SHAW'S REFUSAL IS SARCASTIC.

Author Declines in Terse Message to Address Chicago Unionites' Picnic.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

CHICAGO, Aug. 31.—George Bernard Shaw, British author and playwright, has declined an invitation to address the Chicago Federation of Labor picnic Labor Day.

"I do not think your federation can gather a complete notion of European conditions from any one person," he wrote. "If you could obtain a series of three addresses from Kerensky, Lenin and from a capable Czarist you would learn something about Russia.

"If you could get a similar series from England from Ramsay MacDonald as a representative of the second Internationals, and from some equally able advocate of the third Internationals, followed by Winston Churchill, as the representative of the British Imperialism, and by Sir Donald MacLean as a Liberal non interventionist (or George Washingtonian) and so on through all the countries of Europe, hearing all sides and especially the side of the existing governing classes, which labor misunderstands and leaves contemptuously out of count until it is suddenly carried away by it into a war, then labor would begin to know its way about questions of foreign and military policy."

SEEKS INFORMATION ON ALIEN PROPERTY.

CUSTODIAN WANTS RIGHT FOR AGENTS' INVESTIGATIONS IN GERMANY

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Aug. 31.—Recommendation that "provision be made in forthcoming negotiations with Germany and Austria," to enable the alien property custodian to obtain information in those countries for use in litigation pending in this country over property seized by the government during the war, was made to President Harding today by Col. Thomas W. Miller, the custodian.

It is necessary in the best interests of the government, he said, that American agents be afforded facilities in both Germany and Austria for clearing up matters for former enemy owners and particularly with regard to a number of cases pending before the courts.

Formation of a policy to govern the ultimate disposition of seized German and Austrian property was discussed with the President, Col. Miller recommending the withholding of enemy property until satisfaction is made in connection with the $400,000,000 in American claims against Germany.

BIG DIRIGIBLE LOST WHEN HANGAR BURNS.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

NEW YORK, Aug. 31.—Dirigible balloon D-6, the largest American naval aircraft of its type, and the kite balloon AP, were destroyed by a fire which also razed the hangar today at the Rockaway Point naval air station. An explosion of gasoline, from an unknown cause, started the blaze. Although a number of men were in the hangar, only one was slightly burned.

Great tanks containing thousands of cubic feet of hydrogen were located near the hangar and the firemen played tons of water upon them to prevent possible explosions.

The D-6 was 198 feet long, carried a crew of four and had a speed of sixty miles an hour. She was used to patrol the coast.

Secretary Denby recently ordered all activities at the air station to cease tomorrow. It was understood the D-6 was being prepared for transportation to the new hangar at Lakehurst, N. J., built to receive the ill-fated ZR-2, recently destroyed in England.

IGNATZ NOW HAS TO DIG UP $200.

Naughty Mule Encouraged in Roughing Neighbors' Yards, Magistrate Is Told.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

CHICAGO, Aug. 31.—It cost Ignatz Neizil of Evanston $200 today because he had taught his mule bad habits. Neighbors testified before Police Magistrate Boyer that the mule wandered through streets and gardens, eating flowers and shrubbery, and that it did so because Ignatz had encouraged it to do so. The magistrate imposed the fine and ordered the mule confined to Ignatz's pasture.

HIGHTOWER LAWYERS MAY TRY FOR RELEASE.

SACRAMENTO GIRL SAID TO HAVE MADE ATTEMPTS TO SEE PRISONER.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

REDWOOD CITY, Aug. 31.—The feasibility of instituting new habeas corpus proceedings to obtain the release of William Hightower, charged with the murder of Father Patrick E. Heslin, Colma Catholic priest, is being discussed by his counsel today as a result of the dismissal by the District Court of Appeal of like proceedings Monday. The advice of E. J. Emmons, Bakersfield attorney, and chief counsel for Hightower, will be obtained before the move is made, it was announced.

Peggy True Curtis, Sacramento girl, who made public a number of letters which she said were sent to her by Hightower, made two ineffectual attempts to see the prisoner yesterday, county jail authorities said.

AT LAST RUSSIA SENDS OUT CAVIAR.

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

RIGA, Aug. 31.—Russia's first export of caviar in three years has just arrived in Reval from Baku, the shipment amounting to one ton. The Esthonian merchant who convoyed the shipment says he started with two tons of caviar and a large amount of vodka. He traded one ton of the caviar and all the vodka with local soviet commissars in exchange for safe passage. The caviar will be offered to Americans, sample shipments leaving tomorrow.

FAMOUS PLAYERS METHODS SCORED

Trade Commission Publishes Summary of Charges.

Alleged Conspiracy to Stifle Competition in Business.

Corporation Said to Own 400 Theaters, Control 6000.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Aug. 31.—The Famous Players-Lasky Corporation and affiliated concerns, which the Federal Trade Commission has formally charged with unfair competition and monopolistic policies, "combined and conspired to suppress competition in interstate commerce in motion picture films," according to summaries of the official complaint given out today.

The complaint declares that in 1920 the corporation in addition to owning 400 theaters supplied exclusively 6000 of the total of 18,000 picture houses in the United States, which theaters obtained sixty-seven cents of each $1 spent for admissions to picture showings in the country. It is further charged that through 140 subsidiary corporations the corporation played a part in the international field.

OFFICERS CITED.

Besides the corporation, the complaint personally cites Adolph Zukor, Jesse L. Lasky, Julian Mastbaum, Alfred S. Black, Stephen A. Lynch and Ernest V. Lynch, Jr., all corporation officers.

The Realart Pictures Corporation, "in accordance with the conspiracy," the complaint says, was set up by the Famous Players group in 1919, and though owned by them "held out to the trade to be wholly independent."

The complaint also charges that the group cited proceeded to the "acquisition of motion picture theaters through coercion and intimidation, under threats of erecting competing houses, and interfering with film service."

SUBSIDIARY CONCERNS.

Such methods are charged specifically against the corporation and Alfred S. Black, as president of the Black New England Theaters, Inc., the Stanley Company, "owning or controlling fifty-seven theaters in Pennsylvania, Western New Jersey and Delaware," and the Lynch Enterprises Corporation, "owning and operating theaters in the Atlantic and Gulf States from North Carolina to Texas, and in Tennessee, Arkansas and Oklahoma." The Saenger Amusement Company, operating in Southern States and controlling sixty-eight theaters, was also included in the citation as a subsidiary of the Famous Players.

The general program was carried out from New York to Los Angeles by the parent corporation, the complaint says, and "all theaters owned, controlled or operated by the Famous Players-Lasky Corporation are permanently closed to competitors."

KU KLUX KLAN EVIDENCE SHY.

Chicago Government Official Says No Law Violations Have Been Found.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

CHICAGO, Aug. 31.—Declearing complaints said to have been lodged against the Ku Klux Klan afforded no basis for Federal action against the organization and that unless evidence implicating the Klan in violations of Federal statutes can be produced there will be no investigation by his office, Col. John V. Clinnin, Acting United States District Attorney, today said he had found nothing which would warrant any investigation.

FEDERAL ATTORNEY WARNS ALL BANKS TO KEEP EYE OPEN FOR SECURITIES.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

CHICAGO, Aug. 31.—Belief that hundreds of thousands of dollars' worth of stolen bonds are still in possession of the Worthington-French organization was expressed by Acting U. S. Dist. Atty. John V. Clinnin tonight, on the eve of his departure for Milwaukee to question several bankers in connection with deals said to have been handled by Charles W. French, alleged head of a nation-wide "swindling trust."

"I have notified all banks that some of the bonds are still out," Col. Clinnin said. "I have also sent pictures of Worthington and French to many banks in the hope someone will recognize them as men who have been doing business with their institution under other names."

BELIEVE WOMAN SHOT ALAMEDA CAPITALIST.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

ALAMEDA, Aug. 31.—Arnold Postel, capitalist, was shot to death here this afternoon in the corridors of the Postel Building, which he owned. The police are holding Mrs. Justica D'Agostini, found beside Postel's body, raving and apparently insane. Tenants in the building heard an argument and then revolver shots, but no one saw the shooting.

Mrs. D'Agostini shot and killed her husband, Henrico, in January, 1916. A short time ago a son was drowned in Oakland and but a week ago her father was killed in Mexico. The police believe that she asked Postel for money with which to go to Mexico on business, and on his refusal, shot him.

Flying Squads Will Make War on Rum Runners

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Aug. 31.—Mobile squads of expert prohibition enforcement officers are to be sent from Washington to various Atlantic Coast cities to assist in combatting the flow of liquor being smuggled into the country, Internal Revenue Commissioner Blair said today.

Illicit distilling along the seacoast, Blair said, was a minor problem compared with smuggling between New York and the Florida Coast.

Assistance from headquarters, he said, would be extended to the prohibition officials of the port cities and also along the Mexican border.

TWO MORE BALL REELS RUN OFF.

And the Angels Split Double Mint With the Ducks.

Visitors Skunk Home Guard in Opening Spasm.

BY HARRY A. WILLIAMS.

Two more reels of our quaint, thirteen-game series were run off yesterday with negligible results as far as any advance pennant-wards by our tough young Angels is concerned.

Los Angeles and Portland split the double mint as on the day before. The Beavers boxed up the opener, 9 to 0, and Killefer's men retaliated most brutally in the second, planting Portland under a thick-laid score of 13 to 1.

The series is proving to be a bitter struggle with the coupons equally divided so far. It may yet be necessary for Joe Patrick to borrow Grover Cleveland Alexander from Mr. Wrigley's other club if we are to effectually subdue these riotous wild-enders.

An almost fatal gash has been inflicted on the bank roll of those honest, but misguided gamblers who started the week wrong by spotting Portland two runs in each game and then betting even money.

But Coleman owed the Angels something, and paid them back with a cipher. Few can pay their debts in that free and easy manner. Some weeks ago when young Mr. Coleman was pitching his first game, Rollie Zeider, then an Angel, standing near third, with a runner of that base, asked the pitcher to toss him the ball as he wanted to inspect it for trade-mail sketches. Coleman, having been instructed by his parents to strive to oblige, did as requested. Zeider side-stepped the ball when it was tossed to him, and the winning run counted. Desire for revenge has since been brewing inside Coleman, and yesterday the work came out.

George Lyons was softer for the Beavers than a wad of gum which has been kept in the family too long, and yet he managed to stick. With such a busy week on hand neither manager can afford to drive his pitchers double.

Grantham started what proved to be the winning stuff as early as the third with a single. Great Gus sent him around with a double, while two passes and a single by Dick Cox completed a three-run rally. Gingiardi's single, a double by

BY PAUL LOWRY.

Stanford always has a kick-back. Sometimes it is on the track; sometimes on the water; sometimes on the baseball field. This time it is on the football gridiron.

None other than Walter Powell, coach of the 1920 team which was slaughtered by California 38 to 0, says things are "looking up" at the Palo Alto factory of learning.

And by way of proof broad-shouldered Powell asserts that for the first time in her history Stanford has engaged a complete football coaching staff.

Last year Powell attempted to handle the reins alone, aided only by a freshman coach. This season the Cardinals will have four full time varsity coaches and one full-time freshman coach.

It Certainly Looks Like a Bad Day for the Peaceful Dove.

Season Opens at Sunrise This Morning.

Here we have Miss "Tiny" Schilling, one of a famous shooting family, in a characteristic pose. Dick Coles of the B. H. Dyas Company says she is a regular "Dead-Eye Dick." Miss Schilling was one of the early ones in the field after a limit of doves this morning.

PRY OFF LID OF THE DOVE SEASON TODAY.

Opening of the Hunting Period on the Gray Flyers Finds Hundreds of Sportsmen Far Afield.

Sunrise this morning found an army of sportsmen in the field ready to start the 1921 season with an intensive warfare on doves. The battle line stretched from one end of the State to the other, the dove season opening officially all over California today. For the past two days the local sporting houses have been kept busy issuing hunting licenses and renting shotguns, indicating that a large number of hunters intend to take advantage of the opportunity to bag a string of birds. The season will close November 1.

SQUIRRELS, TOO.

Tree-squirrel season also opens today, although interest in this sport is not very enthusiastic here, due to the scarcity of the animals in this part of the State. District Nos. 1, 1½ and 4½ were opened to deer hunters today. The high Sierras are included in these sections. The season in District No. 4, which takes in Los Angeles county, does not open until September 16.

Fred Thatcher of Tufts-Lyon Arms Company, with Floyd Mangus, Eddie Bolz and Fane Norton, motored out in the Colton direction last night in order to be in the dove country when the season opened. As doves have been reported plentiful in this region, the hunters should have little difficulty in bagging limits. Heinie Pfirrman, hunting expert of the B. H. Dyas concern, was in a dove location near Upland at dawn, hoping to bring down his share of the birds.

SECRET SPOT.

A party headed by Eddie Maier left early this morning for a secret spot where doves are said to park in large numbers, and Frank Garbutt, with several others, expects to get some birds in the Conejo district.

Lou Reed, with several other men from Tufts-Lyon, is in a location near Beaumont. Reed went on a scouting trip for dove last week, and decided that this section of the country has more birds per square inch than any other in this part of the State. A large patch of dove-weed and numerous water holes make the place ideal for game birds.

Bernal H. Dyas, in company with C. Alexander, will hunt doves in Ventura county, while Clyde C. Johnston, Sam Pardue, Judge Chesebro, O. M. Crawford and Dr. Franklin expect to get their fifteen birds apiece at Del Sur.

Several shooters are intending to hit the trail to the south, where dove have been seen in great numbers. Joe Coberly and Neal Needham will try to bag limits near Escondido. Luke Lookabaugh and Neal Woods choosing San Juan Capistrano as the scene of their activities.

Bill Weber, Joe Amestoy and H. C. Sharp are trying out the Calabasas region, as are Dr. Fairfield and Clarence Bean. Pete Peterson is out with his musket and a determination to bring back a limit.

MANY MORE.

Among the many other Los Angeles hunters who have signified their intention of indulging in the sport are J. M. Hoff, Byron Bell, Bill Guyton, Joe Sisto, A. W. Brewster, R. H. Alexander, Dr. L. E. Nichols, Dr. J. Smiale, Bill Betts, D. W. Wilson, J. H. Richards, Fred Walters, J. D. Brath, J. H. McNeal, B. T. Hills, H. Sonne, George Gravy, J. K. Williams, Jack Carr, Col. Vincent Duffey, Gene Murphy, H. C. Sturges, Frank Sparks, Roy H. Terry, Walter Davis, B. C. McCabe, Fred King, A. F. Bridge, Wallas McNutt, B. C. Soaker, Guy Underwood, W. H. Brackett, F. B. Burres, Leon Desert, J. D. Biddell, J. H. Armstrong, LeRoy Ackerman, J. H. Ackerman, D. B. Lowry, Leslie Judy, H. H. Herd, H. Pendall, M. C. Williams, J. W. Ward and C. T. Christensen.

Miss America Tears Off a Speedy Mile.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

DETROIT, Aug. 31.—A last minute change in plans by officials in charge of the Gold Cup-Harmsworth trophy regatta left the one mile speed boat championship of North America undecided today. Three hydroplanes, Miss America I, of Detroit holder of the title, Miss Chicago of Chicago, and the Sea Bird Orio III, owned by George Leary of New York, competed against time today, but it was announced additional trials will be held immediately after the British International (Harmsworth) trophy race, to be completed Monday or Tuesday.

The change was made to permit Garfield A. Wood of Detroit, to enter his new Miss America II in the mile tests. It was announced that Orio III might make new trials.

Miss America I, which last year set a world's record of 76.655 miles an hour in the mile trials, averaged 74.87 miles an hour in six dashes today.

The world's record for single engined hydroplanes was raised to 70.951 miles an hour by Miss Chicago, in her six one-mile dashes today. The old mark was 63.498 miles an hour, made here in 1918 by Whip-O'Will, Jr., owned by A. L. Judson of New York.

Orio III, the only other boat to enter the mile trials, today made an average of 55.436 miles an hour.

Indications tonight were that the elimination trials tomorrow and Friday to select a team of three American craft to represent the United States in the Harmsworth trophy race would be cancelled as unnecessary. Later tonight only three boats, Miss America I, Miss America II, and Miss Chicago were ready for the elimination trials.

MORVICH WINS BIG STAKE FOR COLTS.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SARATOGA SPRINGS (N. Y.) Aug. 31.—Benjamin Block's Morvich, a two-year-old colt, won the annual race for the Hopeful Stake on the Saratoga track today, the final day of the racing season. The winner took a purse of $34,900. His time was 1:12 3-5 for the six furlongs course. Kalsang was second and Whiskaway finished third.

Mrs. Bundy is Conqueror of Mary Browne.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEWPORT (R. I.) Aug. 31.—Mrs. May Sutton Bundy, former national champion, won the final match in the women's invitation lawn tennis singles tournament at the Casino courts today. She defeated Miss Mary K. Browne, also a former national title-holder and her conqueror at Longwood last week, 7-5, 4-6, 6-4.

ARMY PISTOL TEAM LEADS IN TOURNEY.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

CAMP PERRY (O.) Aug. 31.—The Michigan National Guard pistol team leads other contestants in today's preliminary shooting events of the National Rifle Association. It had an average of 159.2; Washington State College of the reserve officers' training corps was second with 148. The firing was against 200, 600 and 1000-yard slow-fire ranges, and 200 and 300 rapid-fire ranges.

WINS STATE GOLF CUP FOR THE THIRD TIME.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

ST. PAUL (Minn.) Aug. 31.—Jack Burke, local professional, won the State open-golf championship for the third successive time today, defeating Chick Fraser, also a local professional.

MORE TITLE-HOLDERS THAN EVER.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 31.—The championship cup to be competed for at the United States lawn tennis singles title tournament, beginning Friday of next week at the Germantown Cricket Club, contains the names of more title-holders than any trophy of the sort contested for in forty years. The cup, first offered in the early eighties, must be won three times for permanent possession. Richard Norris Williams II and William M. Johnston already have won two legs on the cup and need but one more victory for permanent possession. Victory for either would mean a new cup in 1922.

WANTED---A RELIABLE QUARTER.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

REDLANDS, Aug. 31.—Wanted—A quarterback.

That is to be but one of the wants of Guy Daniels, new coach of the University of Redlands, this year, and probably the most persistent. It was a want that could not be overcome last year and Daniels is convinced that his hardest problem this year will be to get the man who can run his team.

Last year the university had a fair line and fairly well-balanced backfield, with the one exception of a good defensive player to call the signals. Jot Troyer looks to be about the best bet, although his weight, being under 130 pounds, is his greatest difficulty.

At least two other men are candidates for the job. Huffman is believed by many to have the makings of a good quarter, and Gird Levering has shown some ability there. In the line Daniels will have Weid, who played a tackle last year; Thompson a guard, Ogden at center, and Cook a guard. Out of the line he has lost Hatcher, crack end, and Henderson, tackle. Bradley will make a good end this year, it is believed.

In the backfield he has Taylor, Simpson, Carpenter, Williams and Backus, who played last year. Gorman and Rossier are likely men for the line. His new men will include Allen of Redlands, Cram of San Bernardino, Clack of Redlands, and several other freshmen who are promising material.

TEXAS LEAGUE CLUBS TO PLAY IN MEXICO.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

HOUSTON (Tex.) Aug. 31.—Mexico City will get a chance next month to see two baseball teams from the United States in action. The Dallas and San Antonio clubs of the Texas League, according to announcement today, have closed a contract with promoters in the Mexican capital to play a six-game series there the week of September 24.

CINCY REDS ARE NOT FOR SALE.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

CINCINNATI, Aug. 31.—August Herrmann, president of the Cincinnati National League club, said today the Cincinnati Reds are "not for sale to George M. Cohan or anyone else," when he received a telegram today from the theatrical manager and actor asking him to put a price on the controlling interest of the club.

KINSEY, DAVIS WIN MATCHES.

Are Strong Contenders for the Metropolitan Title.

Anderson Forces His Way to the Semifinals.

Californians Favored in the Men's Doubles.

BY FRED HAWTHORNE.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

NEW YORK, Aug. 31.—Frank T. Anderson, national indoor champion, forced his way into the semifinal round of the men's metropolitan grass court championship lawn tennis singles this afternoon, on the turf of the Crescent Athletic Club, at Bay Ridge, and is the farthest out toward the final round of all the contenders.

The young Brooklyn star first eliminated the veteran, Henry W. Moelenhauer at 6-1, 6-3, and then defeated Vagn Intersiav, of the Danish Davis cup team, by a score of 8-6, 6-3 in the fifth round of the tourney.

Six other players reached the round before the semifinal, as follows:

THE SURVIVORS.

Robert M. Kinsey of California; Howard Voshall of New York; John B. Gilbert of British Isles Davis team; Frederick C. Anderson of Brooklyn; Atherton Richards of New York, and Willis F. Davis of California. They will meet in that order tomorrow beginning at four o'clock. The winner of the Richards-Davis match will play Frank Anderson in the semifinal round in the lower half.

Forty teams began playing in the men's doubles, with the Kinsey brothers, Voshall and Frank Anderson and Clarence Todd and J. O. Anderson of Australia, appearing as the outstanding contenders for the title.

According to the plans of the tournament committee, there will be no play at Bay Ridge Friday, Saturday and Monday, so as not to conflict with the Davis cup challenge round matches at Forest Hills on those days.

HARD WORK.

Willis Davis had plenty to do in defeating Howard Kinsey, his fellow Californian, the sets going 6-4, 6-3, 7-5. The younger Kinsey knew just how to play to his big opponent's weakness, sticking many a short return to Davis's feet as the latter came in from the base line. It was only by a persistent attack and service that Davis was able to put the match out. In the last set, Kinsey was five times within a point of the match, at 5-3 and 5-4. Two brilliant half volleys at this stage saved the day for Davis.

Robert Kinsey was forced into a three-set struggle by Clarence Todd of Australia, winning by a score of 6-2, 5-7, 6-3. Both men are great court coverers and adepts at change of pace. Kinsey was the quickest at covering ground, however, and his volleying was under better control.

WILD DOINGS IN THE PREP RANKS.

High School Football Tutors Tally Up Chances.

Manual Arts Appears to Have Early Season Edge.

Tommy Davis Says Lincoln Will Make Them Hump.

BY TITUS BARKE.

With the opening of the city schools set for September 12, the prep football bugs are riding their high horses and are galloping around the training lots of the various tanbark outfits in the city league, gathering the elusive dope on this team and that team for use in the hot-stove league championship play-off. Never before have the rabid fans become so fevered up over the prospects at such an early date, and the coming season should be one of the best in the history of the game in this neck of the woods.

So far, Manual Arts and Lincoln have made the best showing in the pen-and-pencil league, probably because Sid Foster and Tommy Davis, mentors at the respective schools, have loosened up with the optimistic stuff, while the coaches of the other schools in the circuit have been inclined to be recalcitrant when it comes to talking about championships.

SID EBULLIENT.

Sid Foster, the guiding star of Manual Arts, started the whole show a couple of weeks ago when he knocked the dopesters for a row of five bottles by announcing that his proteges would "make a good showing this year."

When one looks over the material that Foster will have on deck on September 13 it is no wonder that the Artisan mentor has canned the old pessimistic stuff and in its place adopted a little orphan smile which readily twinkles about his lips when he is asked about his chances for the coming tanbark year. "It's just like this," Foster remarked the other day; "I'm not making any wild prophecies, but I will say that this gang of mine is going to put up one tough scrap for that rag!"

Eight letter men will be on hand on September 12, the day that Foster intends to start training activities. Two of these, Capt. Bill Blewett and Max Allen, quarterback and end, respectively, on the 1920 team, were picked for the all-city last year, while several others were mentioned in connection with the all-star aggregation. The other letter men who will be on deck are: Bob Rhodes, guard; Dick Blewett, center; Morry Rogers, end; Montie Felts, end; Al Young, fullback; Earl Fields, tackle, and Frank Dudley, guard.

With these experienced men as a nucleus, Foster hopes to build a team that will compare favorably with the State champ eleven turned out by him in 1917. The only really important loss suffered by the Toilers is that of Epp Epperson, last year's fullback and all-city man, who has pulled freight from the Vermont institution, via the four-year route.

From Lincoln way comes the word that Coach Tommy Davis will have practically the same squad that represented the Railsplitters in the 1920 scrap and which, by the way, did sufficient representing to throw a good scare into the heart of more than one fan last season.

TOMMY CHIRPS.

Not to be outdone by Foster, Davis is also chirping a song of glee, although he is said to have admitted that Foster has a somewhat brighter prospect to sing about. Manual hung it onto the Railsplitters last year to the extent of 28 to 0, and "getting down to business," quoth Tommy, "it looks as though the Toilers have an edge on us." However, it is rumored about in the scratch-as-scratch-can circles that Tommy is after Hollywood's goat. The Foothillers suffered the surprise of their young lives last year when Davis's boys waltzed over to the movie city and glibly walked all over the Redshirts, literally and otherwise.

Davis will have a faster, heavier team this year (if the dope may be grabbed at its face value) than that which were the black and gold in 1920. Nine letter men will be back, according to Davis, while he is expecting a number of last season's second stringers to deliver the goods. Tony Parra, all-city end, will probably be shifted to the backfield, and Pete Thompson, a mainstay on last season's aggregation, will be seen in action at his old job of fullback.

Other men who will be expected to put on a dash of dog for the Railsplitters are: Irving and Green, guards; Cornwall and Scott, tackles; McCue, Briggs and Boles, ends; Smuts, center; Bissina, Vaughn and McClillard, halfbacks.

Hollywood will have a number of vets back in the regalia this fall, but so far there is little dope available on the Foothill aggregation, although it is reported that Coach Johnson is another of the high school mentors who has joined the ranks of the optimists. Eight letter men will report for practice on the opening day, according to advices received from the movie metropolis. Enders and Morgan, satellites of the 1919 team, are said to be returning to school, but some of the bugs question their eligibility. Dorsey, all-city guard, will be on hand again, as will Capt. Failor, Stout and Nason of the 1920 team.

POLY WEAKER.

Polytechnic's chances have been considerably weakened by the four-year route, it is said. Coach Voyle Brennan having lost the majority of the constellation of stars that won the rag last year.

Los Angeles High will have several good men back, according to reports from that section of the country, but the Romans will miss the services of Guy Dennis, all-city quarter, and Swede Anderson, all-city tackle, who graduated June, last.

At this stage of the play in the hot-stove league, very little has been heard from Pasadena and Jefferson, with the result that these two institutions remain enigmas on which the dopehounds will, in all probability, now turn their attention.

Some talk is going the rounds—nobody seems to know just where it originated—that the city league is due to be split into two chunks again, such as it was in 1919. According to the rumored plan, every school would have a full schedule of games, but the winners of the respective divisions would play in the city championship.

FOUR COACHES AT STANFORD.

charge. J. B. Canning, Chicago, will look after the line work. Fitzgerald, Harvard quarterback, will assist the backfield men and "Dink" Templeton, noted for his notoriously long booting, will take care of the kickers and the scrubs. And Powell, who is now invested with the title of director of athletics at Stanford, says he may find time to coach himself.

The words of last year's coach in respect to the coming season are flavored with hope, cheerfulness and optimism. He admits the early season strength of California, but sees no reason for backing the hearse up to the door to cart away the Cardinal remains. He says:

"Although we all realize that California looks almost invincible this year, we are not in the least discouraged. Stanford will have a great deal better team than last year. Our men have gained some valuable experience, and our squad will be somewhat larger. Nine letter men will be back, and about fifteen other likely looking prospects. Our entire squad will number close to seventy-five."

OLD STANDBYS.

The old varsity men Powell mentions who will doll up in their moleskins this years are Capt. Patrick, fullback, two years' experience; Wilcox, last year's captain and halfback; Schlaudeman, quarterback, two years; McAlpine, tackle, one year; Pershing, tackle, two years; DeGroot, tackle, one year; Helser, tackle, one year; Betts, 1919 guard; Stice, guard, two years; Fawcett of Whittier, former S man, and Cravens, guard, one year.

Other good prospects who will turn out will be Morris Kirksey, the sprinter; Carter, heavyweight boxer of last year's frosh; Ludeke, center, frosh; Campbell, frosh; Cleveland, frosh; Phelps, formerly of Pomona; Lichtenberg, frosh; Mertz, Northwestern frosh; Hamilton, frosh; Richardson, frosh; Loomis, frosh, and Pallett, 1919 squad.

FROSH OUTLOOK.

Freshman prospects, according to Powell, include Shipke of Fullerton High; Dennis of Los Angeles High; Gilliman of Phoenix; Richards of Los Angeles High, and several others.

Of the stadium and the big game Powell says:

"Our stadium, which is the equal of any in the United States, will be ready by the middle of October. Already this has had a tremendous effect upon the morale about the campus. It is mammoth. We expect to fill it on November 19 when California meets us here. We also expect to give them a surprise. While we are not predicting a victory, nevertheless we feel sure it will be an interesting game."

TENDLER-FRIEDMAN ARE BILLED AGAIN.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 31.—Lew Tendler, Philadelphia, lightweight, and Sailor Friedman of Chicago, who fought an eight-round draw here last Wednesday night, have signed for another match on Monday night, September 12.

LADY CHAMPS TO MEET IN CANADA

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

MONTREAL, Aug. 31.—Cecile Leitch, British woman golf champion, and Alexa Stirling of Atlanta, Ga., holder of the American and Canadian woman titles, will meet for the first time on the western continent in the Canadian championship tournament, opening at Ottawa on September 19. Miss Leitch is now en route to Canada. Several months ago Miss Stirling was defeated by the English girl in England.

TWO MORE BALL REELS RUN OFF.

Krug and a brace of sacrifice flies gave Portland two in the fifth. In the ninth the Beavers became downright foolish, when they batted clear around and amassed five runs.

WEEPING GAS.

Portland started out to repeat in the second section, when Hale and Cox busted doubles, but right after that Lefty Thomas turned on the weeping gas and the Portland spurt was forgotten when Los Angeles lumped four runs in the home half, peppering Pillette three times and taking advantage of a couple of misplays by the usually redoubtable Marty Krug.

Then in the fourth, Sandow Griggs added to the gaiety of the gum business by swatting a double with the bases loaded.

Angels displayed their versatility in the fifth by counting two without a hit. Three passes and a unique assortment of stolen bases made this possible. In that one round Rip King passed the pill more than he did a football all last winter. McCabe was on the registering end of a double steal with Nishoff, and Statz swiped both second and third. When "Twin Six" stole second, King made a forward pass of the ball seventy-five yards into center field, better by ten yards than the forward pass he made at Tournament Park against Tuffy Conn's all-stars. But Statz's steal of third was not charged up to the King account. It was done with Pillette holding the ball, and counting the stitches as is often done before delivering it to the batter to have some of the stitches knocked out of it.

SPEED BOYS.

More liberties were taken in the sixth, when Sam Crawford and Nichoff staged a double steal, the former dusting the plate with his bloomers.

Twelve runs to the good, Lefty Thomas was the personification of confidence when he started the ninth. He retired the first two men, when Pillette up and stung him for a single.

"There goes your old ball game" moaned a bug in the stand. That man never will go down in history as an optimist. They did fill up the bases on Lefty, which merely served to delay matters and irritate the public.

Stand was well filled when the festivities were at their height, but at the finish you could have fired a shot gun into the stand without endangering more than two or three people.

Dick Cox enlightened those present with a circus catch in each game, and all felt they had received a bargain.

If the Angels are to win the series they must display more peppermint, with here and there a dash of pep-sin. Four more weeks after this and it will all be over except the winter green.

Another double dose of after-dinner mints this afternoon. Order your julep early. The scores:

ROSE SCOTT BEATEN BY COLT FAVONIAN.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

READVILLE (Mass.) Aug. 31.—Rose Scott, champion 2-year-old futurity winner of last year, was defeated in the grand circuit races today when the Tennessee colt Favonian, owned and driven by Fred Edman, took the measure of Tom Murphy's filly in the American Horse Breeder futurity, for 3-year-old trotters.

Periscope, winner of the $15,000 stake at Cleveland three weeks ago, repeated in The Bluehill, a $2000 event for 2:05 trotters.

Tom Murphy had no trouble taking first place in the 2:04 pace with Roy Grattan, winning in straight heats, while Mary O'Conner, driven by Fred Hyde, easily won the 2:07 pace.

Making her first appearance on the grand circuit, the New Hampshire mare, Grace Dawn, wore down her opponents in the 2:12 trot, after Marion Teddington and Dudette each had won a heat. The summaries:

METRO PLANS SCHEDULE.

WILL MAKE THIRTY-TWO FILMS DURING COMING YEAR.

By Grace Kingsley.

Some companies may not be so clear in their minds, but the Metro organization knows exactly how many contributions to art in the form of motion pictures it is going to make during the coming year. That number is thirty-two, no more, no less; and Joseph Engel, general manager of the west coast studios, is in New York putting the finishing touches on an elaborate program to be carried out. These pictures will be made under the supervision of Milton Hoffman, general manager of productions.

While Mr. Engel is managing to get a peek at the new shows in New York, he is pending most of his time in conference with Richard Rowland, president, and other officials of the corporation, after which he will return to Hollywood to rush work on the projects.

The picture schedule adopted during the convention of Metro sales chiefs in New York calls for seven specials each for Bert Lytell, Viola Dana, Alice Lake and Gareth Hughes, as well as for four other specials soon to be released.

"Story interest will be the deciding factor in the making of these productions," said Hoffman, in discussing the program yesterday. "Heart interest stories, human touches, laughs and suspense do more to make the really great stage production than do all the mobs, extravagant sets and elaborate dressing that can be gathered together. Right now it is possible to gather together unusually strong casts, such as were not dreamed of six months or a year ago. This is just one of the cases where fewer pictures mean better pictures."

The first round of the new schedule of pictures already is under way at the company's Hollywood studios. Most important of these is Rex Ingram's "Turn to the Right." The race track scenes for this picture, which were staged at a special program of events at Exposition Park the other day, have just been completed.

Bayard Veiller is about to begin work on "The Right That Failed," a highbrow pugilist's adventures from the story of J. P. Marquand, in which Bert Lytell plays the stellar role. Harry Beaumont is directing Viola Dana in "Grass Houses," an unusual story by Clara Genevieve Kennedy, prepared for the screen by her sister, Edith Kennedy.

Maxwell Karger's contribution to this round is "The Hole in the Wall," with Alice Lake in the stellar role. It is a Fred Jackson story, scenarized by June Mathis, a combination that promises much in unusual plot and action.

George D. Baker, who has completed a series of comedies in which Gareth Hughes is starred, is in the East seeking new material for a second series with the same youthful star.

Story for Bebe Daniels.

The visit of Nina Wilcox Putnam to Los Angeles and her daily luncheons with Bebe Daniels in her dressing-room at the Realart studio, have borne fruit. Miss Putnam has written a story for Miss Daniels. It has received the o.k. of Elmer Harris, supervising director, and has been pronounced great by Bebe herself. The figures on the check have been settled to the satisfaction of both parties, and it will be Miss Daniels's second production.

Changes at Morosco.

If you are among the Morosco Theater fans, and probably you are, and are very fond of Bertha Mann, Dora Mae Howe and Helene Sullivan, I would advise you to take a peep at them in "The Tailor-Made Man," because it's just possible you may not see them again soon.

According to news leaking out yesterday, Miss Mann and Miss Howe are destined to go to New York for certain Morosco productions to be made there, while Helene Sullivan is to be George Beban's leading woman in a picture which he is shortly to produce.

It is likely that the names of the new leading woman, second woman and ingenue at the Morosco will be ready to announce within a short time.

Associated Producers Meet.

A meeting of the Associated Producers is being held in Chicago at the present time, with Thomas H. Ince and J. Parker Read in attendance. It is understood that some important announcements will shortly be forthcoming from this organization's heads.

Spiritistic Expose in Film.

If you are one of those ghost hounds who wants to know how the spiritualistic fakers do their work at seances, don't fail to see Maxwell Karger's production of "The Hole in the Wall," now being filmed at the Metro studios. This picture deals with the methods of the spiritistic crooks and by means of some extraordinary mechanical apparatus, as well as by means of some sensational double photography, succeeds in showing just how the spirit bell boys page the departed souls.

In fact "The Hole in the Wall" promises to be one of the novelties of the year, because of this feature. The mechanical devices as well as the sets for the spook hunter's retreat are the work of Joseph Calder, art and technical director, who will see to it that the public is let into the secrets of how the mandolins are made to sway in the air; how spirits walk among the crowd, how panels in the walls are made to move without apparent human agency, and what makes the tables dance.

Mr. Calder has been assisting Maxwell Karger in a study of these phenomena, so that the expose will be an authoritative one. Al Ziegler, photographer, is greatly assisting by use of some new photographic methods.

Already Mr. Karger has received one threatening letter from an apparent devotee of the spiritistic crowd; but whatever else the man had learned from the spirits, grammar was not one of them. Here is the letter:

"You hadn't ought to try to show this spirit stuff. Beware! You don't know nothing about what you're talking about."

Miss Dupont's Next.

If Miss Dupont isn't a stellar success, it isn't going to be the fault of Universal. One of the most talked of stories of the year has just been assigned to that young lady by Irving Thalberg as her second Universal starring vehicle. The story is "Ropes," by Daniel Wilbur Steele, in its original form a one-act play.

Paul Scardon is to direct, and Pat O'Malley has been engaged to support Miss Dupont in the leading masculine role, heading a supporting cast, which includes Lloyd Whitlock, Percy Challenger, Joy Winthrop, Mary Philbin and other screen favorites.

Charles Clary in It.

Charles Clary has been engaged to play the leading masculine role in "The Hole in the Wall," opposite Alice Lake, who is the star. Mr. Clary is one of the best known actors of the screen, having played leads, heavies and characters continuously during the past seven years with Lasky, Metro, Fox and Selig.

Echoes from Cocoanut Grove.

The shade of the Ambassador Cocoanut Grove is responsible for a lot of engagements, these days. At least that's what Mal St. Clair says, and he ought to know.

During his professional hours Mr. St. Clair helps elevate art by directing Buster Keaton, but during his leisure hours he is apt to be found dancing at the Cocoanut Grove. It was while there, a few months ago, that he met Miss Cordelia Gould Andrews, a young society girl of Pasadena, and a relative of the eastern Goulds, St. Clair being introduced to Miss Andrews by a mutual friend.

They danced together all evening, became fast friends, the romance developed, and now the word has leaked out that they were married early in July.

Fleming Works.

Victor Fleming, who has signed a contract with Paramount and has been assigned to direct Agnes Ayres in her first starring picture, is busily engaged preparing for the start of work on the production.

The picture in which Miss Ayres will make her debut as a Paramount star and Mr. Fleming as a Paramount director, is "The Lane That Has No Turning," by Sir Gilbert Parker, who, working in collaboration with Eugene Mullen, has adapted it for the screen.

Mr. Fleming is pleasantly remembered as the director of Douglas Fairbanks in "His Majesty the American," "The Molly-coddle" and "When the Clouds Roll By."

Eltinge in October.

After all, Julian Eltinge isn't to don his professional feminine glad rags until October 3, though he had expected to be launched in his new act on the Orpheum circuit next Monday. He underwent an operation for appendicitis at the Clara Barton Hospital, where he is still staying, in July, and his life was for several days despaired of. He began improving, however, within two weeks, but his condition was such that it was not considered safe to remove him to his home at Silver Lake.

Mr. Eltinge will open his next season's Orpheum tour on the above October date, and he will be here within a fortnight following. His offering includes a number of new characterizations, among them an oriental number and a debutante song, all, of course, clothed as only Julian Eltinge can clothe them.

The famous female impersonator expects to be able to leave the hospital and go home tomorrow, but following a few weeks' rest he may take a recuperating trip north.

Elinor Glyn Denies.

Elinor Glyn made an emphatic denial today of an article appearing in the current issue of a theatrical magazine that she had signed a contract to appear on the Keith circuit in an act entitled "Love," at a salary of $2500, beginning October 1. Mrs. Glyn admits she was approached with an offer, but states that she rejected it at once.

Mrs. Glyn's personal representative, Leslie Stewart, stated that she might, however, sign a contract for a six weeks' lecture tour in thirty-three of the principal cities of the United States, starting approximately October 1.

Her speaking subjects are as yet unannounced.

Oh, yes, and the offer, it is said, followed the release of her first original screen story, "The Great Moment," starring Gloria Swanson, which is showing locally at the Rialto.

Jackie Coogan on High Seas.

Probably little Jackie Coogan is at this moment on the high seas playing pirate like any other normal boy. Victor Herman, his director, having chartered the Admiral Farragut, left Los Angeles Harbor yesterday morning for a trip down the coast past San Diego, during the course of which scenes will be taken for "My Boy," Jackie's current production.

Accompanying Jackie's company will be Claude Gillingwater, playing his father, and other members. A stop is to be made at San Diego.

Arbuckle's Home on Screen.

Roscoe (Fatty) Arbuckle will be shown to the picture fans for the first time of Viola Dana's production, "Glass Houses." Although the corpulent comedian's home is not constructed exclusively of glass, it was found that it would fit into certain scenes of the screen play better than any home that could be constructed on Metro's Hollywood grounds. When Director Harry Beaumont communicated this fact to Arbuckle, the house and grounds were immediately turned over to him, and Miss Dana's company took possession.

ROMANTIC MUSIC IN REVIEW.

Mendelssohn, Schumann, Thomas, Chopin, Balfe and Liszt are the composers, familiar to music lovers, who will all be represented on the review of the music masters of the nineteenth century at the Grauman concert next Sunday morning. Miss Violet Cossack, winner of many State piano contests, will be the soloist, rendering "Campanella," by Liszt.

STARS AID DRIVE.

Will Sanitibate at Doll Sale at Cinderella Roof.

Heightened interest will attend the opening of the "$100,000 doll sale drive," to be staged tonight at the Cinderella Roof, through the presence of motion picture stars, prominently featured being Bert Lytell and Edna Murphy. The affair is in charge of the Bureau of Catholic Charities and it is aimed to raise a fund for the support of twenty-six different charitable institutions throughout the State. Mr. Lytell and Miss Murphy will both contribute of their services to make the affair a success.

Mr. Lytell is a star with the Metro Pictures corporation while Miss Murphy is co-starred by the Fox organization.

Lytell will probably act as announcer for the sale of the dolls, which will take place tonight at the roof. Twenty girls members of the old Spanish families, will be the saleswomen. Miss Murphy is to take a prominent part in the entertainment.

Twenty-five thousand dolls of all sorts and descriptions have been donated, it is said, and the sale will be in progress for a period of twelve days.

"THREE MUSKETEERS."

FAIRBANKS AS ROMANCE HERO AT MISSION THEATER.

By Edwin Schallert.

Action returned unto its own, romance gained a sovereign sway and a new bridge was built to the picturesque age of heroism, while an audience of the elite of filmdom, superheated with enthusiasm, thrilled to the first local presentation of "The Three Musketeers" last night at the Mission Theater.

The theatrical season has already acquired a long handicap on the strength of this one event. Except for the absence of the star, Douglas Fairbanks, and Mary Pickford, who went East to attend the New York premiere, the affair was incandescent in its cinematic brilliance. Everybody of prominence attended or tried to attend. Some succeeded in dropping in for only a few moments, but, at least, they could say that they were there.

High prices of seats and other "minor considerations" were quite forgotten by an audience that "let itself go" with the pleasure of being present on the gala occasion that marks a realization of a dream long cherished by Mr. Fairbanks.

What Fairbanks glories in is action. He has it in a multiplicity of guises in "The Three Musketeers." Sword fight follows sword fight until you can all but hear the clash of steel from the silver canvas. There are hazardous escapes, dramatic street fights, encounters with dozens of opponents, in which D'Artagnan is always victorious, always supremely the conqueror.

The picture is really built up to the summit of magnificent adventure. An avalanche might send the life and fortunes of your hero to destruction at any moment, but his triumph of triumphs is reached when, overcoming every possible obstacle that blocks his way, he finally succeeds in rescuing the jewels of the Queen of France and restoring the peace of mind of his sovereign and gaining the laurels of his commission and the heart of his lady.

The whole film pulses with energy. Its sequence might be divided into a very few. The first plants the intrigue of Richelieu. The second leads us to the first success of D'Artagnan as a swordsman in the battle with the King's guards. The third, of lesser import and chiefly for humorous relief, shows the cadets before the King. The fourth concerns Buckingham's visit to the Queen and her gift to him of the jeweled buckle, which makes the drama, for this is the prize afterward rescued by D'Artagnan in the main episode of the picture.

The background for the story is one of intense beauty as to setting. Fred Niblo, director, and Robert Edeson, the cameraman, have done their work well. They have searched with evident care for exteriors to match the French terrain.

The atmosphere seems less permanent than the substantial beauties. You feel that you are living more in the present than in the past at moments, but the essence of romance so permeates the whole feature that you completely lose sight of time or place in the joy of watching the action.

No excursion in romantic literature could probably have been selected by Fairbanks more suitable to the requirements than a Dumas novel. The action of the story naturally shapes itself around his personality. We can quickly associate the actor's athletic prowess with all manner of death-defying adventure. We can readily see him so throwing himself into a wild exploit to rescue a diamond buckle for the sake of a pretty girl's love. All of this is right in his province, whether he be a native of Gascony or a young filibusterer in search of a wild time in a South American republic.

Fairbanks is and has been always close to the spirit of D'Artagnan. In fact, the Dumas heroine is probably his prototype. Whether Doug is also D'Artagnan in the flesh, a romantic hero of the period of Louis XIII of France, depends altogether on your conception of the period and your ideal of the hero. To me, however, his nervous energy seems more closely allied to the twentieth century than to the period that knew no faster mode of travel than a post-chaise or carry-all. At that, though, he is a great D'Artagnan.

The majority of the characters live vividly on the screen. The portrait of Cardinal Richelieu by Nigel de Brulier is very true to the Dumas original. Mary McLaren retains the softened graces of the queen who is the center of intrigue, although hardly evidencing the force that might combat these same intrigues. Marguerite de la Motte is a type perfect heroine as the seamstress who aids the queen. Adolphe Menjou gives a fine characterization of Louis XIII. Barbara le Marr, George Siegman, Eugene Pauletta, Leon Bary, Thomas Holding and others are to be especially mentioned.

Mr. Niblo, made a talk pointing out that Fairbanks had but waited the opportune time to bring his romantic hero to his public, and that though it was with uncertainty and fear that he had originally broached the idea, he had fulfilled at last a great ambition.

RINGS VARY WITH HUSBANDS.

Mary Alden keeps all her wedding rings. Not that the well-known actress has been married so much in real life, but because she has been wedded times without number on the screen, and, of course, one of her "props" on such occasions is a wedding ring. These rings she carries in her make-up box, along with the rest of her wardrobe accessories. Somebody said to her recently, while she was playing in "The Old Nest," which opens Sunday at the California Theater: "Miss Alden, why don't you wear the same ring always, and not be bothered with having all those divers-and-sundry rings about?" To which she replied, "I never use the same ring for the same husband!"

Veteran of Civil War Still Hale and Hearty

GEORGE D. SHAW, Springfield, Mass.

"To say that I feel twenty-five years younger, twenty-five years healthier and twenty-five years stronger expresses what Tanlac has done for me better than any other way I can put it," said George D. Shaw, veteran of the Civil War, who now lives at 321 Walnut street, Springfield, Mass.

"I am now seventy-eight years old and I don't hesitate to say I have never known a medicine to equal Tanlac. For fifteen years I was subject to attacks of indigestion that were so bad at times I would have to lay up for a week or two. For a long time I lived on crackers and milk alone as nothing else agreed with me.

"When I started on Tanlac I weighed only one hundred and seventeen pounds and my days were thought to be numbered. I've been so wonderfully built up, I now weigh one hundred and forty-three pounds and my stomach is as sound as a dollar. In fact, I believe I could eat the old army rations again without it hurting me in the least.

"I never miss a chance of saying a good word for Tanlac and I would like to urge the boys of the "Sixties" who are not feeling right to give it a trial, for I am sure it would put them in line again just as it has me. For a man of my age to have no physical ailment, to be well and strong and enjoy life as he did twenty-five years ago, is certainly something to be thankful for and there is nothing too good I can say for Tanlac."

SEEK TREASURE IN DEEP WATER.

Attempt Will be Made to Loot Davy Jones's Locker.

Trawler Crew Will Fish for Four Million Dollars.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

NEW YORK, Aug. 31. — Fifty miles off the Virginia Capes, lying in 200 feet of water, on a hard sandy bottom, are twenty-two tons of silver bars, six kegs of gold coin, $500,000 in gold bars, 4700 tons of copper and jewels worth $1,000,000 —treasure with a total value of about $4,000,000, larger than any Captain Kidd ever buried or captured with the cutlass and the plank.

Yesterday afternoon the dingy little steam trawler Ripple headed for the capes. If the horseshoe which was the last bit of cargo it took abroad to be hung in the pilot house stands up to its traditions the Ripple will come back still a dingy trawler, but a treasure ship as well.

The treasure is in the sunken cargo of the Ward Line Steamship Merida, which went down off Cape Charles ten years ago last May. She was bound from Havana to New York when smashed amidships by the Admiral Farragut of the American Mail Steamship Line.

One other attempt has been made to salvage the Merida's cargo, but it was abandoned after a long spell of weather which made salvaging a difficult matter.

Capt. Mather, who is conducting the job, believes he has taken the precaution to make the voyage of the Ripple less of a treasure hunt than a business undertaking.

DEPUTY ASSESSORS BEING WITHDRAWN.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

SACRAMENTO, Aug. 31.—Because the Japanese and Chinese who registered under the alien poll tax law are refusing to pay their tax, pending a test suit in the courts, County Assessor Ed Kay has withdrawn his outside deputies and announces that other assessors throughout the State have done the same.

Kay said briefs will be filed in the Supreme Court on September 6, by attorneys for the Japanese association attacking the constitutionality of the alien poll tax on the ground that it violates the treaty with Japan and that it violates the Fourteenth Amendment, which assures equal rights. He says the Chinese and Japanese in the meantime have been advised by their respective governments not to pay the tax.

TOWN THREATENED BY ALBERTA FOREST FIRE.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

LETHBRIDGE (Alberta) Aug. 31. With a gale blowing late today, the forest fire west of Crows Nest Mountain was out of hand in spite of the efforts of hundreds of fire fighters. Half the timber limits of the McLaren Lumber Company, which operates at Blairmore, had been destroyed and hope for the remainder practically had been given up. Two more camps are threatened.

The town of Crows Nest, a freight divisional point on the Canadian Pacific Railway, is in the path of the flames and preparations are being made to save it if possible.

TRY TO ASSASSINATE JUAREZ MAYOR-ELECT.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

EL PASO (Tex.) Aug. 30.—An attempt was made early this morning to kill Francisco Rodrigues, Mayor-elect of Juarez, as he lay asleep in his home, according to reports made to the Juarez police. A bullet fired through a window penetrated a pillow under the head of the Mayor-elect's brother-in-law, Efrain Escobar. Hearing of threats upon Rodrigues's life, the two men recently changed bedrooms.

Rodrigues recently was ousted from office by court orders and he is now contesting for reinstatement.

Tells Everything About Farming

Few agricultural journals in the United States equal in size the TIMES' Farm and Tractor section.

This big, illustrated magazine, read by every outdoor man in Southern California, is a regular weekly feature of the SUNDAY TIMES.

Tomorrow— a 7-passenger Westcott for $2990 $2090

No course of reasoning could lead a wise car owner to purchase a smaller or less powerful car at this time—when he can get a car of Westcott quality at such prices as go into effect tomorrow. The luxurious 7-passenger Westcott, for instance, which has been selling recently for $2990 and a year ago was $3190, will (beginning tomorrow) be priced at $2090. The smart 5-passenger touring, which was $2690, will be $1890. Other models reduced proportionately. While the quality and completeness of the Westcott have not been cut a penny, the reductions as against last year's prices will range all the way up to $1300.

All War Increases Wiped Out

Westcott has gone at the task of lowering costs with determination. The object has been at any sacrifice to reach, promptly, a stable and satisfactory level of prices. This has been done by anticipating the lowered parts-costs, which will not actually be in effect until 1922.

The reductions here announced amount to as much as the increases which we were forced to make during the entire three years preceding! The Westcott can be purchased now at rock-bottom prices, and your investment is therefore protected and made safe against future variations in the market!

Regardless of price, the Westcott is a car you will enjoy. As it stands at your curb, it will be admired by all who see it. Distinction stands out in every line! The closer your inspection, the more will be revealed to be proud of. For the Westcott is right in detail, as it is right in design.

What a Car!

It climbs hills—pulls through sand and mud—handles in traffic—and in fact performs under all circumstances with an ease that is astonishing to those who drive the car for the first time.

In addition to containing nationally known units, such as Continental, Timken, Delco, Brown-Lipe, Borg & Beck, Willard, Warner, Fedders and Gemmer, it is equipped with every convenience that could add to the pleasure of its occupants. It has thermostatically controlled motor temperature, radimeter, clock, bumper, spotlight-socket, windshield cleaner, gas gauge on dash, cowl ventilator, cigar lighter, tonneau light, etc. Nothing has been spared that will make the Westcott a car of longer life, and of more genuine satisfaction during all the years of its long life.

Try It! Buy It!

At the new prices, the Westcott deserves every consideration at the hands of the most careful buyer. A phone call or a visit to our show room tomorrow will put you under no obligation, and we shall very gladly place a Westcott at your disposal for examination, trial or comparison as you may desire.

Mrs. Werner tells how they Yield to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Camden, N. J.—"Before my baby was born I was run down and weak, had pains in my back and stomach, was very nervous and would have fainting spells. I certainly suffered awfully with those nervous fainting spells. I did not know anyone at times and used to scream. A doctor treated me but did not seem to do much good. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and soon felt a change and could do my work without pain and was cured of those nervous spells. Now I have a nice baby girl and had an easy time at birth, thanks to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."—Mrs. WILLIAM C. WERNER, 1216 Van Hook St., Camden, N. J.

When a wife finds her energies are flagging, she is weak, nervous, suffers from backache, the "blues" she should build her system up at once by taking that standard woman's medicine, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, as did Mrs. Werner.

If there is anything about your condition you do not understand write Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass., about your health.

YOU'LL GET RID OF BLACKHEADS SURE

There is one simple, safe and sure way that never fails to get rid of blackheads and that is to dissolve them.

To do this get two ounces of calonite powder from any drug store—sprinkle a little on a hot, wet sponge—rub over the blackheads briskly—wash the parts and you will be surprised how the blackheads have disappeared; big blackheads, little blackheads, no matter where they are, simply dissolve and disappear, leaving the parts without any mark whatever. Blackheads are simply a mixture of dust and dirt and secretions from the body that form in the pores of the skin. Pinching and squeezing only cause irritation, make large pores, and do not get the blackheads out after they become hard. The calonite powder and the water simply dissolve the blackheads so they wash right out, leaving the pores free and clean and in their natural condition. Anyone troubled with these unsightly blemishes should certainly try this simple method.—[Advertisement.

DUTCH COLONY SETTLES HERE.

Bringing Boys to California and New Life.

Wants Them to be Happy as They Once Were.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

NEW YORK Aug. 31.—Another group of pilgrims will make their way to America this fall. This group is not leaving the homeland because of oppression or anything approaching the conditions of the original pilgrims, but they are journeying to the slopes of Sunny Southern California in search of happiness, to be sought in a comfortable, economic livlihood in the great Southwest.

The pilgrimage is made possible by Miss Hendrika Van der Flier, daughter of the court chaplain of Holland, who performed the ceremony of marriage for Queen Wilhelmina, and who is known as the "Anne Morgan" of Holland. Miss Van der Flier will lead the little Dutch colony to a spot near Santiago where she says the climate is ideal and promises advantages her people could not find elsewhere.

For years Miss Van der Flier has engaged in philanthropic work, centering here attention on relieving the conditions of the young boys of her country and aiding them in getting a start toward economic independence.

COUNTRY CHANGED.

She has built large clubhouses for their use during recreation hours, and has developed industries to furnish them employment. But the little Dutch country is much changed from the country it was before the war. The sadness of the war has been reflected to her and her people are not able to live the happy lives they once did.

Alive to this situation, Miss Van der Flier decided she must make some changes in her welfare work, and at once determined to transplant her boys in America. Of course, there is much preliminary work to be done, and, realizing this, Miss Van der Flier came to New York, bringing, as the vanguard of the pilgrimages that are to follow, two aides, a gardner and a cook. They proceeded to California, where she has decided to establish the colony, and will have homes in readiness for the dozen or more who are scheduled to follow in October.

Miss Van der Flier knows this country well, and declared that she has discovered the ideal spot for her colony. Her plan is simple, and from the beginning she means to make her charges independent. All of them are skilled in various trades, she says, and they will continue in their chosen occupation.

TO HELP EACH OTHER.

There will be carpenters, gardeners, bakers, weavers and others skilled in the finer arts, and each will work for the others. Any surplus supplies will be sold outside the colony, and eventually Miss Van der Flier hopes they can build up much trade.

Not only will Miss Van der Flier supervise the colony, but she is to be part of it. She has disposed of all her holdings in Holland and has decided to make this the land of her adoption. She was most enthusiastic over the plan when seen here, and was optimistic as to its future.

"Living is so difficult everywhere in Europe now that I found it very hard to help my boys in the way that I had done before," said Miss Van der Flier. "Their wages were shrinking all the time and prices were soaring, so I saw that I must do something quick if I wished to help them. I have been in this country many times and I felt sure that if I could take the boys to California they would be able to live the happy lives they had once known. When I told them of my plan, they were delighted, and are most impatient to set out. It was quite a problem selecting only twelve who were to come.

"Of course, it is a big undertaking. It will cost me a great deal to transport them, but I feel that I will be doubly repaid, and later, perhaps, the colony will be prosperous enough to bring others here and I will be relieved of some of the burdens. There will be small cottages, but the main building will be a house of rest, which we are to call 'The Mayflower.'"

WASHINGTON NEWS IN BRIEF.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WASHINGTON, Aug. 31.—The Mexican Supreme Court decision forbidding confiscation of American and other foreign oil properties acquired before May 1, 1917, is regarded by administration officials as paving the way to a satisfactory understanding with Mexico.

Unless the insurrection in West Virginia ends before noon tomorrow, President Harding will immediately proclaim martial law, throw two regiments of infantry into the disturbed area and assume control of the five counties.

Uncle Joe Cannon denied today that he ever said he would not again be a candidate for Congress. He said he had made no future plans and would not do so without consulting the Republicans from his district.

Sales-tax opponents are expected to line up against the proposal of Senator Smoot for a 3 per cent manufacturers' sales tax as a substitute for the miscellaneous taxes of the revenue bill as passed by the House.

A duty on hides was urged before the Senate Finance Committee by a representative of the National Live Stock Exchange. Seed dealers opposed increased duties on seeds. The committee suspended hearings in order to turn to the tax legislation.

AGRICULTURE IS NOT ALONE IN HARD LUCK.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Aug. 31.—Agriculture is in no more serious plight than other industries as a result of the present depression, four vice-presidents of western railroads declared today before the Interstate Commerce Commission at its hearings on reducing freight rates on grain and hay. The officials were C. E. Spens, Chicago, Burlington and Quincy; S. H. Johnson, Rock Island; J. E. Woodworth, Northern Pacific, and Edward Chambers, Santa Fe.

Freight rates, they declared, have but little effect on business generally, and advances in rates have never resulted in a reduction of traffic. Grain producers have made no appeals to the roads for reduced freight rates, they added, all such appeals having come from governmental officials or agencies.

Durden, who was recently extradited from California to answer the charge that he married Dorothy Gillespie in Salt Lake when he was already married to Annie Jones Durden of Macon, Ga., pleaded guilty to bigamy when he was arraigned in the district court today and was sentenced to an indeterminate term in the State prison.

Fear Moroccans Have Defeated Spanish Again.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

PARIS, Aug. 31.—Persistent rumors are in circulation in Madrid that the Spaniards have suffered a new reversal at the hands of the Moroccan tribesmen, says a dispatch from the Spanish capitol to the Paris edition of the New York Herald today.

Rebellious Moroccan tribesmen are extending operations throughout that country, says a Madrid dispatch to Le Journal. It is declared that the rebels have made fruitless attacks upon villages near Ceuta, Tetuan and Velez de Gomera and have resumed their bombardment of Spanish positions near Melilla.

MADRID, Aug. 31.—General quiet in the districts of Morocco occupied by the Spaniards is indicated in dispatches to Madrid newspapers. A few skirmishes are reported with roving bands of Moors, who were dispersed with machine-gun fire.

GREEKS HAVE BROKEN LINE OF TURK ARMY.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

CONSTANTINOPLE, Aug. 31.—The Greek troops in Asia Minor have broken through the extreme left of the Turkish Nationalist army, which has lost its initiative of the last few days, and the Greeks have crossed the Sakaria River. Certain contingents of the Greeks also have crossed the Ilija River and are storming the second Turkish defense line.

The Greek advance in the Salt Desert, temporarily held up recently due to lack of water, has been resumed. Violent fighting is taking place.

NOTORIETY FOR MRS. ZACCAHEA.

Reporters Besiege Mother of Nineteen Children.

Lika Make de Big Joke of Harding's Letter.

What's a Mat? He One Granda Man, She Declares.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

NEW YORK, Aug. 31.—Mrs. Veronica Zaccahea, mother of nineteen children, sixteen of whom are living, today found herself the center of a constant stream of interested friends and reporters. Sob sisters, camera men, feature writers and the common or garden variety of reporters were there in full force.

Mrs. Zaccahea's temper began to get frazzled under the strain, and with many gestures and noble Latin wrath, she told the late-comers that she thought of them. Then she would think of the letter President Harding wrote to her, and her face would be wreathed in smiles.

"My grand-a man. Me no mak-a joke. I hav-a him framed in front of-a my all-a time."

LETTER GILT-FRAMED.

Rosie, with Nancy Zaccahea, aged 3 months, the youngest of the family, clutched in her arms, Mrs. Zaccahea climbed the narrow stairs of the tenement and proudly displayed the letter from President Harding reposing in a highly ornamented gilt frame.

The family finances were a ticklish topic today. Did they live on $20 a week, as the reply of Mrs. Zaccahea to President Harding had led some people to believe?

"Me? What's-a mat, $20 a week?" demanded Mrs. Zaccahea. "My sons, they work, all help."

EVERYBODY HELPS.

"My brothers are chauffeurs," explained Angelina, one of the children. "They get good wages and they help my mother." She also explained that her older sister, Marie, is married and 21 years old, is a dressmaker. Her sisters Jeanette, 17 years old, and Rosa, aged 17, are learning to be dressmakers, and all contribute to the family fund. Lucy, aged 16, has just been graduated from high school. She, herself, is in the seventh grade, and six of the smaller children are in the grade school.

HUSBAND THE INSTIGATOR.

Mrs. Zaccahea did not write the letter to President Harding herself, she explained. Her husband had it written. She paused to administer a resounding whack upon the fat body of Tito, who had climbed half way up the boiler in a corner of the room.

Two young men came in carrying cameras, whereupon Mrs. Zaccahea exploded into a torrent of Italian expletives.

"No, no, no," she shouted. "No more-a pictures. I have a picture taken once. I didn't t'ink all-a dis happen. You try make a joke in newspaper. Me no mak-a joke."

Mrs. Zaccahea disposes of her big brood in two large beds. The family wash lay about on various chairs and the family pots and pans clustered on and around the stove. The grandmother, aged 86, was diligently engaged in washing at the family sink.

CAN'T BE HELPED.

"Do you believe in large families?" ventured one of the sob sisters.

Mrs. Zaccahea shrugged her ample shoulders. "No help," she replied, as she handed youthful Nancy a substantial wallop for trying to climb out of the window.

"If your daughters were married, would you hope they have nineteen children?" asked another reporter.

"If they got they keep, if they no got, they no gotta keep," was her cryptic reply as she seized a boy, and two and a half years, by the coat and dragged him from beneath the table.

"Wazza-a mat, $20 a week is all right," she cried finally. "My children they all help, we get along fine."

MORBID GATHER TO SEE MAN EXECUTED.

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

PARIS, Aug. 31.—A near riot occurred early yesterday morning when a crowd of tourists and sightseers—men in high hats and evening clothes and women in fur coats and decollete gowns—gathered outside of the Sante prison to witness the guillotining of Gaston Philippe, who was convicted of murdering his mistress.

The usual assembly of morbid whiteness hissed and booed the newcomers, including several American women, and finally became so menacing that mounted police drove off the sightseers.

The tourists spent the night at Montmartre dance joints drinking champagne, then at 4 o'clock they went to a notorious restaurant near the Central Markets, where they had soup, and at 5 o'clock they proceeded to the prison, where they had been tipped off that the execution was to take place.

The grim guillotine was erected, and a basket was waiting for the decapitated head, but the menacing demonstration of the crowd of French people scared off the tourists, who entered waiting taxicabs and sped homeward.

THREE MORE BODIES OF ZR-2 VICTIMS FOUND.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

HULL, Aug. 31.—The body of Chief Mechanic's Mate George Walsh of Elgin, Ill., who lost his life in the ZR-2 disaster here last week, was recovered from the wreckage this morning.

Two more bodies were later found. One was that of Flight Lieut. Wilson of the Royal Aviation Corps, which was discovered in the Humber, near Brough, and the other, which has not yet been identified, was washed up in the Holderness district.

BAR ASSAILANTS ARRESTED.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

DAILY TRADE TALK.

Life Insurance Authority Calls Automobile the Greatest Menace to This Generation; Harbor Bond Sale.

BY CHAPIN HALL.

An advance copy of the Insurance Press supplies some startling insurance figures made public for the first time. Distributions in 1920 were $1,092,068,424.

The largest claim paid in the United States was to the estate of Wallace L. Pierce of Boston for $855,000. The largest California claim was for $250,000 to the estate of Isaac Liebes of San Francisco. The largest single claim paid in Los Angeles was on account of Daniel J. Desmond, $116,000. The largest claim paid on the lives of women was on account of Pearl Wight of New Orleans, $169,880. The second largest was on the life of Olive Thomas Pickford, $125,000. Most of this insurance was taken out in 1919 for the benefit of a film corporation.

The United States Bureau of War Risk Insurance reports a decline in settlements made of nearly $800,000,000 as compared with 1919. Beneficiaries of persons whose policies were in force for less than a single year received $45,000,000.

Eliminating casualty companies upon whom claims for automobile accidents fall the heaviest, and limiting the losses from death only to companies transacting an exclusive life insurance business, $4,500,000 was paid out in 1920.

It is estimated that last year the automobile caused 12,000 fatalities and 1,500,000 nonfatal injuries in the United States. These items do not include innumerable accidents of a minor nature. The economic losses resulting from fatalities and nonfatal disabilities caused by the automobile, including property damages and incidental losses, exceed $1,000,000,000 a year in the United States.

The automobile has superseded every form of disease in the vital statistics of the country. It is said by an insurance authority to be "the greatest controllable and yet uncontrolled menace of this generation."

Approximately, 275,000 people in the United States, who sought protection to the amount of over $600,000,000, were rejected in 1920. One company was obliged to turn away 10 per cent of those who applied; another declined over 16,000 applicants; another rejected 10,700 applicants.

Dividends to policy holders are reduced by more than 17½ per cent, it is said, by reason of the burdensome taxation imposed upon the transaction of life insurance. The aggregate sum paid in taxes and fees by all life insurance companies in the United States for 1920 was estimated to be $35,880,000, which represented an increase of about $7,000,000 over the taxation of the preceding year.

HARBOR BONDS.

Investment bankers found food for reflection in the sale yesterday of $1,200,000 Los Angeles Harbor 5½ per cent bonds and in making a comparison between the price paid by the successful bidders, Eldridge & Co. of New York, and that which secured the $12,500,000 power bond issue which was sold several weeks ago at a discount of more than $1,500,000.

C. E. Woodside, at the head of the bond department of the Citizens' National Bank, pointed out the dissimilarity of the two issues, and the relative comparative life of the offerings. The power bonds, he said, have an average life of twenty-two years, and the harbor bonds of twenty and a half years.

The premium paid by Eldridge & Company is $27,840, which is an average buying basis of 5.55 per cent in contrast to the sale of the 5 per cent power bonds on a 6 per cent basis.

The same syndicate which secured the power bond bargain presented a bid for the harbor bonds of $19,104 premium, which is a 5.60 basis, and this in spite of the fact that there has been no marked change in the municipal market since the sale of the power bonds.

George R. Martin, manager of the bond department of the Security Trust and Savings Bank, said yesterday that if the city had sold the power bonds on the same basis as the harbor bonds it would have received approximately $12,620,000 instead of $11,965,000, a difference of over $655,000, which amounts to nearly five points.

Nearly all Coast bond houses were represented at the sale and they bid the highest prices for the harbor bonds, which have been offered at bond sales during the past two years. An analysis of the bid, however, shows that the eastern municipal market at the present time is very much stronger than the local market.

The other bidders and their bids were:

BANK CLEARINGS.

Another remarkable record in bank clearings has been set for August. In the face of what has been the acknowledged quiet month of the year, a period when most business men look for seasonal depression, the Los Angeles clearinghouse reported yesterday an increase for the month over the corresponding month in 1920 of $19,862,384.67. The total is $329,817,775.09 and for August 1920 it was $309,955,390.42. Bankers assert that this is the best possible evidence of the strong position Los Angeles holds in the commercial world, and say that the normal fall upturn should keep the average upon an ascending scale.

THE WHITE SPOT.

Marco H. Hellman, chairman of the publicity committee for the national convention of the American Bankers' Association which is scheduled for Los Angeles, October 3, said yesterday that he proposed to let every banker and business man in the United States know that Los Angeles is the one business white spot on the industrial and mercantile map of the country.

The thousands of visiting bankers are to be given an opportunity to see for themselves the causes of this prosperity, and they are being prepared for the demonstration in various preliminary ways.

Among these is the liberal use of an attractive sticker, showing the map of the United States with an arrow pointing from New York to Los Angeles, with the words "white spot," encircling the latter city. Attention is also called to the fact that the American Bankers' Association convention will be held here October 3 to 7. These stickers are being placed in the outgoing mail of many concerns and already over 140,000 have gone out.

The various agencies contributing to their wide distribution include the banks of Los Angeles and surrounding cities and towns, the American Bankers' Association through the New York headquarters, the Automobile Club of Southern California, Federal Reserve centers, Chamber of Commerce, All Year 'Round Club, Merchants' and Manufacturers' Association, Advertising Club, several of the larger advertising agencies, and many firms and individuals whose outgoing mail reaches large proportions.

GRAIN MARKETS.

Will European demand for American grains be so great during the coming winter that radically higher prices will prevail?

An affirmative answer is given to this question by market authorities, who base their conclusion upon the fact that, while this country has large visible supplies, it is the only nation able to extend the credit necessary before the grain can be sold overseas.

This argument also applies to cotton, and there are some preliminary indications that the stand is well taken and that a material upturning in each of these markets may be a development of the next few months.

DAY OF REACTIONS.

Market Trend Checked or Reversed; Sterling Reaches Highest Rate Since July; Hopeful Rail Outlook.

BY ALEXANDER DANA NOYES,
Financial Editor New York "Times."
[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

NEW YORK, Aug. 31.—In most of the markets the recent trend of prices was checked or reversed today. This was notably the case with cotton, which lost practically all of the previous day's advance, and the general movement on the stock exchange was similar.

It was notably in the industrial stocks which had risen most rapidly in the week's earlier advance, that the reaction was greatest. Not all the stock market lost ground, however; there were a few interesting further upward movements. Bonds of the Interborough Rapid Transit recovered sharply; the 6s per cents in particular selling nearly three points above yesterday's low mark.

This may have indicated either the market's belief that a receivership would be averted, or its feeling that the earlier price was too low for a security with such a lien, even if the property were to be placed in the hands of the court.

Completion of the billion mark payment on German reparations was followed by a sharp advance in sterling which reached the highest rate since July 5, having now recovered 17¾ cents from the lowest price of August. But German marks declined, possibly reflecting withdrawal of German government support, now that reparation payments are for the present out of the way.

The only noteworthy incident of today's payment, announced from Berlin, was the drawing of 65,000,000 marks from the Reichsbank's gold reserve. This is the first surrender of gold by that institution in any quantity since June, 1919, when Germany was paying gold for quick delivery of foodstuffs; the gold reserve as last reported was exactly what it was in the autumn of that year. The fact that such action had to be taken to complete this payment renders the question interesting as to exactly what form the smaller installments due in the later autumn will be paid.

Now that the July earnings of the important railway companies have been published, it is possible to draw some general conclusions. It was figured out today that the month's net operating revenue for the roads which have reported, runs $55,900,000 ahead of the previous July. This indicates both a much greater increase over 1920 than in any previous month, but a total operating revenue probably $10,000,000 larger than in any month this year.

Undoubtedly the most encouraging aspect of the matter is the virtual certainty, based on all experience, that traffic cannot long continue in this country in the present state of paralysis. The community's absolute necessities have invariably caused an increase in demand for transportation after the session had suspended.

BUSINESS NEWS.

The Los Angeles Credit Men's Association closed a successful year yesterday. Its membership, under the leadership of J. A. Cattell, was increased from 867 to 990. During the year two distinct educational activities were featured, credit education work with the University of Southern California, and classes in public speaking. Elaborate entertainment was also provided for visiting members of the national association en route to and from the San Francisco convention. The work of the new year will start September 15 with a dinner meeting at which time it is expected the new president, R. L. McCourt, will assume the leadership of this rapidly growing and virile organization.

FLORIDA ORANGES.

Florida fruit growers have at length decided to follow the lead set by California and place their marketing system upon a firm foundation. To this end there has been a consolidation of the Standard Growers' Exchange with the Florida Citrus Exchange, the leading distributing agency for the marketing of Florida's immense crop of citrus fruits. This means that the latter will in the coming season handle more than 60 per cent of the State's estimated crop of nearly 15,000,000 boxes.

Under the exchange plan each grower agrees to a tax of a cent or less on each box of citrus fruit which he produces and ships through the exchange to be used in nationally advertising Florida's "sealdsweets."

The report of the State Marketing Bureau and the State Experiment Station is that the crop compares more than favorably with the crop at the same time last year.

COMPANY EARNINGS.

E. H. Rollins & Sons report the earnings of three corporations, whose securities they are handling.

Net earnings of the New England Oil Refining Company for the second quarter of this year equaled almost nineteen times the total interest charges against the company.

Gross earnings of the California-Oregon Power Company showed an increase over those for June, the former high-water mark for receipts. Net earnings of this concern for July were twice the total interest charges.

Operating expenses of the Great Western Power Company during the seven months ended July 31 showed a decrease of $35,000 from expenses during the similar period in 1920. Savings effected through the company's new plant at Caribou are given as the principal reason for this decrease.

NEW BRANCH OPENS.

Freeman, Smith & Camp Company, a well-known bond investment firm of San Francisco and Portland, has opened offices in Los Angeles at 904 Van Nuys Building. Edgar A. Seymour, formerly an investment broker in Detroit, is in charge of the Los Angeles branch. Mr. Seymour was a partner of the firm of D. M. Woodruff & Co. in Detroit.

California, Oregon and Washington municipal issues are the specialty of the Freeman, Smith & Camp Company, and the local branch was established with the purpose in mind of serving investors from the Northwest, who have located in Los Angeles.

LOS ANGELES STOCKS.

A conservative tendency was manifested throughout the trading yesterday, which resulted in somewhat lower levels for a few of the leaders. Goodyear preferred sold back to $1.00. General Petroleum opened at 75.37½, but weakened toward the close, when a ten-share block went over at 75.62½. Union Oil of Delaware was in fair demand and firm around 17.62½. California Union was steady, at 125.50, and Los Angeles Investment sold up to 66½ cents. At the close, 69 cents was asked.

A more bullish note was struck by several of the traders, and after the holidays, which begin tomorrow they anticipate a better market.

UNDERTONE OF OPTIMISM.

D. C. Wills, chairman of Cleveland Federal Reserve Bank, in his September review, says textile, automotive and iron and steel industries are showing definite signs of improvement, and while others are lagging the undertone of optimism, for a long time scarcely audible, can now be plainly heard.

GOVERNMENT FINANCING.

Although official announcement regarding financing by the government on September 15 is not anticipated much before next Monday, bankers express the opinion that an aggregate issue of $500,000,000 or thereabouts would cause no surprise. Only a minor portion of it will be in the form of treasury certificates, as present plans call for the major portion to take the form of three or five-year notes, similar to those put out in June.

The Argentine government is conducting negotiations in this country for the purchase of $5,000,000 in locomotives. It was said yesterday that the Baldwin company, which has done business on credit with Poland and Mexico, probably would get the business.

PACKING PROJECT.

Financing for the Redondo Packing Corporation's new plant at Los Angeles Harbor is being handled by the National Service Company. The packing corner has recently increased its capital stock to $500,000 to take care of its enlargement project, and has reported a ready sale for its shares during the two weeks they have been on the market. The Redondo Packing Corporation exhibit at the Trade Exposition had the result of stimulating the purchase of its stock considerably, according to J. A. S. Furlonge, president of the company.

FAMOUS PLAYERS-LASKY.

The Famous Players-Lasky Corporation's consolidated statement (which includes the earnings of subsidiary companies owned 90 per cent or more) reports for the half year ended June 25, 1921, net operating profits of $3,078,497, after deducting all charges including Federal income and excess profits taxes and reserves for same.

After allowing for payment of dividends on the preferred stock the above earnings are at the annual rate of $26.04 on the 206,849 shares of common stock outstanding in the hands of the public.

At the regular meeting of the board of directors the regular dividend of $2 per share on the common stock of the company was declared payable October 1, to stockholders of record at the close of business, September 15.

TICKER TICKS.

Federal trade commission cites Famous Players-Lasky Corporation to answer complaints of violations of antitrust laws.

Total freight cars loaded in week ended August 20 was 816,436, an increase of 7471 over the previous week, but a decrease of 151,667 compared with a year ago.

Interboro directors decide to proceed with payment of current indebtedness totalling $3,000,000, including $57,074 due the American Brake Shoe and Foundry Company, on which it based its receivership action.

Kansas City Federal Reserve Bank, summarizing business condition in that district, notes the following improvements: Heavy wheat movement, better crop conditions, greater activity in building lines and reduction of bank loans.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

NEW YORK, Aug. 31.—Raw sugar was steady early today with sales of 19,500 bags of San Domingos in part at 2.75 c.i.f. to refiners. Centrifugal remained unchanged at 4.61@4.66, the latter being the committee price. Raw sugar futures were a little lower. At noon the market was unchanged to 3 points net lower. Refined sugar was easier at 5.50 but failing to stimulate demand. Refined futures were nominal.

GASOLIN EPRICES.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

CHICAGO, Aug. 31.—Gasoline, tank wagon, 17; service station, 19; stainless, 25½; motor perfection, tires bulged, 21½; V M & P, supplies, 25; black silk, summer, 12.5; winter, 14.4. Linseed oil, raw, 1 to 4 barrels, nine delivery, 87; boiled, 89; denatured alcohol, 48. Turpentine, 78.

THE COUNTRY OVER.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

ST. PAUL (Minn.) Aug. 31.—A noticeable revival of building operations in the last few weeks has been the outstanding feature of business conditions in this section. More houses and flats are being erected at this time than at any period since the war ended. The shortage of homes and realization of the fact that building costs will be little if any lower next spring than at present, has stimulated the revival. Liquidation of debts this fall will be only partial, because of spotty crop conditions, according to officials of the local Federal reserve bank.

PITTSBURG (Pa.) Aug. 31.—It would be easy to exaggerate the improvement in the steel trade, the major industry of this section, but the tendency toward increased production is plainly noticeable. The movement is having a percentible but not extensive influence on other industries. The Chamber of Commerce sent questionnaires to 1000 local business firms to obtain a composite view on the business situation. To the question "How is business?" the general reply was "Not very good," but the consensus was that "business had made the turn."

NEW YORK, Aug. 31.—The development of business in general in this territory so far this week has been slight, but promising for continued improvement. The slightly warmer weather has not sufficed to check the impetus for fall buying which the cooler days promoted. In the wholesale trade distribution continues uneven, but cotton goods continue to move well, while there has been an improvement in demand for woolens and men's and women's apparel.

Water Company Bonds

NO OTHER business is so free from hazards, so exempt from disturbing problems, so entirely dependable as the distribution of water to stable communities.

The demand for water is as stable as the increase in population. There are no substitutes. Salesmen are unnecessary. Advertising is not required to increase demand. Invention cannot improve the product. Competition is scarcely possible and never practicable.

The cost of doing business is exceedingly uniform. Human labor is reduced to a minimum. The raw materials are costless. Depreciation on plant and equipment is slow. Obsolescence is slight. Even fluctuations in the cost of fuel for pumping and in taxes are inconsiderable.

Neither fire nor flood nor storm can greatly harm. Extreme catastrophe did not cause suspension of the water works of San Francisco or Galveston. Only a cataclysm could.

In California, the supervision of the Railroad Commission further stabilizes the utility. Assuming a fair capitalization and satisfactory service, rates vary in the same proportion as expenses. The excess of net earnings over fixed charges of a water company can be smaller, and safely, too, than in any other type of private corporation.

These reasons are good reasons why Water Company Bonds are good bonds in which to invest your funds.

And these are reasons why we unhesitatingly recommend East Bay Water Unifying and Refunding Mortgage 7½% Bonds at 100 and interest. Let us give you full information.

NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, Aug. 31.—The stock market today forfeited a considerable part of its recent substantial recovery. This was attributed to the absence of new constructive forces, which provoked a renewal of bearish aggressions.

Contrary to promises held out yesterday, the money market developed greater firmness. The official rate for call loans opened at 5 per cent and this was increased to 5½ per cent in the final hour. There also was a distinct contraction of time funds, although those rates were unaltered.

Additional July statements of railroad earnings were mainly favorable, but investment transportations were unresponsive, especially the Hill group, and leading coalers. Other deterrent factors included a survey of general business conditions, which indicated stabilization of prices was still in progress, especially as applying to the steel industry.

Early stock market prices were irregular, the list becoming more reactionary at mid-day. Later dealings were characterized by the erratic fluctuations of Mexican Petroleum, which finally closed at a slight recession, and the strength of Studebaker.

United States Steel and independent shares of that class, as well as equipments, secondary motors, shippings, coppers and many speculative issues of indefinite description, registered irregular net declines. Sales 535,000 shares.

Buying of British and French bills to cover September maturities as well as speculative accounts imparted variable strength to foreign exchanges. Demand sterling was 4¼ cents above its recent low and guilders again were conspicuously strong.

Liberty bonds were firmer and trading in bonds almost as a whole widened, with recoveries in some of the local tractions. Various railway convertibles rose from large fractions to 1½ points. Sales (par value) $9,700,000.

JUSTICE A. C. BAKER OF ARIZONA PASSES.

AGED JURIST DIES FOLLOWING BRIEF ILLNESS; WELL KNOWN IN WEST.

Justice Albert C. Baker of the Arizona Supreme Court, who formerly practiced law here and in San Diego, died yesterday at the Clara Barton Hospital at the age of 77 years. He came here a few weeks ago at the close of a session of his court in Phoenix. He was taken ill a week ago. His children, Alexander B. and Robert Baker, and Mrs. John Page, all of Phoenix, were with their father when he died. The widow, who was Miss Marie Alexander, of a prominent California family, was on her way here from Bennet, Colo., where she had been visiting another daughter, Mrs. Clarence Stacey.

Justice Baker was born in Alabama. In 1873 he came to San Diego, and after practicing law for some time, came here, opening offices in the Temple Block. He went to Arizona in the early '70s, when the then territory was overrun with the Apaches. Much of his work was in adjusting cattle and sheepmen's wars, in which he laid the groundwork for a large criminal practice. He was elected to the Supreme bench two years ago.

She criticized the carelessness of some nurses, particularly as to disclosing the intimate phases of their work before unsophisticated persons.

SMOOT FACES HARD BATTLE.

Opponents to His Tax Scheme Are Numerous.

Wants 3 Per Cent on Makers' Entire Sales.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WASHINGTON, Aug. 31.—Opponents of a sales tax are expected to line up against the proposal of Senator Smoot of Utah, Republican member of the Senate Finance Committee, for a 3 per cent tax on manufacturers' sales. Although some of the objections advanced against the 1 per cent general turnover tax originally favored by Senator Smoot may not be offered against the manufacturers' sale tax, there seems little likelihood that the Finance Committee will approve the suggestion.

The manufacturers' sales tax would be more like the Canadian sales tax than the plans heretofore urged most strongly in this country. The sales tax in Canada is applied to sales by manufacturers to retailers and also by jobbers to retailers, but not to the retail sales. Advocates of the general turnover tax who appeared before the Senate and House committees several months ago were not inclined to favor the Canadian plan, holding that the only feasible form of tax which could be administered without many complications would be a general sales tax on all turnovers.

In view of the overwhelming sentiment shown against the general turnover tax both in the House Ways and Means Committee and the Senate Finance Committee, the agitation for it appears to have been dropped in Congress and the movement now is directed toward a manufacturers' sales tax.

As in the case of the general turnover tax, the support of the manufacturers' sales tax comes chiefly from those who are anxious to get rid of miscellaneous excise taxes, such as the tax on jewelry, furs and automobiles. Manufacturers of these articles would welcome any kind of a tax which relieves them of a tax of 5, 10 or 15 per cent, applying only to selected commodities, and substitute a general tax at a lesser rate and applying to all lines of business. The present miscellaneous taxes, it is contended, are a discrimination against certain lines of industry.

On the other hand, the theory of the miscellaneous taxes now on the statute books and those which are retained in the Fordney bill, as passed by the House, is to levy a tax on articles which either are luxuries or else are of common use, but not necessities. The purpose is to avoid any sort of a sales tax on food, ordinary clothing and other articles of necessity. Either the general turnover tax or the manufacturers' sales tax, it is contended by those opposing a general sales tax, would apply to articles of necessity and add to the cost of living.

The bill which Senator Smoot will offer as a substitute for the House bill repeals all the miscellaneous taxes and also makes possible the repeal of the excess-profits tax without any increase in the present flat 10 per cent corporation income tax. Secretary Mellon, as well as his predecessors in the office, have opposed any kind of sales tax, and have favored selective sales taxes applying only to certain commodities. Mr. Mellon is expected to oppose the Smoot plan for a 3 per cent manufacturers' sales tax when he appears before the Finance Committee next Wednesday.

The Finance Committee will begin actual work on the tax bill in executive session tomorrow. The present prospect is that while numerous amendments will be proposed, the underlying policies of the tax bill as passed by the House will be approved. The House bill is framed on the principles laid down by the Treasury Department, the only possible divergence from the treasury recommendations being a failure to include heavy enough taxes to provide as much revenue as may be needed.

Mr. Bradford leaves a widow and four daughters: Mrs. Caroline Demaree of Quincy, Ill., Mrs. Medora Moore of Monticello, Ill., and Mrs. Hatcher and Miss Louise Bradford of Los Angeles.

Mr. Bradford was born in 1841 in Southbridge, Mass., but early came West. He began his long service with the Burlington as agent at Hannibal in 1869. During most of his railway career he had been in charge of affairs in the Quincy district as general agent. He married Miss Emily M. Prince in 1864. He was a member of Quincy Lodge of Masons and of the Knights Templar Commandery.

"If I make good I will take care of you. If I don't——" The long dash ended the letter.

"My wife has run away with my daughter and I want you to find them for me," Edward Wilson of Smith and Los Angeles streets told the police yesterday. According to the official report Mrs. Anna Doyle Wilson, step mother of La Verne Wilson, 3 years of age, left her home several days ago and took her step daughter. HUNT SLAYERS OF CAFE OWNER.

Two Bandit Suspects Fight, Escape from Officer.

With their only clews a meager description of the murderers and the license number of the stolen automobile in which they escaped the police last night continued their search for the two gunmen who clubbed and shot to death Jacob S. Wagner, 63-year-old proprietor of a lunch room at 953 Lyon street, shortly after 1 p.m. yesterday in a futile attempt to rob him.

Despite his age Mr. Wagner valiantly resisted the efforts of the bandits to take from him the $1124 in cash which he had in the till. He saved his money, but lost his life. His slayers then escaped in an automobile after running a gauntlet of workmen along the street.

Two hours before the slaying of Mr. Wagner another shooting affray occurred when Officer H. R. Boehn of Boyle Heights Police Station attempted to arrest two suspected automobile bandits at Cummings street and Michigan avenue. One broke from his custody and the other, who had been handcuffed to the steering wheel, started the automobile and escaped, after picking up his companion. Whether these men were the same who staged the fatal hold-up attempt on Lyon street could not be ascertained because of the meager description of the men in the latter case.

RUN CAUNTLET.

The attempted hold-up at the Wagner restaurant was one of the boldest crimes committed here recently. Lyon street, at that point, runs into the Wilson & Co. grounds and exit can be made only to the south. The street was lined with men working for the Los Angeles Gas and Electric Company and the bandits were forced to flee past them amid a shower of hammers, pipe and bricks.

Andres Blanco, a Mexican woman who has been employed for several months by Mr. Wagner, was the only eyewitness of the struggle which preceded the murder. She said she was washing dishes at the small lunch counter and her employer was sitting on a box reading a newspaper when two men rushed in. One cried to the other to hold Mr. Wagner, she declared, and the other started to jump over the counter to the till.

Almost $1200 in cash, in addition to several hundred dollars in checks, were in the till, the unusual amount being on hand because yesterday

BOWL WILL GET MONEY OF CIRCUS.

Every Dollar Received at Society Entertainment to be Added to Fund.

Every dollar spent at the Society Circus today will go to help pay for the Hollywood Bowl at the entrance of Cahuenga Pass.

There will be two shows, an afternoon and an evening performance. Athletics, rough riding, daring features in the Roman rings, clowns, bands, wild animals, trained animals tumblers, strong men, dancers and many other specialty acts make up the unusual program.

Fred W. Blanchard, president of the Community Park and Art Association, and Caroline Graham Henderson, general chairman of the circus committee, predict the circus will be a big success.

No extra charge will be made for the evening performance if spectators of the afternoon show wish to remain in the park.

The pedigreed hot-dog stand, under the care of Edward Bogardus, is to have on hand 4000 pounds of meat.

Pepper Plaza is to be the scene of many beautiful booths. Mary Ellen Reed is chairman of the balloon booth. Thirst quenchers will be on all sides. The mysterious attendants of the fortune-telling booth will solve the greatest problems of the century. Confetti, serpentine, gay lights, music and laughter will hold sway until midnight.

Billy Sunday Hands "Boost" to Southland.

"You have the most wonderful city in the country" was "Billy" Sunday's comment as he arrived here to visit his son, George Sunday, at 806 North Oxford avenue. "Why I've heard this place had grown since I was here a few years ago, but I didn't imagine anything like this."

Mr. Sunday and his wife, "Ma" Sunday came here after passing the summer on their ranch in the Hood River Valley in Oregon. They will remain until Tuesday when the couple will leave for Louisville to open the State fair and they will then go to Sioux City and later to Tulsa. While here Mr. Sunday will preach at the First Methodist Church Sunday morning, the Bible Institute Sunday afternoon and in the evening will occupy the pulpit of the Temple Baptist Church.

POLICE FORCE IS SHAKEN UP.

Heath to Replace Murray in Central Division.

Red Light Abatement Suits Filed by Woolwine.

Chief of Police Jones yesterday in one order relieved Capt. W. A. Murray from command of Central Police Division and detailed him to command University Division, and ordered Capt. Lee Heath, former commander of University Division, to take over Central Division.

This order came on the heels of the statement made by Mayor Cryer that Chief Jones must enforce the law or the Mayor will make a new Chief who will do so. The Mayor notified Chief Jones that the city would have to be kept clean after Mr. Cryer had been informed that the vice interests were preparing to tilt the lid in the city.

In an official statement made after the transfer of Capt. Murray, Chief Jones said: "I do not believe that things are as bad as they are painted in Central Division, but I know that they are bad enough. The conditions will have to be improved, and I will have Capt. Heath attempt to improve them."

UP TO CHIEF.

In remarking on the police moves in the vice campaign, and on the changes made yesterday by Chief Jones, Mayor Cryer said: "I am leaving the affairs of the police department to Chief Jones. When he took office I announced that I would hold him responsible for the whole force, and would not attempt to give him orders. I am not a police officer. Conditions in Los Angeles will have to be kept up to the mark, and I am looking to Chief Jones to produce results."

Capt. Murray has been a member of the local police force for more than twenty years. For the past five years he has been in command of Central Division. During the captain's long service no demerit mark is against his record, and his integrity has never been questioned.

Capt. Heath, for many years a member of the police department, who will take over Capt. Murray's command at Central Police Division today, has been in command of University Division for more than five years. Capt. Heath is a member of the bar and is a police officer and has an unblemished record.

FIVE SUITS FILED.

As a part of the Mayor's campaign to forestall plans of vice interests here, Dist.-Atty. Woolwine yesterday filed five red light abatement suits and asked the court to declare the places a nuisance. The defendants named as owners and tenants were John J. Shay, Jane Doe Shay, Pearl Young and various inmates of the house at 310½ North Main street; John B. Solomon, Nellie Vehaar and inmates at 735½ South Olive street; Frank Rettowsky, R. T. Mino and inmates at 224 Boyd street; Richard S. Goddard, Charles H. Russell, Mrs. A. Johnson, Mrs. T. Russell and inmates at 543 Ceres avenue; Juana S. Enriquez, Esperanza Morena, Luis Sanchez, Grace Smith and inmates at 645-51 New High street.

VICE FIGHT BY MAYOR IS LAUDED.

The handling by Mayor Cryer of the vice situation here was the subject of a conference yesterday between the Mayor and Dr. Valeria H. Parker of Washington, D.C., executive secretary of the United States Interdepartmental Social Hygiene Board and the directing head of the government's anti vice protective work in the Army and Navy. The conference, it was learned later, was gratifying to those who participated in it and a definite understanding about the policy to be pursued is said to have been reached.

It was in her official capacity that Dr. Parker, accompanied by Miss Alida C. Bowler, Los Angeles representative of the board, called on Mayor Cryer yesterday.

"I was highly pleased with our conference with the Mayor," Dr. Parker said. "I consider his prompt response to the need of vice extermination a favorable sign.

"When I return to Washington I shall take pleasure in telling the board that the Mayor of Los Angeles—an important place so far as we are concerned, in view of the stationing here of the Pacific Fleet—is in accord with our views and policies."

A special meeting of the Federal Board will be held immediately after Dr. Parker's arrival in Washington and will be attended by Assistant Secretaries J. W. Wainwright, Theodore Roosevelt and Edward Clifford of the War, Navy and Treasury Departments, and other officials.

"THE TIMES" ANNOUNCES $3378 OBSERVATION PUZZLE GAME.

An Evening's Enjoyment May Earn One of Sixty Cash Prizes, Ranging from $2 to $1000; Answers May be Submitted Throughout Month.

How Many Objects Visible in This Picture Have Names Beginning With a "B"?

With the old adage in mind, "A little nonsense now and then is relished by the best of men," the Los Angeles Times starts a tournament of fun—the Observation Puzzle Game—in which a total of $3378 in prizes will be given, the highest award being $1000.

All puzzles are said to attract the average person, but the observation puzzle not only does this but affords endless amusement. There are no complicated rules, no tricks or catches, and besides mental exhilaration there are sixty cash awards.

Briefly stated, the purpose is to find in the puzzle picture the greatest number of visible objects whose names begin with the letter "b". Participants who submit lists containing the greatest number of such words will win the awards.

In order to make it possible for all readers to participate on an equitable basis, four classes of entries have been arranged:

Class "A" is open to all readers of The Times whether subscribers or not. The participant merely sends in a list of B-words with his name and address written on the sheet of paper. Anyone may compete. Fifteen cash prizes will be awarded in this class.

Classes "B", "C" and "D", in which the awards aggregate over $1000, are open to any one who sends in a new or old subscription paid in advance for a period of three, six or twelve months, or who renews his own subscription by paying in advance for like periods.

The observation game is not a subscription campaign. No one is asked to solicit subscriptions and no advantage will be gained by securing a number of new subscribers. However, it has been thought fair to award the larger prizes among those who renew their subscriptions in advance, or those who send in a new or old paid-in-advance subscription.

Old subscribers are given the same privileges as new ones; and even the casual visitor who spends but a day in the city may, without any cost or obligation, take part in the contest.

A committee of responsible, well-known local people, having no connection with the Los Angeles Times, will act as judges, their names to be announced shortly.

The puzzle game will come to an end at six P.M. September 30. Answers may be mailed to "Puzzle Manager, Los Angeles Times" or deposited in special boxes located in the main lobby of The Times Building and in The Times Branch Office, 619 South Spring street. The puzzle picture and news about the game will be published daily until the close of the tournament.

The accompanying simple rules have been adopted which will answer almost any question that may occur to a participant. The judges will make awards and render decisions based on these rules.

HERE ARE CONTEST RULES.

(1.) Any man, woman or child who is not connected with the Los Angeles Times in any capacity, or who is not a member of an employee's family, may compete.

(2.) All answers will be divided into four classes, each class will be judged independently, there will be fifteen prizes in each class. While anyone may compete in more than one class, or may submit more than one list of names, not more than one prize will be awarded to any individual, the largest award being given to him, which anyone of his lists entitle him to.

Class A—Open to all. Anyone may compete.

Class B—Open to those who send in a new or old three-month subscription to the daily and Sunday Times, or who renew their own subscription for three months, payment to be made in advance.

Class C—Open to those who send in a new or old six-month subscription to the daily and Sunday Times, or who renew their own subscription for six months, payment to be made in advance.

Class D—Open to those who send in a new or old twelve-month subscription to the daily and Sunday Times, or who renew their own subscription for twelve months, payment to be made in advance.

(3.) Contest closes Sept. 30, 1921, at 6 p.m. All answers must be deposited in The Times main office or Los Angeles branch office, or bear a postmark not later than that hour.

(4.) Answers may either be deposited in contest box in Times branch office, 619 South Spring street, or Times main office, First and Broadway, Los Angeles, or may be mailed to Puzzle Manager, Circulation Department, Los Angeles Times.

(5.) All lists of names should be written on one side of paper. Number sheets consecutively. Write your own name and address on each page in upper right-hand corner.

(6.) Only words appearing in English dictionaries will be considered. Slang and obsolete words are barred. Only words beginning with B will count.

Where plural is used, singular cannot also be used, and vice versa.

Only names of objects or parts of objects will count.

Words of the same spelling may be used only once, even though they apply to different objects.

An object may be named only once even if more than one of the same kind appear in the picture.

Parts of an object may be named in addition to the object itself.

Do not use hyphenated or compound words, that is, words formed by the combination of two or more complete English words, where each word is itself an object.

(7.) The answer in each class containing the largest number of correct names of visible objects beginning with the letter B, will be awarded the first prize in that class, the second best list will receive second prize, and so on.

(8.) More than one person may co-operate in submitting a list of names, but only one prize will be awarded to any one household or group, which has been working together.

(9.) In the event of a tie for any prize, the full amount of the prize will be given to each tied participant.

(10.) A committee of well-known Los Angeles people having no connection with the Los Angeles Times will act as judges, their names to be announced in a few days. The judges will use Webster's New International Dictionary as their reference; participants agree to accept all decisions of the judges as final and conclusive.

(11.) Judges will meet on October 3, and announcement of prize winners and the best list of B words submitted as determined by them, will be published as soon thereafter, as possible.

(12.) All questions or correspondence regarding the observation puzzle should be addressed to Puzzle Manager, Circulation Department, Los Angeles Times.

EMPLOYEE GETS HAZARD RICHES.

Former Mayor's Will Leaves Him Half of Estate.

Woman Sued for Annulment is Bequeathed Dollar.

Contest by Kin Said to be Looming Large.

Cutting off with $1 the woman who married him in his seventy-eighth year and leaving one-half of an estate of more than $500,000 to James Mayzie, his trusted employee, who had been with him many years, the will of former Mayor Henry T. Hazard, pioneer Angeleno, who died of paralysis August 7, was filed yesterday by Attorney Edmund D. Barry.

Mr. Mayzie, who is less than 30 years old, became associated with Mr. Hazard at the age of 16 and was with him almost continuously. He is the petitioner and is mentioned in the will as executor without bond. Another employee, J. L. Geller, who has for the last six years been bookkeeper of the firm of Hazard & Miller, patent attorneys, is a beneficiary under the will, inheriting "everything appertaining to and connected with patent soliciting business, library furniture, pens, etc."

TERMS OF WILL.

By the terms of the will one-fourth of the estate is left to the heirs of decedent, one-fourth to the heirs of the first wife of decedent, Carrie G. Hazard, who died ten years ago, and one-half to James Mayzie. The document is a holographic will, originally dated Aug. 14, 1918. It originally divided the estate into thirds. Later the "1-3" applying to the respective heirs of decedent and his first wife was scratched out and changed to "1-4" and the other "1-3" applying to James Mayzie was changed to "1-2".

A paragraph follows which reads: "I have changed the above to give James Mayzie ½ interest instead of 1-3 and he is appointed my executor without bond."

At the bottom of the single page of letter paper on which the will is written is a codicil which reads, "June 4, 1919. To my wife Mildred I leave the sum of $1 on my death." There are no witnesses to the will or to any of the alterations or the codicil.

The wife, Mildred was Mrs. Mildred Clough when Mr. Hazard married her at Prescott, Ariz., May 5, 1919. A week after this marriage he applied to the local courts for an annulment of the marriage on the ground of fraud, in that she refused, it was charged, to consummate the marriage and that she wed Mr. Hazard only to obtain support and to gain control of his property.

WOMAN IN PARIS.

She is said to be in Paris and Attorney Barry stated last night that it is his understanding that the suit was settled out of court.

The probability of a sharp contest of the will looms large, according

WILL STAGE MIMIC SEA FIGHT HERE.

Four-Day Battle to Rage Off Harbor; Cities Will Be Shaken by Great Guns.

More than 200 naval craft, ranging from superdreadnaughts to destroyers and submarine chasers, and a large number of balloons and seaplanes will participate in a gigantic four-day mimic battle off Los Angeles Harbor, beginning next Thursday.

The details for the biggest sham battle ever staged off the Pacific Coast were gone over during the last three days by Rear-Admiral Guy H. Burrage, commander of the destroyer forces of the Pacific Fleet, Capt. Amon Bronson, commanding the Submarine Base at the harbor, and Capt. Cyrus Miller of the U.S.S. Camden, commanding the submarine forces of the Pacific Fleet.

Rear-Admiral Burrage arrived from San Diego last Monday on the destroyer Corey to confer with Capt. Bronson and Miller, returning yesterday.

The seven superdreadnaughts of the reorganized battleship fleet of the Pacific Fleet, comprising the New Mexico, Mississippi, Idaho, Tennessee, Nevada, Arizona and Oklahoma, will engage in battle with about 125 destroyers, twenty-five submarines from the local base, and a fleet of auxiliary craft and small vessels. Naval aircraft will play an important part in the battle.

Many cities in Southern California may expect to be shaken by the firing of the fourteen-inch guns of the battleships. Depth bombs, torpedoes and anti-aircraft gunfire will add to the din of the conflict.

Husband Calls Brother Isaiah Patient Insane.

Mrs. Annie Maier, an elderly [illegible] man, was taken to the psychopathic ward of the County Hospital yesterday on a complaint filed by her husband, John Maier of 1625 Echo Park avenue, charging her with insanity. She will be taken before the lunacy board next Tuesday.

The story of the filing of the complaint dates back to the time that "Brother Isaiah," so-called "Miracle Man," appeared on a hill near Prescott, Ariz. Mrs. Maier went to the hill, not to be healed, but to hear the "Miracle Man." Upon her return home, she [illegible] Isaiah" a handkerchief to be healed. Upon receiving it back [illegible] she carried is next to her body. It seems. Since that time, her husband declared in his complaint, she has continually talked about the "Miracle Man." She believes she can cure others. She seems very much disturbed, in the language of the complaint, is violent and attempted to jump out of a window of their home. It was necessary to strap her to a bed.

The People and Their Daily Troubles

DOROTHY DIX TALKS

BY DOROTHY DIX.

The reason that most people fail in the world is because they have no definite objective. Like the hero of the popular song, they are on their way, but they don't know where they are going. They don't even know where they want to go, so they just drift aimlessly about from place to place, and never arrive anywhere.

And just as the person with no idea at all of what he is going to do in the world, always fails, so the one-idea man almost invariably succeeds. In the biography of all great men and women we read of how, when they were mere children, they planned to be financiers, or great writers, or actors, or politicians, or preachers, and of the weary years they spent fitting themselves for their careers.

They worked, and studied, and sacrificed always to one end, that they might carry out the plan that they had formulated. It was a long and toilsome road for them to travel, but every step took them a little farther along, and brought them a little nearer to their goal, and, at last, they reached it because they always had some set goal in mind.

Of course, now and then, there is an individual who stumbles accidentally over a gold mine, or has greatness thrust upon him, but such a one is a child of luck who has little in common with the balance of us who must earn all we get. We don't count on being struck by lightning. What we achieve, we must win by our own blood and sweat.

That is why it is pitiful to see people running aimlessly around in circles instead of marching straight ahead, for they are putting in as much labor and energy in dabbling at a dozen indifferent things as they would in doing one thing superlatively well. Therefore, they remain perpetual amateurs at life instead of becoming professionals, and the professional wins over the amateur every time.

The man who cannot decide whether he wants to be a farmer, a lawyer, a business man or an actor never amounts to anything at any one of these occupations. It is the man who has the very call of the soil in his blood who makes a successful farmer. It is the man who finds no adventure so thrilling as a trade who becomes a merchant prince. It is the man who would rather starve as a lawyer than be anything else. It is the man who can barnstorm cheerfully because he is learning the rudiments of his profession, who eventually holds an audience in the hollow of his hand.

No general could win a battle if he started to fight without any plan of campaign. A business would go into bankruptcy if the man who was running it didn't know what he was trying to do. We couldn't even go to a city fifty miles distant unless we bought a ticket to that definite place. Yet most of us let our lives be the sport of chance. We are utterly purposeless. We are the helpless victims of any accident that befalls us.

We do not take the trouble to find out what occupation nature intended us to follow. We become a blacksmith because the man with a forge near us needed a helper, or we become a preacher because Uncle Ebenezer is pious and offers to send us to a theological college, independent of whether our talents run to blacksmithing or preaching.

We marry, just as casually, somebody we happen to be thrown with, without ascertaining whether we are soul mates or not, so we muddle along through life unsuccessful, dissatisfied, putting up the best we can with what we have got, when we might have had what we wanted if we had only had enough intelligence and determination to really find out what we desired, and go get it.

The chief victims of the planless life are women. The great reason why women so seldom attain anything worth while in the commercial world is because they do not set out with a through ticket to a big place in it clinched in their hands. They expect to get off at the first matrimonial way station at which they are invited to stop.

When you find a woman who has set her heart on being at the head of her own business, or a highly paid private secretary, or a buyer, or to have her name in electric lights over a theater door, you may as well be thinking up appropriate words of congratulation. She'll get there, for the woman with a plan carries it out.

It may be said that the practically universal feminine plan is to get married. True. And most women achieve this end, but they even do this in a hit-or-miss kind of way, as is proven by the kind of men they marry. They haven't even worked their matrimonial plans out definitely enough to make a success of marriage by selecting the type of man with whom they will be happy.

Worse still, although they plan to marry, they do not plan to be good wives. In a nebulous way every girl probably hopes that her husband will be happy and satisfied with her, but I doubt if one woman in a thousand ever sits down before she marries and formulates a working plan for being a good wife. She doesn't say to herself that she is going to be good tempered, and industrious, and thrifty, and a crackerjack good cook and housekeeper.

She leaves to luck the details of making the man she has married happy. She has no plan, and that is why so many marriages never get anywhere except to the divorce court.

Whether you are a man or a woman, quit being a drifter. Find out what you want to do, and do it. Work with a definite plan in mind and you will succeed. Otherwise, you are bound to fail.

LETTERS TO "THE TIMES."

Let 'Em All In.

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 27.—[To the Editor of The Times:] The following is quoted from the Los Angeles City Club Bulletin of August 26:

"One of the theories of government that is receiving some attention in this country is government based upon representation of interests. Instead of electing a representative for so many thousands of people, allow the different interests in the community, such as labor, banking, manufacturing, farming, etc., to have a voice."

Yes. Why not let the clergy elect a representative to the Legislature; but the Protestants would not want one acceptable to the Catholics and the Hebrews might not agree to the choice of either. Probably the Christian Science candidate would not be acceptable to the Methodists.

Yes. The medical group should, of course, be represented in the legislative halls of the "dear people." The allopaths would, forsooth, delight in sending a chiropractor and vice versa.

The grocers, the butchers, the book-keepers, the stenographers, the druggists, the haberdashers, the tobacconists, the stationers, the street sweepers should all have representatives in the City Council, the Board of County Supervisors, the Legislature, Congress. Oh, the teachers! I almost forgot them, although I am one. The high school teachers' council should elect a representative; the grades, another; the principals, a representative; the kindergarten, another, and so on. Oh! I forget the Pullman porters; they have no union and are surely entitled to a representative.

This is an age of fool ideas; you can believe most anything you want if you are only gullible enough. But I still have faith in the representative government, a government of representatives of the people. This idea of government by representatives of the people is not very old. Why not give it a chance? It was only a short time ago that Abraham Lincoln said: "We here highly resolve that the dead shall not have died in vain, that this government, of the people, by the people and for the people shall not perish from the earth." Our government is young yet. Give it a chance. Away with a lot of foreign nonsense from Europe!

Too Much Law.

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 27.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Los Angeles residents do not have to climb trees. Way back in the Miocene age a pompous, pride-puffed ruler, lying awake nights to start something, enunciated the doctrine that "ignorance of the law excused no man;" he had laws minutely scribed and tacked upon the tallest trees, where they could not be seen. If history is being quoted correctly, any unfortunate attempting to climb the trees for a peek was beheaded or something.

Ages have rolled by, but the result of His Majesty's humor is still with us, with the tree scheme little, if any, improved upon.

Laws are now numbered or sectioned, instead of treed. If any Los Angelene can offhand say what crime he is guilty of under ordinance umteen thousand and sixty, new series, he is safe; otherwise he may be patrol-wagoned to a magistrate.

A late ordinance provides practically that unless one's lot is cleared satisfactorily to some inspector the owner is subject to a penalty if unfortunate enough to be a resident of Los Angeles. A fortunate nonresident owner may have more brush on his lot that there is on a rube's chin, while your lot—not chin—may have been cleared, but not satisfactorily to an inspector, whereupon you draw a summons. He does not.

Every embryo statesman stalking around in plain clothes, his pockets bulging with a bunch of new laws ready to be sprung when he "gets there" should be more than encouraged, he should be boosted, in or out, we won't say which. There is a crying need for more laws, they are needed as badly as a babe needs castoria. We need city planning laws, art laws, zoning laws to hamper realty holdings and honing laws to Gillette our vacant lots. Taxes are nothing to what they should be. Another mortgage or trust deed may not bankrupt the lot owner—try it—soak him until it does. All of which is submitted as pointers for our representatives.

R. D. LITTLE.

Didn't Know Him.

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 27.—[To the Editor of The Times:] In reading the local expose of the operations of C. W. French and associates I notice that mention is made of the Lower California iron mines in connection with one of French's alleged schemes for the establishment of steel plants on the Pacific Coast.

No stockholder in the companies owning the Lower California iron mines has ever met Mr. French, nor has any stockholder therein, nor the companies themselves ever had any communication, connections or dealings, direct or, so far as known, indirect, with Mr. French or any of his associates.

The only contact the Lower California iron properties ever had with Mr. French was some twenty years ago, prior to the present ownership, when Mr. French, backed by certain local capitalists, attempted to promote the $100,000,000 Pacific Steel Company and endeavored to acquire therefor all iron mines on the Pacific Coast, located in British Columbia, California, Utah, Arizona and Lower California.

The interests behind the Lower California iron mines are well able at the proper time to finance the project without the assistance of Mr. French or any other promoters.

Registers a Kick.

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 20. — [To the Editor of The Times:] I have lived in Los Angeles for about twenty-eight years, and have either read or subscribed for The Times for twenty-two years; therefore, I feel that I have a right to kick and criticise, and I am going to do both in regard to your stand about putting the library building in Pershing Square. I cannot understand your position in the matter. Los Angeles needs more downtown parks instead of spoiling the only one we have, and by putting a library there it would do so. A building 100 by 150, which some of your articles state would be the size, would be ridiculous for ground area for a city of the boasted wealth and prosperity of Los Angeles. Your argument on the saving the cost of a site is on the same order, and it is such things which give our city the reputation of being cheap.

In your paper of last Saturday I noted that the Women's Athletic Club of Los Angeles have just bought 145-foot frontage on Flower street, between Eighth and Ninth streets for $143,106. This is large enough for the building you recommend, so why spoil Pershing Square for that amount of money? And a location similar to the above is good for a library, especially when you take into consideration the prospective growth of the town.

My idea in writing you is this, however: For years we have heard of a civic center. A start towards this was made in buying the Temple Block; then Normal Hill—neither suitable. Why doesn't your paper take this opportunity to start action on a decision on a section large enough for all buildings for such a center, and let the library be the first of such a group? You are a booster for the north end of town, and I agree with you—and this would be a chance to locate this in an area beginning north from Second street from Main street to Hill street, inclusive; plenty close enough, and can be bought very reasonably with only two buildings in it of value: The Times Building and the Bank of Italy International Building.

Understand, I haven't a foot of downtown property, nor have any of my friends in the section mentioned. I think the civic center idea has been "played horse" with so much and so long here that it is time for some people with proper influence and with the interests of Los Angeles at heart should take a stand right now and no more "let George do it."

B. W. SMITH.

Highest in the World.

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 19. — [To the Editor of The Times:] I have just read your article (Watch Fires Untended.) There is more than one colored gentleman hiding in that same wood pile, the Master Plumbers' Association, Journeyman Plumbers' Union and the supply dealers of plumbing goods, also the manufacturers of plumbing goods are concealed in that same cord of wood. Plumbing rules are local regulations, the aim of plumbing inspection and plumbing regulation is supposed to be to have all work done in a workmanlike manner and to see that the materials used are sound and free from defects and to insure a sanitary condition, but the gentlemen above referred to have a different view of the matter. The plumbers' union use all of their influence as voters to have the rules and regulations as drafted so to make all the work possible on a job, thereby making more work for them, and also to make the work as complicated as possible, so that only members of their union can do the work. The Master Plumbers' Association in many locations have about the same views as the plumbers' union do, and where these two factions work together and get what they want they generally make it interesting for the property owner that has to pay the bills. And for that reason the cost of installing plumbing work is higher in Los Angeles than it is in any other city in the world. I have been engaged in the plumbing business for over twenty years.

HARBOR BONDS BRING PREMIUM.

Open Bid System Vindicates Mushet, He Asserts.

Points Out Avoidable Loss in Hellman Deal.

Advertising of the Securities Urged by Treasurer.

The advantage of selling Los Angeles municipal securities under open bidding at public sale was shown yesterday when the City Council sold to Eldredge & Company of New York $1,200,000 of 1919 Harbor improvement bonds at par and with a premium to the city of $27,648, as compared with the recent secret sale to the Irving H. Hellman syndicate at a discount, of $13,500,000 bonds for the purchase of the Edison distributing lines.

"It pays to advertise," was the comment made by Councilman Mushet, chairman of the finance committee of the City Council when the ten bids received for the harbor bonds were read at the open meeting of the Council, which was attended by representatives of a score of bond houses. Councilman Mushet fought the secret bond sale of the power bonds to the Hellman syndicate, and the Councilman declared that the results of the open method of disposing of the harbor bonds was complete, concrete proof that his stand was correct.

The defense of the Councilmen yesterday, who voted for the sale of the power bonds, was that litigation had injured the market value of the power bonds, and that even if they had been offered for sale publicly bids not as favorable as the Hellman bid would have been received.

The ten bidders for the harbor bonds and their bids yesterday were Security Trust & Savings Bank, premium $12,100; First National Bank, premium $3433; Frick, Martin & Co., premium $12,720; Bank of Italy, premium $17,288; Eldredge & Co., premium $27,840; Harris Trust & Savings Bank, premium, $13,320; California Bank and Citizens National Bank, premium, $18,527; Irving H. Hellman, premium $19,103; Blyth, Witter & Co. of premium, $27,732; Guaranty Co. of New York, premium $15,240.

City Treasurer Powell said, following yesterday's sale: "The result of the open bidding for the harbor bonds was exceedingly satisfactory. I have always contended that Los Angeles municipal securities should be advertised broadcast and sold openly by the City Council, and the bids received today prove the truth of my contention. While the bonds will bear 5 3-4 per cent interest, when the premium is taken into consideration the actual interest the city will pay will be but 5 54-100 per cent."

As a result of the sale of the $13,500,000 power bonds at a discount, the city will pay interest at the rate of $ 98-100 per cent and possibly a fraction over 6 per cent these securities. Councilman Mushet has declared on the floor of the Council that the sale of these bonds has cost the taxpayers at least $1,000,000 which they would not be compelled to pay had the bonds been advertised and sold openly.

BEAUTY BILL IS CAUSE OF SUIT.

Three Dollars for Massage is Sought in Small Claims Court.

Anna E. Cayvan, 431 South Grand avenue, owner of a beauty parlor, filed suit yesterday in the Small Claims Court against Hattie Yetton, 511 Boylston street, for $3 worth of beautification. The suit is for massage services. The case was set for hearing September 13 before Justice Hinshaw.

BARRING OF HAMON FILM HERE LOOMS.

Another step in the battle to prevent the showing in Los Angeles of "Fate," Clara Smith Hamon Gorman's cinema picture that depicts her life, was taken yesterday when the Public Welfare Committee of the City Council decided to recommend to the latter body that official action be taken to halt the exhibition of the film.

The committee will recommend that City Prosecutor Widney be instructed to forbid the showing of the much-heralded story of the Hamon woman's life.

Additional opposition to the picture developed yesterday in the statement of A. P. Michael Narlian, general counsel for the Los Angeles Film Exchange Board of Trade, which offered the first opposition to the film at the time the then Mrs. Hamon announced her intentions of showing her life on the screen, that it has the active cooperation of many picture interests in its fight to bar her from the silver sheet.

Mr. Narlian declared that his organization has the assistance of Glenn Harper, secretary of the Theater Owners' Association of California; Sidney Cohen, president of the same organization, and W. J. Reynolds, secretary of the Producers' Association of Los Angeles, on behalf of the Affiliated Motion-Picture Interests of Los Angeles.

TOD SLOAN IS SUED.

Effort Being Made to Collect for Goods Sold Once Noted Jockey.

James Tod Sloan, once famous jockey, and now manager of a Venice cafe, was made defendant yesterday in a suit by a New York corporation to recover a judgment of $859.94, including interest, obtained in New York for goods sold. The suit was brought by the 110 West Thirty-ninth street Holding Company, Inc. The plaintiff is represented by Attorney G. C. Mansfield.

THOUSAND DOLLARS TO AID FUND.

Orange County Acts to Help All-Year Club; Long Beach Drive Begins.

Almost coincident with the announcement yesterday that the Orange County Board of Supervisors had made a cash contribution of $1000 on behalf of the county for the initial summer advertising campaign of the All-Year Club of Southern California, the club's executive committee was advised that Long Beach has its fund-raising campaign for the all-year movement definitely under way.

A carefully organized campaign has been mapped out by the committee, which was named by the Long Beach Chamber of Commerce, to obtain a $10,000 annual quota. According to the plans the hotel and apartment-house owners will pledge $5000; the Long Beach Real Estate Board, $2000; transportation companies, $1000, and the balance is to come from the banks and retail stores. Lynn Ballard, executive secretary of the Long Beach Chamber of Commerce, is largely responsible for the systematic plan.

The committee which has been designated by the Long Beach Chamber to raise the money, is made up of E. R. Woods, chairman; W. R. Osborne, George Burbank, W. J. Reid, W. H. Reider, W. H. Young, and J. B. Winters. The committee is to be known as the Long Beach branch of the All-Year Club of Southern California and it is intended that the organization's membership shall include every business man benefited by tourist business.

The Sun Drug Company yesterday pledged $500 a year to the club's treasury.

The story of the the All-Year Club and the part it is playing in the development of Southern California was related yesterday by D. H. Jones of the executive committee at the regular weekly luncheon of the Lions' Club of Pasadena. The Kiwanis Club of Long Beach has invited Mr. Jones to speak on the same subject at its luncheon next Tuesday.

Balks at City Hall as Fire Engine's Home.

The trustees of the City of Eagle Rock are threatened with the loss of the city hall. The building was leased to the city by Anna D. Feaster, owner, for city offices. A vault was installed and everything was peaceful until the trustees, it is said, sought to house the city fire engine in the building.

The owner learned of this and served notice of a recission of the lease. The city was obdurate, it seems, and held onto the building. It was then served with a three days' notice to get out, and was still in possession yesterday when the owner filed suit to recover $225 treble rent, and $10 a day for each day the city continues to withhold possession. Attorney Rollin L. McNitt represents the owner of the building.

WHERE THE SHAMROCK GROWS.

If the Irish could get along with the Irish Ireland would be a lovely spot to live in.

AFTER TAKING.

When a young woman is wedded to her art there is not much prospect of a quarrel over naming the baby.

TAKING OFF.

There were over 7500 suicides in the United States during the first half of the year and this is the greatest number ever known in the history of the country. There are a lot of folks who cannot patiently put up with the jazz band.

OVER THE LIMIT.

All along the seashore a wonderful interest in long-distance swimming is noticed this season. On the Atlantic Coast the number of men who can swim out to the three-mile limit without fatigue is remarkable. Some take the swim just for a nightcap—and get it.

SPEEDING DISARMAMENT.

The nations of the world are indebted to the United States to the extent of nearly $10,000,000,000. Uncle Sam has no idea of playing Shylock. Neither has he the intention of forgiving all his debtors and presenting a clean slate. Nevertheless this Old World debt can be used in a discreet and persuasive way to speed up a program of world disarmament. If the United States could prove its own sincerity by disarming and refuse financial accommodation to governments not prompt in following suit there would be a general disposition to join the parade.

THE CHANGE OF HEART.

The Minister of Transportation in the Cabinet of the Far Eastern Republic was formerly an organizer in the I.W.W. in this country. Whereas once he was shouting for more pay and less work he himself is now toiling eighteen hours a day and asking that his men put in ten to fourteen hours every day on a mere promise to pay. He likes the work, at that, and takes pride in the fact that he has repudiated every tenet of his old organization. When a man learns to respect his labor and take pride in achievement there isn't much chance for the I.W.W. to gain a foothold.

MATTER OF RAIMENT.

Advices from eastern temples of fashion are that the new lingerie for our ladies is to have long sleeves and high necks. The women are going to be all dressed up for bed whether they are for any other occasion or not. Women are peculiar performers. They wouldn't go to a dinner in their night gowns and yet the nightie is the most modest and encompassing garment of the whole feminine layout. No girl could be brazen enough to wear in her chamber the raiment she dons for the dance. When she gets into a really modest garb she turns out the gas so that none may behold. When she has her low necks and open backs she goes into the glare of the electric lights to the accompaniment of a jazz band. This is a funny world.

A CURB MARKET.

Chicago Aldermen are complaining because miles of the city streets are being used as a curb market for used Lizzies. In some sections the highways are made almost impassable by the crush of flivvers. Thousands of these cars are manned by the owners themselves, who are thereby using the city streets as a grand salesroom for the used-car industry. The depression in the building trades was blamed for much of this condition. Thousands of workers bought cars on the installment plan and, after being out of work for some months, found themselves incapable of keeping up the payments. Now they are selling the cars as best they can—hoping to clear themselves by the transactions. More than that, they are cluttering up the streets of a great city.

TAX PROBLEMS.

Senator Reed Smoot, who is the economic expert of the Senate Finance Committee, is preparing a program for taxation that has but six chapters. He would draw all tax revenues from six sources and his plan would make it a comparatively simple thing for an ordinary human being to make out his tax statement. He would levy taxes on incomes, corporation profits, tobacco, inheritances, sales and imports. All these might be easily assessed and collected without much trouble or expense. Senator Smoot figures that several thousand clerks and officials could be spared from the service with the adoption of his plan and at the same time the government would derive nearly four billions in revenue with much less friction and objection than is now experienced. Of course, the general tax of 1½ per cent on manufacturers' sales would flabbergast the heavy item of revenue, but this would be reasonably fair and would be easy to assess and collect. It would be spread over the whole nation and, while the consumer would pay it, he would not have the fact offensively paraded in front of his beak. We will never have a tax we like and our idea of a just one is one that is paid by the other fellow; but Senator Smoot is a practical authority on tax problems and may be safely listened to with attention and respect.

WARRING AGAINST WAR.

"As a man thinketh, so is he." Once perhaps in a generation or a century a new idea flashes like the lightning from a somber cloud and the face of the earth is changed. Sometimes it is beneficent, often malignant; for a comforting error is always more appealing than a tragic truth. When the framers of the Declaration of Independence affirmed that the divine right of kings was only an aristocratic fiction, that all men were born equal and possessed an equal right to life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness the hour of imperialism struck; tyranny was confronted by a force more devastating than powder.

But when Trotzky proclaimed that "a country without capital would be a country without crime" the effect was still more immediate. The error of the idea did not militate against its general application in the most populous of the world powers. It was not the ruthless misuse of force alone that caused the communities of Bolshevist Russia to turn over to the government all that they possessed. In territory that no regiment of the Red Guard ever invaded all private possession of material things was voluntarily surrendered. The people had passed under the dominion of an idea; and it was not until the masses were plunged into the most abject misery of which history contains a record that they consented to abandon it.

In the early centuries of our civilization two widely divergent creeds were promulgated, that of the gospels and of the Koran. And the spread of Mohammedanism was much more rapid than that of Christianity. Even at the present day the followers of Mohammed are more numerous than those of Christ. For fifteen centuries truth and error have been in violent conflict and the ultimate triumph of truth in all parts of the earth has not yet been achieved.

We believe in the ultimate triumph of right, but cross currents in the moral ether, like the false philosophy of Marx, Henry George and Lenin, destroy the work of centuries and cause delays that seem interminable. Perhaps it is because we seek to hasten unduly the process of evolution, whose course may be as fixed as the process of the suns. The span of human existence is only a moment in the eternity of time, and each wishes that the good which he envisions should be accomplished before his spirit passes from the earth.

II.

ONE lesson which we have learned in the hard school of experience is that truth moves slowly, gropingly and can be measured only by the lengthening and diminishing shadows of error by which it is accompanied. Augustus proclaimed to his Roman legions at the close of a successful campaign against the barbarians the ultimate dawn of universal peace; and the doors of the temple of Janus, always open while Rome was at war, were closed and barred. What oceans of blood, what mountains of mangled human forms have since been offered as a sacrifice to the insatiate gods of war!

And yet the idea of universal peace prevails, more dominant than ever before in the centuries. The error of the idea that conquest is glorious and profitable has been slowly but irresistibly exposed. War has lost its glamour and peace has assumed a new radiance. As the instincts of the brute have yielded to the moral dominance of the spirit the love of battle has been displaced by a contempt for purely physical prowess. Men will still offer their lives in the defense of national honor and security, but no longer to propitiate the vicious lust of conquest.

Between the Rome of the Caesars and the Washington of the Presidents twenty bloody centuries intervene. When Augustus addressed his victorious legions the idea of a new world beyond the yet uncharted seas had not yet illuminated a human intellect. The lightning was still imprisoned in the cloud. Yet we are now confronted by the glorious vision of the five great powers of the world assembling in a time of peace to voluntarily renounce further dreams of conquest, to disband their armies, dismantle their navies and accept an international court of justice as the supreme arbiter of disputes between peoples and governments.

Twenty centuries have been necessary for the scientific and ethical development of the idea of world peace. If the goal is finally achieved future generations will group the whole of those two thousand years into a single epoch, which will be known as the Dark Ages.

Men of broad vision and varied experience have looked forward during all those years to this eventful day, envisioned across the centuries by the Christ on the summit of Mt. Calvary; and to those who have doubted one can hear his lips murmur, "O ye of little faith!"

III.

EVEN in the darkest centuries of blood and tyranny the torch of peace burned on some obscure altar. Charlemagne believed that the triumph of the Cross would put an end to war. A priest advocated universal peace in his counsels to Philip the Good. Franklin said in the midst of the Revolution that "there never was a good war nor a bad peace." And the readers of The Times are familiar with Gen. Otis's writings on the subject of a world federation to put an end to international warfare.

The great builder of The Times served his country in three wars, first as a private in the ranks and, later, as an officer in high command. The promotion which he received in the Civil War for bravery in action is proof of his personal valor; yet he agreed with Gen. Sherman that "War is hell," and he dreamed of the day when civilization should close and bar its gates against it. Gen. Otis was well aware, however, of the obstacles that prevented the immediate realization of this dream of the ages. Sanguine in the ultimate achievement, he wrote before the World War began that another bloody international struggle would probably be necessary to quicken the perception of the present generation to the actual horrors of so-called civilized warfare.

But when the conflict was at its height he felt the electric spark of the idea that the time was propitious for launching an international peace campaign. While others were talking war he was writing of peace, advocating that the treaty by which the terrible conflict would be ended should be broad enough to provide against the recurrence of such a catastrophe. Death claimed him with his final brochure unfinished; but he left to his successors on The Times the admonition to never cease in their efforts to promote a world peace conference. He held that to be equally as important as winning the war.

IV.

IN FURTHERANCE of that policy The Times has been tireless in its advocacy of an association of nations to promote and preserve international peace. Although a Republican newspaper, it divested itself of all partisanship and supported loyally and vigorously the peace aspirations of President Wilson. It regarded the covenant of the League of Nations as a great stride in that direction. While not assenting to all its provisions The Times held that it embodied the central idea and that errors in form could be corrected by later amendments.

In the same spirit The Times now hails the approaching disarmament conference, regarding it as a very necessary step in the development of the fundamental idea of world peace. The time has arrived when the old dogma of successful conquest, "In time of peace prepare for war," should be definitely and irrevocably refuted. In time of peace let us erect such international safeguards that future war will be impossible.

The Times trusts that all the people of the United States, without party distinction, will make the WILL TO PEACE so dominant that no petty or political considerations can prevail against it. The power of that idea is more forcible than all the governments and armaments in existence. When the five great peoples of the world are dominated by a single thought, that of building bridgeheads for defense against war, the hour has struck when such an accomplishment is possible.

The Fishing Seems Good This Season.

WEST VIRGINIA IN DISGRACE.

President Harding has been compelled to make preparations for sending Federal troops to restore order in the West Virginia coal district, where striking members of the miners' union have been terrorizing the communities where pits are operated on the American plan. The miners' union has been attempting for more than a year to force closed-shop conditions on the coal industry in West Virginia. During that time scores of independent workers have been murdered and property valued at millions has been destroyed. It seems that the Governor of the State believed in peaceful suasion and declined to make use of the State Guard to restore order in the beleaguered districts.

Politics and violence combined to render an extreme hazard to life and property in three West Virginia counties. While the strikers were rioting the heads of the miners' union were making threats of political annihilation for anyone who dared interfere to restore order. "If the owners will unionize the mines," said President Lewis of the miners' union, "the trouble will instantly cease. They know the cause, but will not apply the remedy."

Such cynicism comes as a surprise to us of Southern California, where we place the welfare of the community before the greed of any labor union, but it is typical of the tyranny which the union leaders have exercised in a number of eastern industrial districts. Back of the miners' union is a long record of lawlessness. A majority of its members are said to be unnaturalized; many of them can neither speak nor read the English language. They form a class of workers who turn readily to insurrection and violence. Their ignorance of American institutions makes them easy victims for radical and revolutionary agitators.

West Virginia has a large industrial population and a comparatively small agricultural and urban population. So the political influence of the unions is considerable. If all the members of the unions were naturalized it is possible they could poll a sufficient number of votes to control the State elections. The result of their numerical strength is that politicians, who have secured State office, are chary about offending the leaders of the miners. They prefer the ill will of the unorganized mass of the population, which is a political nonentity.

Out of this confusion has come a reign of lawlessness in West Virginia. Several weeks ago Gov. Morgan called on the President for Federal troops to preserve order; but the Governor was then informed that he had not made use of the State troops to put down the insurrection, that it was the duty of the Federal government to interfere only when violence was beyond State control. Still the Governor declined to call out the State troops to end the rioting and plundering of the striking miners. Responding to a personal appeal made by a committee of distinguished citizens of West Virginia, led by Senator Sutherland, the President issued a proclamation Tuesday ordering the rioters to disband and giving them until noon Thursday to retire to their homes or to leave the State. At the same time two regiments of Federal troops were ordered to hold themselves in readiness for the immediate occupation of the counties in which disturbances were taking place.

It was the weakness of the State government of West Virginia that made the reign of labor-union terror possible. If the Governor had been resolute in the beginning scores of lives and millions of property would have been saved. There was no denying the fact that the strikers were resorting to intimidation and violence, that they were burning and slaying in violation of all written law. But the State officials seemed to think that their membership in the miners' union gave them special license to use force as an argument in an industrial dispute. Murder is murder under any law; and a membership card in the miners' union is not a legal defense.

For several months West Virginia has been the one State in which life and property were not protected by the officials of the law. When the disturbances started the sheriffs announced that they did not possess sufficient forces of deputies to cope with the rioters. They called upon the State for aid, apparently in order to save their political faces. The State officials, in turn, called upon the Federal government.

The President has decided to act; and it is probable that the miners' union will rue the day that it forced Federal troops to enter West Virginia. Following the troops will come the representatives of the Department of Justice to determine the cause of the disturbances and to mete out punishment to the offenders.

President Lewis of the miners' union has already started for cover by informing the President by wire that he stands ready to co-operate with the Federal government in restoring order. He now deplores the loss of life and property that has taken place. But the Federal authorities will not be fooled by such protestations. They know full well that he could have restored order at any time by ordering the union miners to commit no further deeds of violence.

THE ONE GREAT SUBJECT.

Local crimes which are given such prominence in the newspapers are fortunately not the engrossing topics of conversation at the tables of Angelenos. At hotels in this city, which many of the erroneously informed believe to be given over to frivolity, one sees groups earnestly debating matters of international import. Among these subjects the question of disarmament and the forthcoming conference at Washington seem to take the first place. If this is the case in Los Angeles one may well conclude that similar conditions exist elsewhere. There can be little doubt that all over the country the problem of cutting down the competitive armament of the nations is engrossing the attention of the people to an extent which would have been thought impossible seven years ago. Of course all the leading newspapers of the United States, together with the high-class magazines and weeklies, are devoting special attention to this topic and many illuminating articles are helping the public to obtain new ideas regarding it. Among the many notable contributions to the literature on the subject is one in the Atlantic Monthly by Frank I. Cobb to whom it is stated the New York World has owed for many years the reputation of printing a most vigorous and cogent editorial page. He deals with the economic aspects of disarmament. All the great nations, including the United States, are groaning under the burden of taxation. Mr. Cobb remarks that the one point at which an extensive reduction of taxation can be made, which reduction will have an instantaneous economic effect, is military expenditure. The world hopefully looks to the conference at Washington to arrive at some means to bring this about.

INVITATION FOR WIMBLEY.

BY E. A. BRININSTOOL.

"The Singletons have invited us to spend Sunday with them at their cottage at the beach," announced Mrs. Wimbley at the supper table, "so don't you go and make any other plans, for we are going down there together Saturday night and I know we will have a delightful time. I haven't been to the beach but once this summer."

"Huh!" grunted Wimbley, "Singleton didn't say anything about needing a little help with that porch he is adding to his beach cottage, did he? No? Well, that's his game, all right. He told me he was going to do it, and I can see right away where he expects me to desecrate the Lord's Day lifting scantling, sawing joists and pounding my fingers. He is just keeping silent on the subject and expects I will show up wearing my new summer suit and then pitch in and ruin it by handling lumber all day."

"But you shouldn't talk that way at——"

"Shouldn't, hey? Well, Singleton is a foxy old codger, all right, but he can't work any such racket on me, Mrs. Wimbley. The paper states that we may expect a spell of hot weather next week, and when you see your liege lord playing wood butcher out in the hot sun, in a white shirt and duck pants, just to oblige a cheap skate like Singleton, you can ticket him for the foolish factory.

"I have been duped by Singleton. He invited me to go out to his cabin in the canyon one Saturday to stay over Sunday. I was to get a good rest and was promised an elegant time and a bully good dinner of fried trout and rabbit pie. Then, after walking nine miles over the toughest kind of a trail, until my feet were a mass of blisters, we reached his blamed old shack an hour after dark.

"Will I ever forget that night? Not as long as Providence allows me to retain my faculties. Singleton had been bragging of the accommodations at his darned old shack. He fed me a picked-up supper of cold, hard-boiled eggs, potato chips and dill pickles and then put me to bed on an old, tumble-down couch, with bed coverings that were filled with cooties and fleas, and I never closed my eyes all night. It was the longest night the Lord ever made.

"Then he routed me out at 4 o'clock to go fishing. I didn't care to go, for I could hardly hobble, but I did it just to oblige Singleton. All we caught was about a million 'skeeter bites and the worst mess of poison oak you ever saw. Singleton said it was because the wind wasn't right that the fish didn't bite, but I know a darned sight better. I don't believe there was a fish in the whole creek, and I was almost blind from the swelling produced by that poison oak for almost a week.

"I'll pass over the rotten breakfast he dished up when we got back. He may have meant all right, but as a cook Singleton is about the rankest failure that ever came over the pike, and I've seen some mighty bum ones. I wouldn't have fed a starving tramp on such truck—unless I had a deep-seated grudge against him.

"I was all ready to lie down and take a nap after that, for I was just fagged out, but Singleton asked if I would mind helping him tote some rocks down to the cabin to build a big fireplace. Then he wanted to get some logs out to build a barn to keep his horse in when he came up horseback from town. He said the whole thing wouldn't take half an hour.

"So, of course, I had to oblige him; but I'll tell you right now, Mrs. Wimbley, that I don't want any more of Singleton's Sunday entertainment. After I had worked an hour and split my trousers from base to dome, broken my $14 glasses and snapped my silk suspenders I dropped one of those danged rocks on my foot and it was all off. You will remember that I was laid up in that measly cabin a week, with the fleas, mice and all kinds of bugs and vermin playing tag over, under and on top of me, before I could get back to town—and I had to be toted down the trail on a stretcher, even then, at an expense of twenty dollars.

"No, Mrs. Wimbley, you don't get ME down to Singleton's cottage by the sea, for just as sure as shooting he will want me to dig a foundation for his garage, paint his house or lug lumber for his new sidewalk, and I'll be jiggered if I will stand for any such mule work. If Singleton thinks that he can rope me in by any such flimsy invitation he has another guess coming, for I wouldn't go down to his blamed old beach shack if I knew a turkey dinner was waiting for me, and you can tell him I said so and that I say I can see as far through a grindstone as the next man."

ENDURANCE LESSONS OF WAR.

If there is one thing which has been made clear to us in the last six years it is that communities and individuals have a capacity for endurance far exceeding all rational estimates in the previous years. The enemy endures for years on a diet which, by all scientific tests, is insufficient to support life for more than a few months; the hunger striker, who ought to have died in three weeks, lives on for six or seven; the nation which is manifestly bankrupt carries on with all the appearance of solvency and even prosperity for an apparently unlimited time; the strike which ought to have ended in complete exhaustion at the end of a month continues unabated after two months, and the community which ought to have been strangled by it is alive and cheerful and comparatively indifferent.—[Westminster Gazette.

THIS IS NO JOKE.

Recently there appeared a joke in Punch in which a plumber was reprimanded by another workman for sharpening a lead pencil because "it was a carpenter's job." Doubtless many persons laughed at this as a good joke, but it is also characteristic of the attitude of a great many people regarding present-day economic questions.—[Cleveland Press.

EDITORIAL OPINION.

Selection of Secretary Hughes to head the American delegation to the international conference on disarmament is another indication of that happy faculty of President Harding for making splendid appointments to varying types of offices. What could be more logical than to appoint the Secretary of State, whose business it is to keep his fingers constantly upon the world's fevered pulse? He knows more about the complicated foreign relations of the nation than does anyone associated with the administration, not even excepting the President, for the simple reason that the function of his office compels the Secretary to make that his sole responsibility.—[Manchester Union.

Before the war the government employees in Washington numbered less than 40,000. At the time of the highest activity 117,000 were on the roll. For two and one-half years the official nickerance has been swinging right and left and yet there are still on the pay roll 83,000 employees at the national capital alone. This gives an idea of the difficulties surrounding the men who are trying to cut the Federal garments in accordance with the cloth.—[Lincoln State Journal.

Senator France went to Russia with his mind made up. He found what he wanted to find, no more and no less. He comes back, and his early outgivings have more soviet unction than those of the soviets themselves, in these days of famine and near-panic for the soviets.—[Philadelphia Ledger.

After a policeman captures a bandit, particularly if he shoots one, he should be discharged. The newspaper attention he receives because of the exploit will ruin him for future usefulness as a peace officer. This principle is true in all human affairs: after any man attracts great public applause and attention thereafter his Smart Aleck side becomes so prominent that he is disagreeable.—[E. W. Howe's Monthly.

Postmaster-General Hays announces that he will be glad to have constructive criticism of his department. Be patient, Mr. Hays: the public has hardly recovered from the exhaustion of criticising the Burleson administration of the post-office.—[Providence Journal.

Job was a patient man, but he should have lived to see 100 Louisville fishermen sitting on creekside all day Sunday waiting for fish to bite and permitting flies, gnats and mosquitoes to bite and calling sunset the end of a perfect day.—[Louisville Courier-Journal.

RIPPLING RHYMES.

A GOOD FRONT.

"A man's no older than he feels,"
I cry in cheerful tones, as I limp by on aching heels, with stiff and creaking bones. And I imply, my friends, by this, that I am feeling young, that in my form no spark plugs miss, no bolts are bent or sprung. My false teeth slide around my face, my truss is upside down, my liver pad gets out of place as I toil through the town. I have a crick along my back and stitches in my side, and yet I cry no hoarse "Alack!" but meet men cheery-eyed; for they would rather hear me tell how young and blithe I feel, than listen for a weary spell to some unhappy spiel. I go to pieces very fast, my eyes are weak and dim, my neck is in a plaster cast, I need a wooden limb; I daily don my laurel wreath and haunt the busy marts to buy me gutta percha teeth and other store-made parts. I need more extras than a Ford to keep me on my feet, and yet by me no man is bored as I jog down the street. For when they ask me how I am I say, "I'd have you know I'm young as Mary's little lamb, whose fleece was white as snow!" They look at me through kindly tears and cry, "Long may you thrive! You're surely younger than your years and very much alive!" If I began some dreary tale of sickness and decay, they'd wish I'd hit the long, long trail without an hour's delay.

WALT MASON.

AIN'T IT JUST SO?

Professor Dink Beeson says one
Of the strange and romantic things
About nature is the way she Hides her rarest gifts to man in
The most outlandish places and
The Bering Sea whale has a disease in his tummy and ambergris
Is formed and behold man takes
The substance and with it gives
An added fragrance to the rarest perfume my lady has upon her
Toilet table, and again a grain
Of sand finds its way into the Inner workings of the South Sea
Oyster and behold with the passing of the years mister oyster
Builds in the dismal rheumatic depths of the ocean a pearl to give An added beauty to my lady's Throat, and she puts a dye in
A bug and hides him away in the Cactus wastes of Mexico and South America and man gathers him
Together seventy thousand of him
To the pound and has a dye to Give a brilliancy to my lady's Garments they can get no
Other way.

THREL FALL.

SALESMANSHIP.

"Many a business has been wrecked," says a recent writer, "because of the inability of the proprietor to resist successful salesmanship."

This, I should say, is a very wise and important remark. It is creditable for a man to be a good salesman, but his genius may wreck an ordinarily good man with a wife and children dependent on him.

A smart salesman able to force goods on buyers may be fairly likened to a smart propagandist who is able to force a bond issue on a community or war on a country. We must learn to resist smart salesmanship. If the smart salesman represents bad oil wells, bad wars, unnecessary automobiles or vacations he is a calamity. And there are hundreds of thousands of such smart salesmen.—[E. W. Howe in Howe's Monthly.

A STRANGER AT HOME.

I wander around in the lovely home,
The house with its walls of gray—
The windows are French and the floors hardwood,
The light "indirect," they say—
Mahogany buffets, a Pullman nook,
Built-ins and a tiled-in bath,
But where is the hall with its winding stairs,
Well plastered with lime and lath—
The banisters shining and slick from slides,
The barefooted boy that shouts—
The hand-braided rug at the big screen door—
The old yellow cat that pouts?
No scent of the wood in the open grate,
But fumes of a gas fireplace—
I lounge or sit in the corners far—
No family hearth to face;
I wander around in the lovely house
And linger beside the spring,
The meadow lark sings his enchanting lays,
But loudly the door bells ring!
I answer the call and the stranger asks,
"Will you sell this home? If so,
I'm listing these Spanish colonials now—
They readily sell, you know."
My dream is no more and the palms wave on—
The real estate man gets "No!"
The barefooted boy of the yesterday,
I glimpse through the open door—
Sung over his ears he is tying a cap,
"We're flying to Frisco now,"
He's calling to neighbors across the way,
"We'll sure make old Blimpy plow!"
I wander again in the lovely house,
A stranger at home, it seems—
I'm on the swift tide of the modern times,
Yet fondly I drift into dreams.

To add to the interminable mix-up in the enforcement of the Volstead Act a Michigan judge has held that vehicles used in the transportation of liquor cannot be confiscated. It has been the universal rule to sell them. The United States Supreme Court will be asked to pass on this important question. The courts continue to make it easier for the law violators.

A STRANGER AT HOME.

I wander around in the lovely home.
The house with its walls of gray—
The windows are French and the floors hardwood,
The light "indirect," they say—
Mahogany buffets, a Pullman nook,
Built-ins and a tiled-in bath,
But where is the hall with its winding stairs,
Wall plastered with lime and hair—
The banisters shining and slick from slides,
The barefooted boy that shouts—
The hand-braided rug at the big screen door—
The old yellow cat that pouts?
No scent of the wood in the open grate,
But fumes of a gas fireplace—
I lounge or sit in the corners far—
No family hearth to face;
I wander around in the lovely house
And linger beside the spring,
The meadow lark sings his enchanting lays,
But loudly the door bells ring!
I answer the call and the stranger asks,
"Will you sell this home? If so,
I'm listing these Spanish colonials now—
They readily sell, you know."
My dream is no more and the palms wave on—
The real estate man gets "No!"
The barefooted boy of the yesterday,
I glimpse through the open door—
"We're flying to Frisco now,"
He's calling to neighbors across the way,
"We'll sure make old Blimpy plow!"
I wander again in the lovely house,
A stranger at home, it seems—
I'm on the swift tide of the modern times,
Yet fondly I drift into dreams.

Liquor, Bogus Labels, Stamps Taken During Raid.

Fully Equipped Distillery Within City Limits.

How a whisky distilling plant—the most complete ever confiscated here—was sent from New York and put in operation in the Southland was related yesterday in U. S. Commissioner Long's court by Frank Traverse. He, with Peter Sirach and Sam Fisher, is charged with having conducted a place for the manufacture of liquor.

When the prohibition enforcement officers made a descent upon the place, 227½ Bailey street, a week ago, they found a fifty-gallon still, sixty-eight gallons of manufactured moonshine, fifteen barrels of mash, 300 empty bottles and a quantity of extracts and flavors. Agent Wheeler, who made the capture, said it was the most extensive and up-to-date outfit he had ever seen. In addition there were hundreds of counterfeit labels, indicating that the contents of the bottles captured were genuine brands of whisky or brandy. When the prohibition officer appeared, two men jumped out of a window, but they were afterward captured.

PARTNERSHIP ADMITTED.

Traverse said there was a partnership existing among the three—Fisher, Sirach and himself, and the profits were to be divided. Fisher was to purchase the still and the ingredients, and loads of barley were delivered to the place. He said Fisher had paid them $150 each for their work. Traverse related that his father was a distiller in Germany, and it was from him he had learned the art. Traverse was a tailor out of work and in order to get back to his family in New York, he had accepted the work. He said the price agreed on for themoonshine was $15 a bottle. The arrangement went into effect the latter part of June, Traverse said.

STAMP COUNTERFEITED.

The testimony of Sirach, who has confessed the part he played in the conspiracy, has been held for future action.

In the examination of Traverse it developed that counterfeit revenue stamps were used by the makers of the contraband in order to give the bootleg stuff the "class" of bonded goods, and this, it is understood, will be the basis of another complaint against the trio, to be filed by Federal Service Agent Hazen to the Treasury Department.

Fisher, who lives at 2526 Malabar street, testified that the whisky he bought of Sirach and Traverse cost him $300, and that he had nothing to do with its manufacture. He knew of the existence of the still, however.

It developed on the recall of Traverse that, according to his testimony, the still was purchased in New York and shipped to Los Angeles and set up.

The case will be resumed today.

Because defense counsel, Jud Rush, was engaged in another court case, the hearing of Eddie Borden, actor, accused of manslaughter for the death of Mrs. Margaret Cassidy, was continued yesterday by Justice Hinshaw until September 7.

DIVORCE IS GRANTED TO MRS. BURCH.

Bishop's Daughter Given Decree and Also Custody of Four-Year-Old Son.

On the grounds of gross neglect of duty and abandonment for more than a year, Judge Hugh Means, granted a divorce in Lawrence, Kan., yesterday to Mrs. Allie Quayle Burch, wife of Arthur C. Burch, now in the County Jail here, under indictment and awaiting trial in connection with the murder of J. Belton Kennedy.

Judge Means, who heard testimony from only Mrs. Burch and her mother, granted the plaintiff's request that her maiden name of Allie Quayle be restored, and that she be given the custody of her four-year-old son, Courtland Burch. The decree will become absolute in six months, according to the Kansas laws.

Mrs. Burch filed suit against her husband several months ago. Recently she was reported to have said that she believed Burch to be innocent of the crime for which he was indicted. Mrs. Burch is a daughter of Bishop W. A. Quayle, one of the most prominent men in the Methodist Church.

When informed yesterday that his wife had obtained a divorce and had been given the custody of their son, Burch merely thanked his informant and remarked that he had nothing to say.

Counterfeiter Chief in Toils, Hazen's Belief.

With the arrest at San Diego yesterday of Charles Broman, alias Carl Olsen, Secret Service Agent Hazen of the Treasury Department believes he has found the source of much of the spurious silver coin that has been in circulation in this city and vicinity recently.

Broman was arrested at Redondo Beach a month ago on the charge of counterfeiting, but the government did not have enough evidence to hold him. He then transferred his activities to San Diego, where he was found trying to dispose of bogus 25-cent pieces, Mr. Hazen reports.

Operative Wasson made a trip to Torrance, where Broman lives, and found eighty-five 25-cent pieces and the paraphernalia for turning out the bad coins, he reports. Broman has also been operating at Ocean Beach of late, it is said by the Federal officials.

Auto Speeders on Ridge Route Will Get Limit.

Those who drive recklessly and at a high speed over the Ridge Route are to pay heavily. Justice was still some doubt as to whether Baird yesterday laid a heavy hand on those who violated State and county regulations for traffic on the twenty-nine miles of grades and curves, assessing fines aggregating $2400.

Max Weide of Porterville was fined $100 for going twenty-four miles an hour on an obstructed curve on the Ridge Route. Martin J. Martinson of Calipatria was fined $75 for going twenty-eight miles an hour on Newhall grade.

MEANS MIGHTY TRADE IMPETUS.

Consulting Engineer Discusses Boulder Canyon Project.

Urges Either Federal Handling or Private Development.

Discussing the Boulder Canyon reservoir project yesterday at the noon meeting of the City Club, J. B. Lippincott, consulting engineer and assistant to William Mulholland in the building of the Los Angeles Aqueduct, declared that the water of the Grand Canyon alone can produce as much power annually as would be generated by all the oil produced in California during the same time.

Speaking further of the Boulder Canyon project, Mr. Lippincott said: "If it is not adopted soon as a Federal project, then it would appear to me best to permit it to be undertaken as a private enterprise regulated by State and national authority as is provided in the Federal Power Act, provided it can be assured that the work will be done adequately and start promptly, and that the interests of the city of Los Angeles are fully protected as to the volume and rate for power."

He declared that too much importance is being attached to the question of whether the Boulder Canyon reservoir project shall be worked out under public ownership or private ownership publicly controlled, and not enough to the question of immediate procedure with this important work.

PROMPTNESS URGED.

"It is important for the development of our city and its tributary territory that we should proceed promptly with this enterprise," he said.

Describing the Colorado River and its tributaries, Mr. Lippincott said that the impounding of the waters of the Colorado River at Boulder Canyon, at a height of 500 feet above the stream will create a reserve of 25,000,000-acre-feet of water for irrigation and power purposes, and that more than 5,000,000 acres of land above and below the canyon can be successfully irrigated.

He quoted statements of the late Franklin K. Lane and officials of the United States Geological Survey to show that California's oil supply will be exhausted by 1933 and that the State must look largely to the hydroelectric possibilities within its borders for its motive power of the future.

"The Reclamation Service," he said, "in its report to Congress on the problems of the Imperial Valley, states that the Boulder Canyon dam, with a maximum depth of water of 542 feet, will produce 900,000 horsepower and regulate the floods to 50,000 second-feet and supply the irrigation demanded.

GOLD IN DOLLARS

"The total of these two power developments, producing 3,250,000 horsepower, exclusive of 1,000,000 horsepower available in the Grand Canyon National Park, if sold at one-half cent per kilowatt hour will yield an annual gross revenue of $100,500,000. From this power development within a radius of distribution of 400 miles it would be commercially possible to supply electricity to eight of our southwestern States.

"The present peak load of electrical energy in Los Angeles is about 200,000 horsepower. The total hydroelectric power produced in California is about 1,000,000 horsepower and the entire United States approximately nine times that amount.

"There are at the present time under operation five railroads, portions of whose lines could be electrified by the production of power of the Colorado River.

"There is a demand for pumping water for irrigation, especially in the Salt River Valley, lighting and transportation, besides many commercial manufacturing plants. The proposed water power developments of the mountain States would have a profound affect on the centers of manufacture."

The hearings for the building of the Boulder Canyon Dam will probably be heard in Washington in October next, he told his hearers.

Angelus Hotel is Leased to Minnesota Man.

The sale of the furnishings of the Angelus Hotel, together with a new lease to run for about eight years, was announced yesterday by Cason, Minster and Company, hotel brokers. The property was acquired by J. H. Tremain, formerly of Minneapolis, and the transaction involved a consideration of about $175,000.

The Angelus Hotel contains 210 rooms. It was furnished in 1903 by Gus F. Holmes at a cost of $200,000. Two years later Mr. Holmes was succeeded by Loomis brothers, and later the property was taken over by Paul Paris, from whom it was acquired by Mr. Tremain.

Mr. Tremain was formerly the owner and manager of the Radisson and Dyckman hotels, the two principal hostelries of Minneapolis, and he also has operated other hotels in the East. About $35,000 is to be spent by the new owner in the redecoration of the hotel, according to Cason, Minster and Company, and a new cafe also will be installed.

Mr. Paris plans to make an extended tour of the United States.

Wives Divorce Husbands Who Tired of Them.

Two wives who evidently did not please their husbands were granted divorces yesterday in Judge Myers's court. Mrs. Maud M. Osborn, who was awarded a decree from Preston O. Osborn, said her husband told her he would go to China if necessary to get away from her.

Mrs. Effie Tarpenning divorced Raleigh Tarpenning in the same court. She told the court her husband said married life had "soured on him." "He was tired of me. He told me morning, noon and night. He was so insistent that he could have put it on the phonograph and saved his voice," she declared.

Favorable to multiple moods, but dispensable to none are those adaptable fur neckpieces.

NOT THE SIZE BUT THE SERVICE MAKES A BANK

This is the "biggest bank in town," but that does not seem to be the reason for the steady stream of new accounts which comes to our windows.

To many men, whether the bank with which they do business is large or small or medium in size, would count for little. SERVICE—personal attention, careful consideration by competent men who try to give each customer the maximun of satisfaction in every transaction—surely does make a bank grow.

The size of this bank is very good evidence of the kind of SERVICE it has maintained in Los Angeles, in its thirty-two years under the same general management and policy.

The ACETYLENE WELDER

HERE we have a skilled workman who TRIFLES NOT AT ALL WITH HIS EYES. Followers of other lines of endeavor may do so for comparatively long periods BEFORE NATURE REBELS, but the acetylene welder whose vision—protected by goggles—directs the blue white gaseous flame that welds or cuts a steel girder with equal ease DARES NOT let the eyes endure its brilliant rays—a few minutes' exposure and vision would be permanently ruined.

But whether from acetylene glare or years of unnecessary UNAIDED strain the result is the same—and certain!

RICH OIL MAN MAKES DENIAL.

Says Story Told by Texas Man Untrue.

Tells of Alleged Extortion of $20,000.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

LONG BEACH, Aug. 31. — In a statement issued today, Ira M. Bradley, wealthy Texas and Long Beach oil operator, emphatically denied that he had invaded or broken up the home of Albert E. Pickard, Texas oil worker, held in the City Jail on a charge of attempted blackmail, in default of $10,000 bail. Pickard was arrested after he had extorted $20,000 under penalty of death from Bradley, according to the police. Bradley says Pickard "framed on him."

"I first met Pickard about three years ago," said Bradley. "He was connected with the Texas company, in the Humble field where I also was interested. I knew him only casually, just to speak to him, that was all. As for being intimate with his wife, I only spoke to her a few times as I passed the Pickard house on my way to the field. I never was inside of the Pickard residence in my life."

In relating the story of what happened in his offices when it is said Pickard threatened to kill him if he did not produce $100,000, Bradley today denied that he admitted his guilt to Pickard.

"Pickard was so nervous and talked so rapidly that I never got a chance to say a word," Bradley declared. "He accused me of breaking up his home. He said killing me would be the sweetest thing he knew. He spoke so rapidly that I had no chance to answer him. He didn't seem to want me to talk anyway. I only interrupted him once when I said, 'Pickard, you know I never went into your home.' At this he became angry and told me not to talk like that, that he was ashamed and would kill me. He didn't flourish his gun, but repeated about twelve times that he would kill me.

"Pickard told me there was only one way I could settle with him and that was to give him $100,000. When I told him I didn't have that amount and would have to go to the bank and get it, he warned me that he would kill me if I attempted to double-cross him.

"When I told Pickard I didn't have $100,000, he said he knew my rating and asked me what about that $400,000 the Bradley Company has to its credit in a Texas bank. I told him it was not true, and declared I would settle with him the best I could.

"He asked me how much I could get him, and I told him about $10,000. I was trying to figure some way to give him the least I could and at the same time give something so we could get him with the goods on him.

"At first he declined the $10,000, and stated I had the $100,000, and that he was going to get it. He said I couldn't get away from him and that before he was through with me I wouldn't have a home or a penny to my name. Finally, however, he declared we'd go get the $10,000, and that we'd leave that night for Fort Worth and get the rest.

"I told him it wouldn't do any good to go to Fort Worth, and suggested that we go to the California National Bank and see what we could do. As we left the private office Pickard pulled me close to him and asked me if I intended to settle with him or planned to double-cross him. 'If you do I'll kill you,' he told me."

Police today continued their investigation of the case, hoping to clear up a report that Pickard had three confederates. According to information given the police yesterday, three other men from Pickard's home town in Texas registered at the same hotel Saturday night. A suspiciously acting man was seen loitering in the California Bank Monday, when Pickard went there with Bradley. The suspect left shortly before Pickard was taken into custody.

ENTER GUILTY PLEAS.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

ONTARIO, Aug. 31.—Announcement of City Attorney Ben F. Warner that the case of R. J. McDonald, whose trial on a charge of violating prohibition laws resulted in the jury being unable to agree last night, was to be set for rehearing tomorrow, coupled with rumors that the police had a strong case against Earl ("Pooch") Bybee, former owner of the B. and B. Cafe here, where McDonald was employed as a chef, were believed largely responsible for both men entering pleas of guilty on the eve of Bybee's trial this afternoon.

Judge George R. Holbrook dismissed the jury venire and sentenced McDonald and Bybee each to pay a fine of $300. The jury in McDonald's case stood at 11 to 1 for conviction, it was learned today, when it was dismissed last night for failure to agree.

NEW BANK BUILDING.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

SANTA MONICA, Aug. 31.—A new bank building to cost $100,000 will be erected at Fourth street and Santa Monica Boulevard, at once, it was announced today. The building will house the Santa Monica branch of the Ocean Park Bank, of which T. H. Dudley is president.

The structure will have a frontage of 150 feet on Santa Monica Boulevard, and will extend 100 feet back on Fourth street. The space not utilized by the bank will be devoted to office and store rooms.

Other improvements on Santa Monica Boulevard to be started in the near future are the Masonic Temple at Tenth, which will cost $75,000; the new postoffice to be erected at Ninth street, and a new $75,000 theater at the corner of Sixth street.

C. Gordon Parkhurst, local realtor, signed the lease this morning for the bank property at Fourth and Santa Monica Boulevard. The owners are Joseph Vache, Marius V. Blanc, Marcelina Blanc, Medeline Vache, Emily Yoakum and Zoe Hall. The contract for the building was awarded to D. D. Smith. The present buildings will be removed at once and the bank building rushed to completion.

CITY PLANS FOUR DAYS OF GAIETY.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

ALHAMBRA, Aug. 31. — Alhambra en masse is to stage its second annual civic carnival four days next week, beginning Wednesday. Formally it is to be known as the Alhambra Business Men's Carnival, directed by twelve committees composed of fifty of the city's leading business men. Informally, the carnival is a vital civic project to every single inhabitant, from a year old on up.

The city of Alhambra has declared Wednesday a half holiday in honor of the opening of the carnival, which will be launched at 2 o'clock in the afternoon with a parade three miles long. Ninety-five per cent of Alhambra's business men, who have taken booths at the carnival grounds, are making plans to enter industrial exhibits and floats in the opening parade. Fifty business men, wearing Spanish costumes, will ride at the head of the pageant. Alhambra school children, under the supervision of the Parent-Teacher clubs, will march. Churches and fraternal organizations have voted to participate. The Y.M.C.A. will have an athletic and gymnastic exhibit. The parade will go to the carnival grounds at Marengo and Alhambra roads, where the Dos Robles Club will have charge of the free entertainments for the week.

The carnival will be presided over by a queen to be elected from Alhambra's younger social set.

Five hundred entries are expected in the carnival baby contest, which will run through the entire four days. Already more than 100 babies of 1, 2 and 3 years of age have been entered. Prizes will be awarded the winners on the last afternoon of the carnival. Physicians have volunteered to examine, weigh and rate the youngsters.

Programs of free entertainments, both by professional entertainers and by Alhambra burlesque and minstrel companies, have been arranged for each afternoon and night at the grounds. A gigantic electric fountain, modeled after the Kansas City fountain, will be illuminated. Besides general carnival concessions, confetti and fireworks afternoon and night, there will be nightly programs of dancing and music. One entire day has been given over to a musical program which will contain several nationally famous artists.

One hundred merchants have donated various merchandise to be given away to guests each night at the grounds.

"We are spending thousands of dollars to make this a success and every person in town is working toward that end," explained W. L. Moulder, carnival manager. "The carnival is being given to show what Alhambra represents, industrially, socially and religiously."

TO PAY BIG FINE IN INSTALLMENTS.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

SANTA MONICA, Aug. 31.—Thomas P. Bunch, an Indian who is employed at a Los Angeles store as window dresser, is paying on the installment plan for having driven an automobile in this city while intoxicated. Bunch was sentenced by Police Judge M. R. King yesterday to pay a fine of $250, after he had been convicted of driving while intoxicated, last Sunday.

Bunch paid $100 cash and was ordered to pay $25 a month until the balance is paid. In the event that he does not meet the payment, Judge King told him he would have to serve a day in jail for each dollar unpaid.

William E. Cavanaugh.

NEW POLICE CHIEF FOR RESORT CITY.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

VENICE, Aug. 31.—William E. Cavanaugh will be appointed Chief of Police of Venice at the City Trustees meeting to be held tomorrow night," Mayor Edward A. Gerety announced today.

W. A. Loomis, former Chief, and Officer W. H. Ostraff were settling up their affairs today preliminary to their sentence, which will be imposed by Judge Sidney Reeves, September 1. The two men are at liberty on $10,000 bond each following conviction yesterday of assaulting Manuel Holquin, a prisoner.

W. E. Cavanaugh occupied the position of Venice Police Chief some years ago. He is now employed in the United States Marshal's office in Los Angeles. Cavanaugh is 40 years of age, by trade a stone mason, and at one time was president of the stone mason's union, when that was a powerful organization.

He has lived for several years at 140 South Pico Boulevard, Santa Monica, and has a host of friends in this district. Mayor Gerety attempted to have Cavanaugh appointed when Loomis was indicted, but was overruled by the other City Trustees.

BIG FIRE LOSS IN AUTO PAINT WORKS.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

PASADENA, Aug. 31.—Fire which broke out late this afternoon in C. J. Damm's automobile paint works on the second floor of a brick building at Union street and Broadway caused damage estimated at $10,000 to $15,000 to the building and contents.

Quick work by the fire department confined the flames to the west section on the second floor, though other parts of the building were damaged by water. The building is owned by W. T. Davies of Los Angeles. Several automobile shops beside the Damm establishment are tenants in the building.

The building was not badly damaged except for the interior of the second floor south wing, but the heaviest damage was to automobiles under repair in the building. Origin of the fire was not learned.

HUSBAND DESERTS HIS CHILD-WIFE.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

ONTARIO, Aug. 31.—Deserted by her 41-year-old husband, John Vann, who, some months ago brought her here from Arizona, and who, she alleges, has forced her to work for him ever since their marriage, a year and a half ago, Ethel Vann, child wife, today appealed to the Ontario Welfare League for aid, when she found herself destitute among strangers.

The heads of the Welfare League have already taken the case up with county authorities, and it is planned to communicate with the young woman's parents in an effort to have her return to them at their home in Somerton, Ariz.

Mrs. Vann, who is but 16 years of age, told how Vann, by his constant pleas and tales of wealth, had finally won her consent to marry him, although virtually engaged to a boy only a few years her senior at the time.

She recited a pitiful tale of hardship and drudgery ever since her marriage, and accused her husband of resenting her having youthful friends, even young girls, her own age. Finally, when she returned to the shack which they had called home, on Ontario Boulevard, after a day's hard work in a local cannery, it was to find that Vann had departed, leaving her penniless, without food and with scarcely sufficient clothing to cover her body.

WOMAN NEAR DEATH.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

VENTURA, Aug. 31. — Forced through the bars of an irrigation gate, eighteen feet under water, Mrs. Cera De Nice Reviere, a former Ventura woman, is here recuperating from the injuries received.

Mrs. Reviere was swimming in one of the large irrigating canals near Bakersfield when the current carried her over a flume and down into the whirlpool under the gate.

There was no chance of rescue and spectators watched horrified for the moment when the whirlpool washed up its strangled victim.

Instead, after a full moment, Mrs. Reviere, who is an expert swimmer, appeared on the other side of the flume, but almost helpless. Her body had passed through a space less than a foot and a half wide and she had been badly beaten against the bars of the flume.

Mrs. Reviere's husband was drowned in the Ventura River during a flood about five years ago when attempting to froce his horse to swim the stream.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

SANTA MONICA, Aug. 31.—Jerry Clifford charged with driving an automobile while under the influence of intoxicating liquor, was bound over to the Superior Court today by Judge M. R. King, following his arraignment.

Clifford was arrested July 19, following a head-on crash which completely demolished another loaded automobile at the corner of Colorado and Ocean avenues. The other machine was driven by Mrs. Milton U'Ren, wife of the assistant District Attorney of San Francisco.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Montagne, Mrs. U'Ren's parents, of 399 West Queen street, Inglewood, were also cut and bruised. An unknown man who was riding with Clifford and escaped immediately after the accident, was badly cut about the eyes.

Clifford was first charged with a misdemeanor. This was changed to a felony charge the following day at the request of U'Ren. He was released at the time on $1000 property bond. Clifford had swung over to the left of the street to make a wide turn at the time of the accident, eyewitnesses testified.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SANTA ANA, Aug. 31.—The Coroner's jury in the inquiry into the death of Agute Navarro, who was murdered at the Bastanchury ranch, near Fullerton, Monday, failed to fix the blame for the killing at the inquest today.

She told of leaving her house and seeing Navarro and Antonio Mendoza seated on the ground together. When she returned some time later, Navarro was dying, she said, and Mendoza was gone. A small son of the woman testified he heard a shot when he was almost a mile from the scene of the killing.

A leather portfolio containing promissory notes to the value of $27,000 were reported stolen from the automobile of J. S. Ward of Anaheim this afternoon. According to Ward's report of the theft, he left his car parked in front of the Anaheim clinic for a few moments. When he returned, the portfolio containing the fifty-four $500 notes was gone.

REDLANDS, Aug. 31.—R. H. Charlton of Los Angeles, supervisor of the forests of this district, narrowly escaped being killed on the Clarke grade of the Mill Creek road. He had stopped his car to examine the road. When he cranked it and started to get in the car, it suddenly began to back, slipped over the grade, turned over and fell into a deep gully. In another second Charlton would have been in the automobile and in danger of being killed. This is the second auto accident in a week for the supervisor. While going to Santa Barbara to take charge of the fire fighting there a week ago, his automobile turned over. He was scratched then, but not seriously hurt.

ONTARIO PLANT RUNS FULL TIME

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

ONTARIO, Aug. 31.—All be ruined by the business depression which hit the entire country a few months ago, the Edison Electric Appliance Company is nicely demonstrating its ability to come back. It was learned today that E. R. Richardson, works manager, has announced that the plant will run on full week schedule this week for first time in four months.

When the wave of depression hit the Ontario plant May 1, it was found necessary to reduce the working force in the big factory to near by 100.

Business in recent weeks has picked up to such an extent that the plant is now giving employment to 200, and expects to increase the number to 240 next week. With orders continuing to increase as they have in the past month, it will be but a question of time until the plant is again giving employment to its normal force of 1000 persons, it is believed.

LIBRARY BONDS ON SALE SOON.

City May Make Deal Within Next Sixty Days.

Council to be Asked to O.K. Disposal of Paper.

More Expense if Main Site Has to be Bought.

Sale of the city's library bonds within sixty days is a possibility, City Librarian Perry stated yesterday, after a conference with the City Attorney. Mr. Perry states that the City Council will be asked to authorize the sale of the entire block of $2,000,000 in bonds, but the bonds will be sold in small blocks.

"The board has adopted the policy that it will sell bonds only as money is needed, because it does not want to pile interest upon the taxpayers unnecessarily," Mr. Perry said. "It has from two to four branch libraries to build, as well as the main library. At this time it is hard to say which will be erected first, because sites have not yet been secured."

PROBABLE BRANCHES.

According to Mr. Perry, there will be one branch in the University district and one in Hollywood. Possibly there will be one or two others. It is thought that $100,000 apiece will be the cost of the branches. The present library-branch site in Hollywood may be used. If it is used, the board will save some money.

Mr. Perry stated that the board may not reach a decision as to a site for the main library for some time, because there are nearly thirty sites to consider. Of these, eight or ten are reported to be worthy of serious consideration. Pershing Square and Normal Hill Center are being seriously considered as possible sites, which would relieve the city of paying possibly $1,000,000 for a city block upon which to erect the central library.

MORE EXPENSE?

In the opinion of members of the board, unless the city owns some of its own property as a site for the central library, the public probably will have to vote $1,000,000 more in bonds with which to purchase a site.

The board is anxious to decide upon a site and get the work under way, because its lease upon the present quarters in the Metropolitan building expires early in 1924, and Mr. Perry says he is sure that the rent will be largely increased. He admits that such an increase would be justified, as the library secured a very attractive lease years ago, and rents are much higher now.

TWO WIVES TALE TOLD TO COURT.

One Who Talked too Much is Blamed by Husband for Troubles With the Other.

A story of a man with two wives, one of whom, he said, was to blame for his trouble "because she had no business talking so," was told in Judge Myers's court yesterday.

Nina Blanche Young wanted her marriage to Edgar S. Young annulled on the ground that he already had a wife, Nellie J. Young. The decree was granted.

Mrs. Young No. 2 testified that she was living happily with Mr. Young when Nellie J. Young, No. 1, called on her.

"She told me I was living with her husband," she testified.

"The news struck me like a bombshell. She had a photograph of Mr. Young which was like the photograph he gave me. Mr. Young was away at the time. I wrote him, and he replied in so many words:

"'Nellie is to blame for this trouble. She had no business talking so. If she did not want me to live with her, it was selfishness on her part not to want me to live with anybody else. When I left her she told me I could marry whom and when I pleased. So don't blame me for your trouble, but blame her.'"

Since that time Mrs. Nina Young said she had not seen her husband.

ONE EXPECTS TO GIVE BAIL WHICH COURT FIXES AT FIVE THOUSAND.

Four young men, accused in a complaint issued by Dep. Dist.-Atty. McClelland of the robbery of employees and patrons of the Huntington Park branch of the Los Angeles Trust & Savings Bank last Friday, were taken from the County Jail yesterday to be arraigned before Justice Taylor, sitting for Justice Cassidy of Huntington Park.

The attorneys who appeared for the defendants, among them M. G. Phillips, stated that Fred Milletta, one of the accused four, expected to furnish bail, which was fixed by the court at $5000 for each defendant.

The complaint was sworn to by Deputy Sheriff Dewar and Deputy Sheriffs Noland and Bell took the prisoners to court for arraignment. Hearing in the case was set for the 19th inst. before Justice Taylor.

While the arraignment was in progress, Manuel McKnight, who was shot and is said to have implicated several of those under arrest, was lying at death's door at the County Hospital. Little hope was held for his recovery.

The four accused in the complaint are Russell Jeffreys, who yesterday was given a grilling by Deputy Sheriffs Couts and Bell; William Searby, C. W. Loveless and Milletta. They are held in the County Jail.

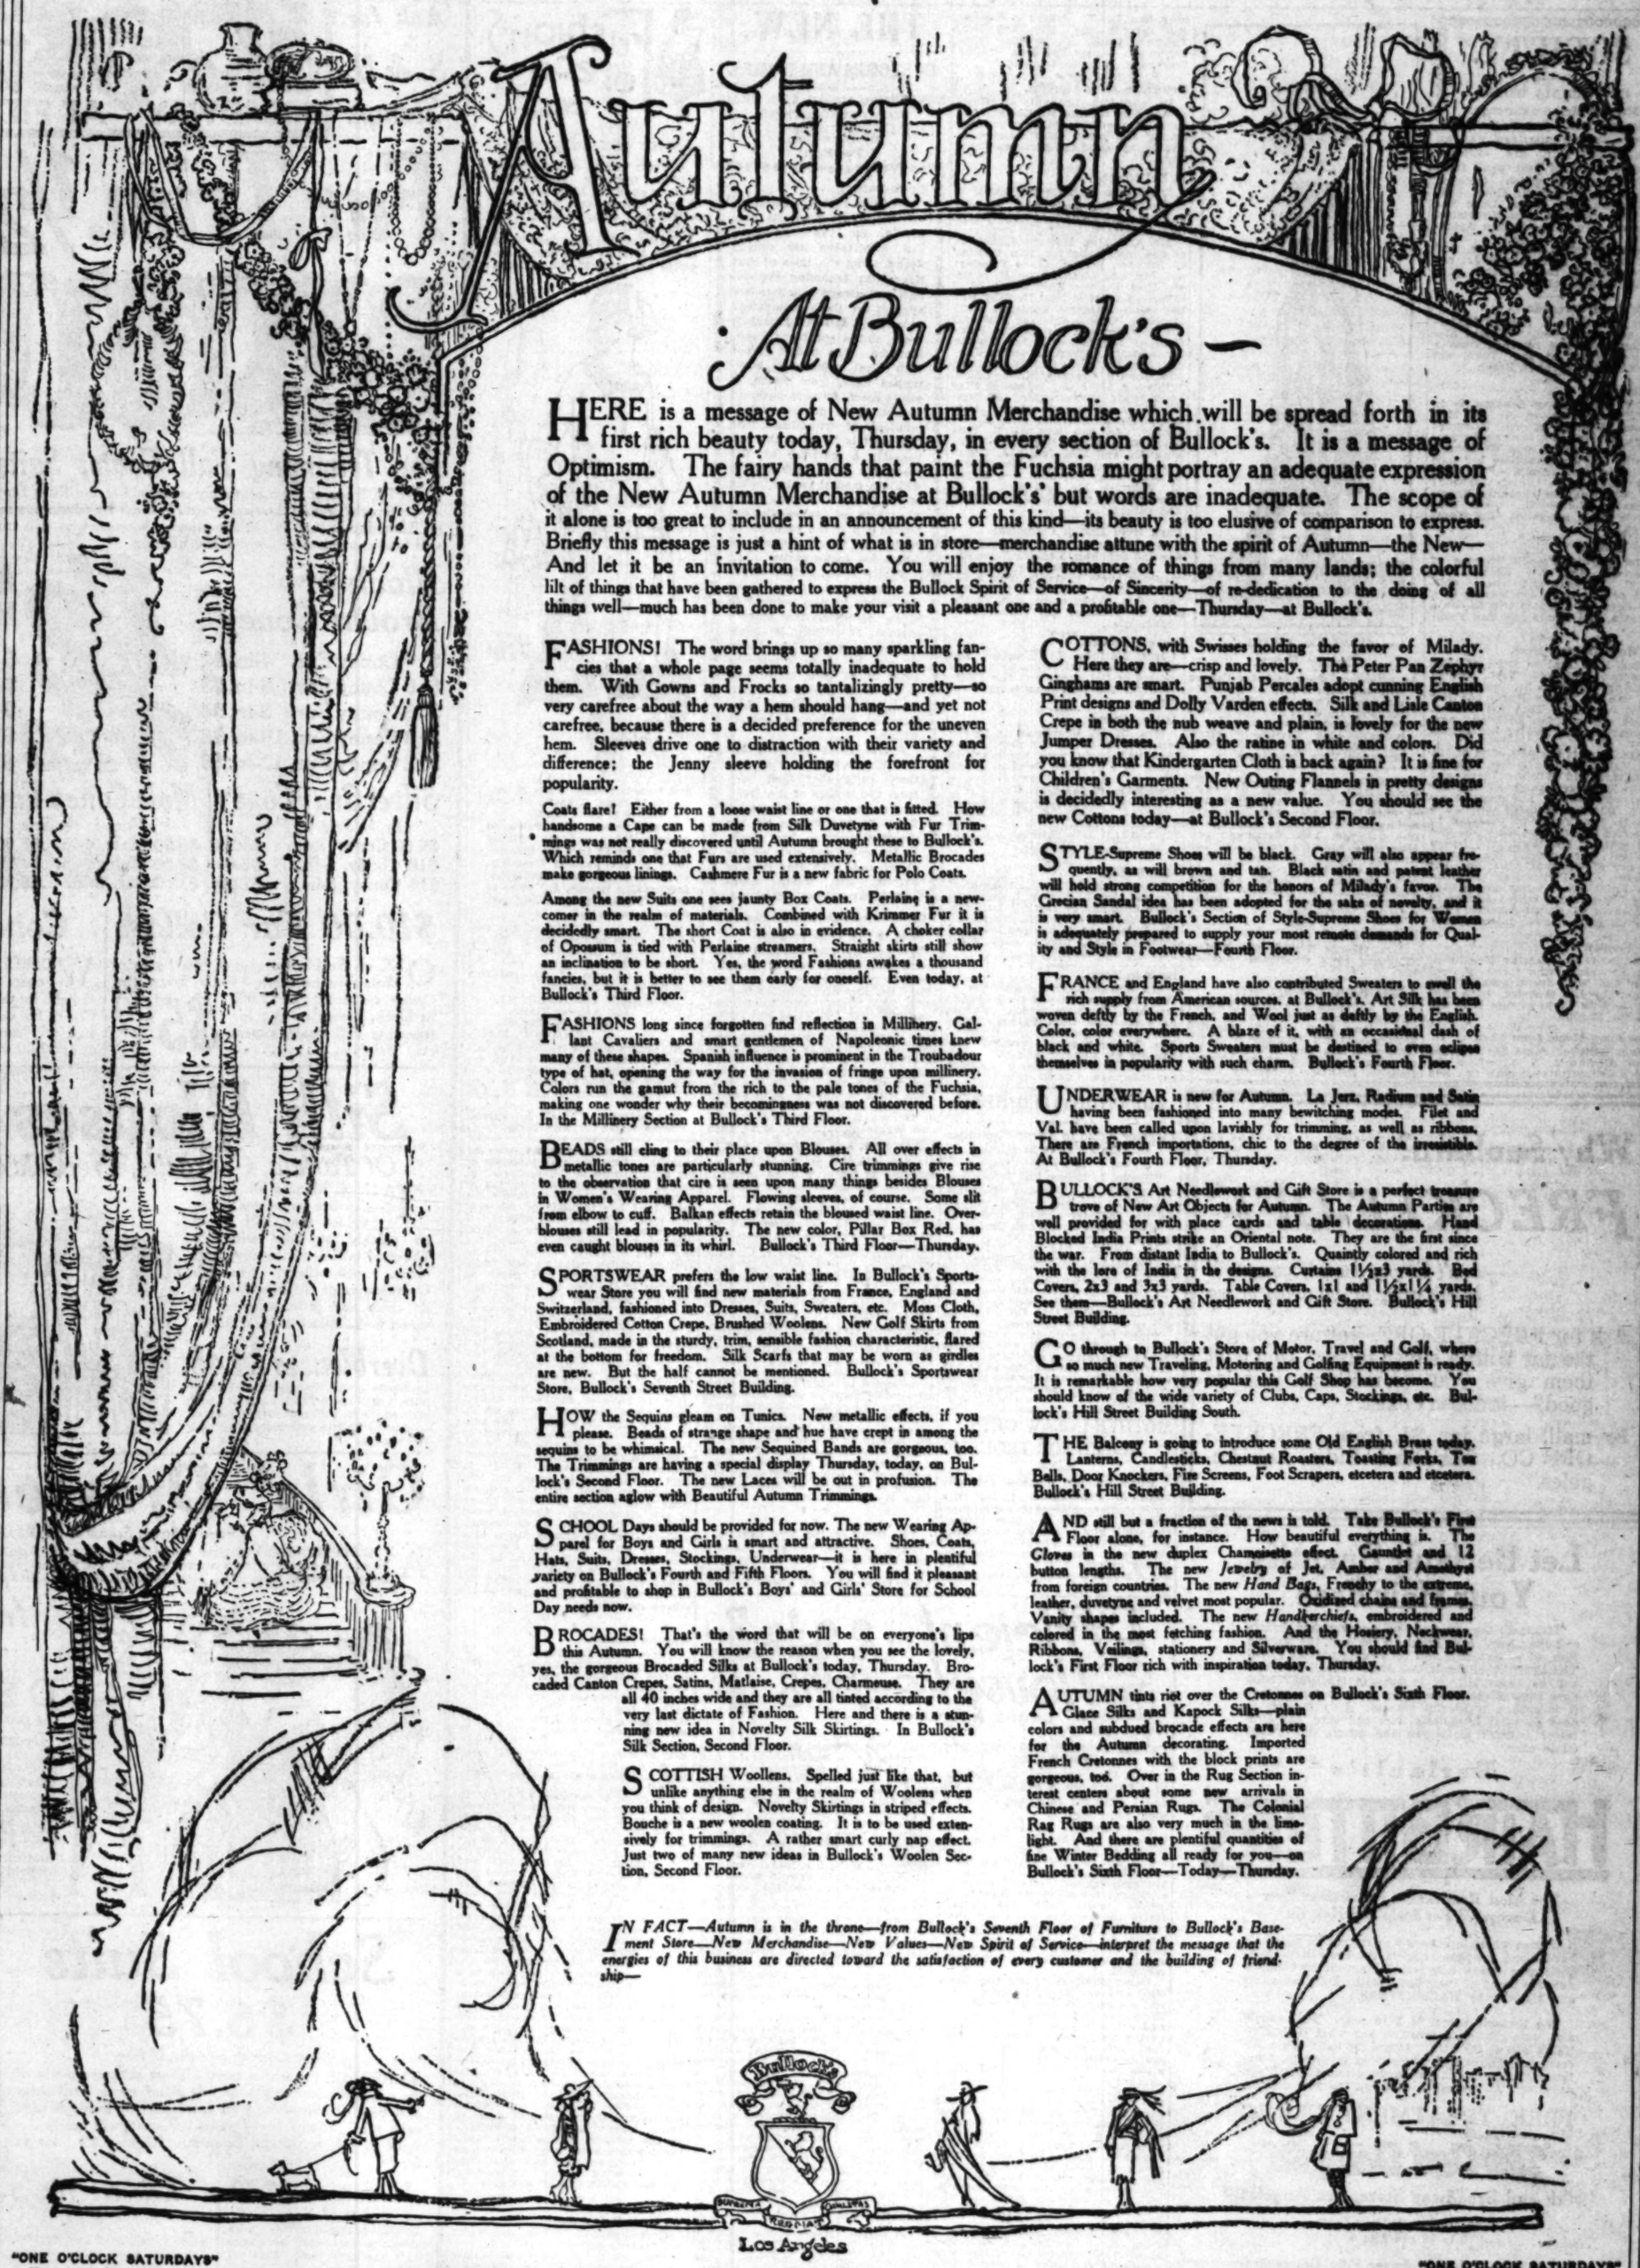
HUSBAND WINS DECREE.

Wife Gets Child, But Must Not Keep House for Any Man.

Mark W. Walters was granted a divorce from Leona Walters by Judge Walter J. Wood yesterday. Mrs. Walters was given the custody of her daughter as long as she does not keep house for any man. This was because Mr. Walters, in fighting her case, declared his wife paid too much attention to a man for whom at one time she kept house.

O. K. LIGHTING DISTRICT.

The Board of Supervisors by resolution adopted yesterday authorized the formation of the Crescent Heights lighting district. This district lies west of Hollywood. The estimated cost for one year is $5304.



Autumn
At Bullock's

HERE is a message of New Autumn Merchandise which will be spread forth in its first rich beauty today, Thursday, in every section of Bullock's. It is a message of Optimism. The fairy hands that paint the Fuchsia might portray an adequate expression of the New Autumn Merchandise at Bullock's' but words are inadequate. The scope of it alone is too great to include in an announcement of this kind—its beauty is too elusive of comparison to express. Briefly this message is just a hint of what is in store—merchandise attune with the spirit of Autumn—the New—And let it be an invitation to come. You will enjoy the romance of things from many lands; the colorful lilt of things that have been gathered to express the Bullock Spirit of Service—of Sincerity—of re-dedication to the doing of all things well—much has been done to make your visit a pleasant one and a profitable one—Thursday—at Bullock's.

FASHIONS! The word brings up so many sparkling fancies that a whole page seems totally inadequate to hold them. With Gowns and Frocks so tantalizingly pretty—so very carefree about the way a hem should hang—and yet not carefree, because there is a decided preference for the uneven hem. Sleeves drive one to distraction with their variety and difference; the Jenny sleeve holding the forefront for popularity.

Coats flare! Either from a loose waist line or one that is fitted. How handsome a Cape can be made from Silk Duvetyne with Fur Trimmings was not really discovered until Autumn brought these to Bullock's. Which reminds one that Furs are used extensively. Metallic Brocades make gorgeous linings. Cashmere Fur is a new fabric for Polo Coats.

Among the new Suits one sees jaunty Box Coats. Perlaine is a newcomer in the realm of materials. Combined with Krimmer Fur it is decidedly smart. The short Coat is also in evidence. A choker collar of Opossum is tied with Perlaine streamers. Straight skirts still show an inclination to be short. Yes, the word Fashions awakes a thousand fancies, but it is better to see them early for oneself. Even today, at Bullock's Third Floor.

FASHIONS long since forgotten find reflection in Millinery. Gallant Cavaliers and smart gentlemen of Napoleonic times knew many of these shapes. Spanish influence is prominent in the Troubadour type of hat, opening the way for the invasion of fringe upon millinery. Colors run the gamut from the rich to the pale tones of the Fuchsia, making one wonder why their becomingness was not discovered before. In the Millinery Section at Bullock's Third Floor.

BEADS still cling to their place upon Blouses. All over effects in metallic tones are particularly stunning. Cire trimmings give rise to the observation that cire is seen upon many things besides Blouses in Women's Wearing Apparel. Flowing sleeves, of course. Some slit from elbow to cuff. Balkan effects retain the bloused waist line. Overblouses still lead in popularity. The new color, Pillar Box Red, has even caught blouses in its whirl. Bullock's Third Floor—Thursday.

SPORTSWEAR prefers the low waist line. In Bullock's Sportswear Store you will find new materials from France, England and Switzerland, fashioned into Dresses, Suits, Sweaters, etc. Moss Cloth, Embroidered Cotton Crepe, Brushed Woolens. New Golf Skirts from Scotland, made in the sturdy, trim, sensible fashion characteristic, flared at the bottom for freedom. Silk Scarfs that may be worn as girdles are new. But the half cannot be mentioned. Bullock's Sportswear Store, Bullock's Seventh Street Building.

HOW the Sequins gleam on Tunics. New metallic effects, if you please. Beads of strange shape and hue have crept in among the sequins to be whimsical. The new Sequined Bands are gorgeous, too. The Trimmings are having a special display Thursday, today, on Bullock's Second Floor. The new Laces will be out in profusion. The entire section aglow with Beautiful Autumn Trimmings.

SCHOOL Days should be provided for now. The new Wearing Apparel for Boys and Girls is smart and attractive. Shoes, Coats, Hats, Suits, Dresses, Stockings, Underwear—it is here in plentiful variety on Bullock's Fourth and Fifth Floors. You will find it pleasant and profitable to shop in Bullock's Boys' and Girls' Store for School Day needs now.

BROCADES! That's the word that will be on everyone's lips this Autumn. You will know the reason when you see the lovely, yes, the gorgeous Brocaded Silks at Bullock's today, Thursday. Brocaded Canton Crepes, Satins, Matlaise, Crepes, Charmeuse. They are all 40 inches wide and they are all tinted according to the very last dictate of Fashion. Here and there is a stunning new idea in Novelty Silk Skirtings. In Bullock's Silk Section, Second Floor.

SCOTTISH Woollens. Spelled just like that, but unlike anything else in the realm of Woolens when you think of design. Novelty Skirtings in striped effects. Bouche is a new woolen coating. It is to be used extensively for trimmings. A rather smart curly nap effect. Just two of many new ideas in Bullock's Woolen Section, Second Floor.

COTTONS, with Swisses holding the favor of Milady. Here they are—crisp and lovely. The Peter Pan Zephyr Ginghams are smart. Punjab Percales adopt cunning English Print designs and Dolly Varden effects. Silk and Lisle Canton Crepe in both the nub weave and plain, is lovely for the new Jumper Dresses. Also the ratine in white and colors. Did you know that Kindergarten Cloth is back again? It is fine for Children's Garments. New Outing Flannels in pretty designs is decidedly interesting as a new value. You should see the new Cottons today—at Bullock's Second Floor.

STYLE-Supreme Shoes will be black. Gray will also appear frequently, as will brown and tan. Black satin and patent leather will hold strong competition for the honors of Milady's favor. The Grecian Sandal idea has been adopted for the sake of novelty, and it is very smart. Bullock's Section of Style-Supreme Shoes for Women is adequately prepared to supply your most remote demands for Quality and Style in Footwear—Fourth Floor.

FRANCE and England have also contributed Sweaters to swell the rich supply from American sources, at Bullock's. Art Silk has been woven deftly by the French, and Wool just as deftly by the English. Color, color everywhere. A blaze of it, with an occasional dash of black and white. Sports Sweaters must be destined to even eclipse themselves in popularity with such charm. Bullock's Fourth Floor.

UNDERWEAR is new for Autumn. La Jerz, Radium and Satin having been fashioned into many bewitching modes. Filet and Val. have been called upon lavishly for trimming, as well as ribbons. There are French importations, chic to the degree of the irresistible. At Bullock's Fourth Floor, Thursday.

BULLOCK'S Art Needlework and Gift Store is a perfect treasure trove of New Art Objects for Autumn. The Autumn Parties are well provided for with place cards and table decorations. Hand Blocked India Prints strike an Oriental note. They are the first since the war. From distant India to Bullock's. Quaintly colored and rich with the lore of India in the designs. Curtains 1½x3 yards. Bed Covers, 2x3 and 3x3 yards. Table Covers, 1x1 and 1½x1½ yards. See them—Bullock's Art Needlework and Gift Store. Bullock's Hill Street Building.

GO through to Bullock's Store of Motor, Travel and Golf, where so much new Traveling, Motoring and Golfing Equipment is ready. It is remarkable how very popular this Golf Shop has become. You should know of the wide variety of Clubs, Caps, Stockings, etc. Bullock's Hill Street Building South.

THE Balcony is going to introduce some Old English Brass today. Lanterns, Candlesticks, Chestnut Roasters, Toasting Forks, Tea Bells, Door Knockers, Fire Screens, Foot Scrapers, etcetera and etcetera. Bullock's Hill Street Building.

AND still but a fraction of the news is told. Take Bullock's First Floor alone, for instance. How beautiful everything is. The Gloves in the new duplex Chamoisette effect. Gauntlet and 12 button lengths. The new Jewelry of Jet, Amber and Amethyst from foreign countries. The new Hand Bags, Frenchy to the extreme, leather, duvetyne and velvet most popular. Oxidized chains and frames. Vanity shapes included. The new Handkerchiefs, embroidered and colored in the most fetching fashion. And the Hosiery, Neckwear, Ribbons, Veilings, stationery and Silverware. You should find Bullock's First Floor rich with inspiration today, Thursday.

AUTUMN tints riot over the Cretonnes on Bullock's Sixth Floor. Glace Silks and Kapock Silks—plain colors and subdued brocade effects are here for the Autumn decorating. Imported French Cretonnes with the block prints are gorgeous, too. Over in the Rug Section interest centers about some new arrivals in Chinese and Persian Rugs. The Colonial Rag Rugs are also very much in the limelight. And there are plentiful quantities of fine Winter Bedding all ready for you—on Bullock's Sixth Floor—Today—Thursday.

IN FACT—Autumn is in the throne—from Bullock's Seventh Floor of Furniture to Bullock's Basement Store—New Merchandise—New Values—New Spirit of Service—interpret the message that the energies of this business are directed toward the satisfaction of every customer and the building of friendship—

SOCIETY.

BY VIRGINIA WOODS.

For Mr. and Mrs. Scarborough.

Mr. and Mrs. James G. Scarborough, whose marriage was an event of late July, are expected home the first of next week from their motor trip, which included visits to the Samarkand Hotel, Santa Barbara, Del Monte, Lake Tahoe and the Santa Cruz Mountains. They will live at the Bryson Apartments.

Next Thursday evening Mr. and Mrs. James G. Scarborough, Jr., are to entertain in their honor at a family dinner party.

Back from Coronado.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Harvey McCarthy and their son, William McCarthy, have just returned from a week-end visit at the Hotel del Coronado at Coronado Beach.

In Bay City.

Mrs. Helen King Johnson is in San Francisco visiting Mr. and Mrs. Hansen Wellbye at the Fairmont Hotel, having made the trip by motor. She probably will be gone a month. In the meantime her new son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Blake Smith (Norris Johnson) are occupying her charming apartments in Hollywood, while they search for a bungalow for themselves.

Mrs. Holmes.

Mrs. Edwin Francis Holmes of Pasadena and her sister, Mrs. J. T. Harris, and her children of Salt Lake, are leaving in a few days for a motor trip to Santa Barbara, Del Monte and San Francisco.

Of Much Interest Here.

Mrs. Ella Gardner Horn of San Francisco and New York, but of Los Angeles before her marriage to the late Dr. Henry Horn, has just sailed from New York for London, where she will be married next Monday to Col. Pell of the British army.

Mrs. Horn is the only child of Mr. and Mrs. I. W. Gardner of Wilshire Boulevard and Wilshire Place, and before her marriage during the war was prominent in Los Angeles society. She was educated abroad and was in San Francisco studying to be a Red Cross nurse, when she met and married Dr. Horn, who had a brilliant war record. He was a brother of Gertrude Atherton, the novelist. Dr. Pell is well known in San Francisco and has also visited here. Mrs. Horn visited friends in Vancouver, B. C., all summer. The news is of particular interest here.

On Foreign Trip.

Miss Jones Home from East.

Miss Winifred Jones has returned from Allenhurst, N. J., where she had a delightful visit with Col. and Mrs. Oliver B. Hershman and their niece, Miss Cecile Boyd, at their summer home. Los Angeles friends of Miss Boyd, who spent the winter here, will regret to hear she is ill. Col. and Mrs. Hershman and Miss Boyd expect to return to Los Angeles after Christmas. Miss Jones is with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Mattison B. Jones, at their summer home at Hermosa Beach, the family planning to return to Glendale in October.

Dainty Frock.

An afternoon frock of beige Canton trimmed with a sash of the same material. There are three wide tucks on the skirt and the sleeves are demurely short. The hat is made of blue "handmade" straw trimmed with pond lilies. (From Keystone View Company.)

Auction Tea.

At San Felipe Ranch.

Mr. and Mrs. Fitz Hugh Phillips (Helen Duque,) who have not been home long from their extended honeymoon trip through Northern California, are now enjoying a bit of quiet recreation at San Felipe Rancho, the Duque country place, near San Diego, where a brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Duque, Jr., reside. Mrs. Thomas L. Duque has been visiting there, but is in town again.

Returning from Catalina.

Dr. and Mrs. Granville MacGowan and Miss Eleanor MacGowan, who have been enjoying the swimming, fishing and other entertainment at Avalon, are expected home on Tuesday.

In Del Monte.

Del Monte with its golf event is the mecca for many Los Angeles and Southern California society folk this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard J. Schoder and their daughter, Miss Pauline C. Schoder, arrived there Tuesday, and Mr. and Mrs. Everett H. Beaver, Miss Doreen Kavanagh, Miss Mildred Landreth, Miss Dorothy Hill and Miss Margaret Cameron went Monday. Others enjoying golf and the gay dinner parties in Palm Grill at Del Monte Lodge include Mr. and Mrs. Albert Llewellyn Cheney, Miss Catherine Cheney, Mr. and Mrs. John S. Cravens, Mr. and Mrs. William S. Hook, Jr., Llewellyn Bixby, Edward B. Tufts, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Mead and daughter, Miss Lucile Mead; Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Dickey, Mr. and Mrs. M. S. Vosburg, Mr. and Mrs. Robert H. Finkbine, Mr. and Mrs. James A. Donahue and family, Mr. and Mrs. Erwin S. Armstrong, Mr. and Mrs. Harry M. Voorhies, Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Cameron, Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Mather and others.

Back from British Columbia.

Mrs. Louis C. Torrance, with her son and daughter, Louis C. Torrance, Jr., and Miss Katherine Torrance, returned home yesterday from a delightful three weeks' trip to British Columbia. They spent most of the time in Victoria, but visited Vancouver also.

Have Returned.

Mrs. Matthew S. Robertson and Mrs. Sloan-Orcutt, who have been visiting at Del Monte and San Francisco for the past month, have returned.

All-day Party.

Mrs. Q. W. Boardman is to entertain with an all-day party today that will begin with breakfast in honor of Mrs. John Percival Jones.

Here from Philadelphia.

Mrs. H. E. Wright of Philadelphia is a guest at the Ambassador and was a member of a party at the "Night in Italy" in Cocoanut Grove Tuesday evening.

Miss Bishop.

Miss Virginia Bishop, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William T. Bishop, will leave in a day or two for La Jolla, where she will enter Bishop's School. The Bishop family has just returned from Catalina, where they spent part of the summer.

Back in Town.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Robertson of West Adams street and their daughter, Mrs. Clarence Upson Young, have returned from Balboa, where they passed most of the summer. Mrs. Young has been visiting her parents all summer and will tarry through the winter. Her home since her marriage is in Ohio.

EDISON INVITED HERE.

Inventor Asked to Attend Exposition of Film Industry in Winter.

Thomas A. Edison has been asked by Frank P. Davison, director-general of the first annual Motion-Picture Industry Exhibit, to be the guest of honor at the film exposition here in January.

Mr. Davison has been a lifelong friend of the inventor, and as Mr. Edison is known as "the daddy of motion pictures," having perfected the first kinetoscope, the local man believes that the inventor should be especially honored at the first film fair to be held in America.

Plans for the exposition are maturing rapidly, according to Charles E. Sibert, executive secretary. Headquarters have been established at 215 Byrne Building, and the site for the exposition is to be selected at an early date.

MOTHER-IN-LAW GETS BLAME FOR TROUBLE.

Much of his domestic infelicity John J. Pennington, purser on a Coast steamer, blames on his mother-in-law. He says she once refused to permit him to see his wife, Grace M. Pennington, when he went to the house. Judge Summerfield yesterday ordered him to pay his wife $50 a month pending the trial of her suit.

THE NEW.

IN STORES AND HOMES.

NOVELTIES, IDEAS AND PRACTICAL SUGGESTIONS.

By Olive Gray.
Per E. B.

Up-to-Datest:

A dance frock, designed, one feels sure from its earmarks, for the half-blown bud who takes her college duties along the lines of frat hops with becoming seriousness and gives thought to her apparel for these momentous occasions. It is of geranium crepe and wired black Spanish lace. The bodice is cut with the ubiquitous boat-shaped neck, from which, it would seem, Paris is never to permit us to depart, and is innocent of trimming. The lace skirt is fulled at the belt beneath a garland of flat roses and drops undraped to within a modest twelve inches of the floor. There are crinolined hips, of course—the extended hip is the earmark of youth in party clothes, of which we spoke earlier.

Vanity boxes, rather larger in dimensions than those heretofore in use, covered in black vachette, the smooth surface of which is finely striped in gold. The lining of one of these sumptuous cases is of gold moire and there is a generous assortment of gold-stoppered bottles and gold-topped brushes within.

Sports shoes in dark tan and brown leather with distinct cuffs that turn back from the lacings of the front. The woman with a passion for finish in the details of her dressing matches her gloves to the color and style of her shoes and, with this type of oxford, she wears deep-cuffed gauntlets of softest kid.

Now is the Time to Buy:

The new autumn suit and blouse while the assemblage of seasonal styles is yet an unbroken one. The smart tailleurs of plush-like fabrics, with their long, slenderizing coat lines and their collars of soft furs—the latter so flattering when brought into close contact with cheek and chin—are objects of absorbing interest to the woman who is giving earnest effort to the planning of her winter wardrobe. While the one-piece frock of crepe or twill has by no means abdicated the high place in fashion it has occupied for the past eighteen months, it is an open secret among those a step in advance of the clothes-mode of the moment that suits, for street and semiformal wear, will be correct, even to the point of becoming a rage this coming half-year.

The rare rug or piece of decorative lace, to the possession of which you have, this long time, dedicated a certain corner of your savings bank. The recent importations in Chinese and Indian rugs show colorings and designs more alluring than those that have gone before, calculated to make the lover of the beautiful in floor coverings more ambitious than ever to start or increase a collection of oriental carpets. And, if the flame of covetousness is started by a peep at the new-old rugs the importers are showing, it is fanned by a sight of what those who make scouting after interesting patterns in the lace-making districts of Belgium, France and Sicily, have ferreted out and brought back to us. Merely to see the examples of Italian filet in the form of runners and table pieces that the art department of one of our great city stores is showing at the present time is an education.

The Glory of the New Blouses.

Pater familias, who pays the bills, invariably hopes the coming winter will be a mild one, as his mental vision projects itself ahead through the smoky haze of the coal-burning months. Any feminine member of his family, who is the possessor of one of the distinguished tailleurs of autumn, will be sure to throw the ewight of her thought on his side this year. For the suit argues the blouse and it seems like a wilful obscuring of beauty to hide, for the mere creature comfort of protection against winter's icy blast, the ornate beading and glory of coloring of the new in blousery under the enveloping bushel of a top garment be the latter ever so stunning in cut or richly furred.

It is, of course, of crepe, this blouse which makes the third and completing piece of the modish costume of fall. Who was it who spoke of the "crepeing paralysis" to which all womankind seems, latterly, to have succumbed? And it more often than not carries on, in its body tint, the shade of the suit. Exceptions there are, however, to this all-of-one-color rule as, for instance, a blouse of wood-colored georgette, embroidered solidly in bold figures done in green, red and dark-brown wool and planned for wear with a suit the exact brown of the embroidery. Another waist designed, this time, to accompany a plain skirt and closely fitting long coat of black cashmere duvetyne, was of the traditional red of the turkey globber's comb, its brilliancy added to rather than subdued by the scrolls traced in tiny gold beads across its widths.

* * *

Also on Blouses.

There were, though, it seems, almost superfluous to say, more blouses in this first sumptuous showing, in navy crepe de chine than in all other colors and weaves of crepe put together. Just as, by the same token, there are a greater number of navy suits and coat dresses each fall, in the initial display of fashions, than may be tallied in other colors. "Navy blue," you will be told, "is so good. It is so safe, like anything else conservative."

There is a variance so slight in style in the new blouses of autumn that one, at first glance, may be forgiven for saying: "Oh, I see—the same old thing." It is, with that infinitesimal difference that constitutes the dividing line between past and present, in style. There is the almost rigid adherence to the Chinese outline of yore. The newest blousses not only slip over the head, but they have the slit, six or eight inches down the front from the collar-bone, and the cord fastening that is an inseparable part of waist effect of feminine China. This presupposes the bateau neck which reigns without a shadow of rivalry—any other neckline than this elliptical gash calculated to admit the head in dressing is as rare as a white blackbird. You may see, if you look twice, here and there a set-in sleeve, but the majority of the blousses are running true to form in their kimonoed shoulders.

When it comes to the finish, tie-backs, straight, unbelted blouses and those that are confined at the waist by linked gordles of ivory or tortoise shell stand in the ratio of three to three. There is perfect unanimity in the manner of their embellishment which betrays an ambition to cover every exposed inch of surface with beading and embroidery, stitched scrolls and braidwork.

* * *

La Mode insists that:

Efficient Housekeeping

PEACH DISHES FOR THE DINNER TABLE.

It is time for good housekeepers to get their peach recipes together, and I offer the following to add to their collection:

Peach Salad: Remove the skins from ripe peaches by putting the fruit in a cheesecloth bag and lowering it into boiling water for about two minutes, then taking it out and plunging the bag into cold water for a second; the skins can then be removed easily with the fingers. Halve the peaches and place them round-side-down on tender lettuce leaves; fill the cavity in each half-peach with cream cheese and pour cream salad dressing over all. Serve very cold.

Peach Shortcake: Mix together 4 cups of bread flour, 1 teaspoon salt and 3 teaspoons baking powder; sift these dry ingredients into a bowl and rub into them, with the finger-tips, 6 tablespoons of butter. Now beat two eggs light without separating them and add to them 3-4 of a cup of sweet milk; turn this liquid mixture into the flour mixture and stir well, then pour the batter into two buttered layer-cake pans and bake for about 30 minutes in a hot oven. Split open while still hot and place on a large platter alternately with pared and sliced peaches which have been allowed to stand ten minutes sprinkled with enough sugar to sweeten them well. Put the sliced peaches on top of the upper layer as well as between all the layers, and pour sweetened cream over all. Serve at once.

Peach Dessert: Remove the skins from ripe peaches as described above, then quarter them, removing stones. Place them in a bowl with an equal quantity of quartered marshmallows and add enough whipped cream to moisten them well. The whipped cream should be sweetened to suit the taste and should also have a drop or two of vanilla extract added to it. Turn this dessert into glass cups lined with thin slices of any kind of cake, and serve very cold. This is as delicious as ice cream and is frequently served in place of the frozen dessert.

Every-Day Spiced Peach Salad: This is a delicious salad and easy to prepare. Make a spiced vinegar by combining 1 cup of cold water and 2 cups of strong vinegar, and put this on the range to boil with 2 tablespoons of sugar, a piece of stick cinnamon and 3 whole cloves; let boil ten minutes, then pour at once over halved, pared peaches in a bowl. Let the peaches stand in the vinegar in this way until the liquid is cold, then drain and place the fruit in a bed of lettuce leaves. Cover with Ordinary French dressing before serving.

Baked Peach Pudding: Scald 1 pint of milk in the upper part of a double boiler. Mix together 2¼ tablespoons of cornstarch and 4 tablespoons of sugar and stir these into the scalded milk; let cook over hot water until thick, stirring occasionally, then add 2 egg-yolks and, when well blended, 1 teaspoon lemon extract. Pour this hot mixture at once over 1 pint of fresh, ripe peaches which have been quartered and stoned and placed in a medium-size baking-dish. Beat the two egg-whites stiff, add to them 1-4 cup of sugar, and turn this meringue over the top of the pudding. Then slip the dish into a moderate oven for 12 minutes. Let cool, and serve.

[All inquiries addressed to Miss Kirkman in care of the "Efficient Housekeeping" department will be answered in these columns in their turn. This requires considerable time, however, owing to the great number received. So if a personal or quicker reply is desired, a stamped and self-addressed envelope must be enclosed with the question.—The Editor.]

WARRANTS FOR FIRE SUSPECTS.

San Marcos Blaze Reaches Critical Stage.

Find Men Hurling Burning Cloth into Brush.

Several warrants have been issued, it became known yesterday, for the arrest of persons reported to have been concerned in the disastrous forest fires that have raged at intervals the past two weeks in the local and Santa Barbara forest reserves.

Information as to the identity of the persons under surveillance was withheld, but it is known that some who have been interested in getting past in the parlance of the south is known as "smoke money" are involved.

It is more than hinted that some of the blazes have been started by individuals out of work and money, who set fire to the underbrush and timber with a view to securing employment by the Federal authorities to get out the blaze. The pay is 50 cents an hour with subsistence, which in these days of unemployment is not to be despised. Some of the fires can be accounted for only by the theory of incendiarism.

FIRE AT CRISIS.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SANTA BARBARA, Aug. 31.—The battle with the San Marcos fire reached a critical stage tonight. The fire was one of desperate fighting on the part of the big forces gathered to beat down the flames and of forward thrusts by the fire, which has steadily advanced on three sides, and is tonight crawling toward San Marcos Pass.

W. S. Greenlief, manager of a local hotel, reported to Sheriff Ross that he and two companions in their motor car chased two Mexicans near Rincon Point, on the coast highway, about fifteen miles north of Ventura tonight when they discovered that the Mexicans were lighting pieces of an old quilt and throwing the torches into the dry vegetation along the road.

Mr. Greenlief and his friends extinguished twenty-five small fires. The Santa Barbara men overtook the truck in which the Mexicans were riding and obtained the license number. Sheriff Ross is on the trail of the asserted firebugs and believes the men may know something of the conflagrations near Santa Barbara within the past few months.

The San Marcos situation became critical tonight after the wind shifted from southwest to northeast. A line of flames was steadily advancing upon the firebreak which the forestry service slashed through the dense mountain growth to serve as a last barrier to prevent the fire from reaching Goleta Valley's $1,000,000 walnut crop.

The fire passed above Cold Springs resort, where men were employed keeping the roofs of buildings drenched, and spread to Dead Man's Canyon.

New firebreaks to keep the fire from sweeping on Refugio Pass, through which the long-distance telephone line linking Los Angeles and San Francisco is strung, are being hurriedly cut through the brush tonight.

Only good generalship, say those who have watched the fight, has so far saved the residence districts of the mountain summits, where are situated some of the finest mountain lodges in America. The epic of the fire centers around the heroic faithfulness to duty of the forest rangers, who are acting as the field generals.

FIGHT NEW FIRE.

J. C. Reves, district ranger, has been dispatched with twenty men to fight the new fire at Big Pine which, the air scouts say, is growing large. The airmen report another fire two miles east of the Big Pine fire.

The fire in Lost Valley, in the Monterey district of the Santa Barbara forest, is under control tonight.

Reports that the San Marcos fire was started by cattlemen to increase forage next spring is given no credence by Forest Supervisor Sloan, who declares that some of the fires may be of accidental origin, but most of them have been deliberately started by deer hunters. Sentiment favoring the closing of the reserve to hunters and campers on the outbreak of a forest fire is growing here.

DOLL SALE FOR CHARITY.

Little dolls and big dolls, baby dolls and doll-babies of every imaginable kind will invade Los Angeles tomorrow, inaugurating in original fashion the big Child Welfare Campaign to be conducted by the Bureau of Catholic Charities from September 1 to 13.

The "orphan doll" sale will be one of the novel adjuncts of the campaign, this phase of the big philanthropic program being carried on by a great committee of women under the chairmanship of Mrs. Dennis P. Kearney.

So if you see a host of prominent men and women on the downtown streets of the city during the next week or ten days, carrying in their arms a rag doll, or even a score of them, don't put them down as mere faddists, but know that they are listed in the great army of humanitarians.

For weeks and months hundreds of volunteer workers have been engaged in making and dressing this array of 25,000 dolls in readiness for the sale and tomorrow these little manikins will be offered from every corner and from "stations" established in banks, stores and other prominent locations.

The doll sale will be officially launched today and at the same time the big campaign will be opened throughout the entire city and county. Hundreds of volunteer workers are enlisted in the cause, the object of which is to carry happiness, health and cheer into the hearts of thousands of little children.

The opening event of the doll sale will be featured this evening at the Cinderella Roof Garden, where a special program will be presented.

The sale will be conducted at the Cafe by twenty beautiful Spanish girls, while Miss Edna Murphy, one of the stars of Fox's "Over the Hill," will aid, as will Bert Lytell. Miss Thelma Crocker will contribute a bit of singing to the event.

The petition mentions twenty-nine heirs who may share in the one-quarter of the estate left to the respective heirs of the decedent and the first wife. Two of these are sisters residing in this city, Mrs. Mary Taft and Mrs. Abbie J. Lechler.

No estimated value of the real estate left by Mr. Hazard is mentioned in the petition, but it is stated that the income from it is $1500 a year. Personal property made up of stocks and bonds is estimated to be worth $75,000, the annual income from which is estimated at $3600.

Pens Farewell Note and Fires Suicide Shot.

"Dear Loved Ones: It grieves me to bring this sorrow upon you, but I can no longer stand this extreme nervousness and wakeful nights. You will find me in the garage. Good-by. DADDY."

Leaving the above note to his wife and 16-year-old daughter, August V. Goodsight, aged 65 years, a retired distiller, shortly before noon yesterday went into a grage at the rear of his home at 411 South Norton avenue and ended his life by firing a bullet from a revolver into his right temple.

Detective Sergts. Cato and Cline found that Mr. Goodsight had been suffering from a bullet wound in his side inflicted some time last May. This wound, Mr. Goodsight had asserted, was inflicted accidentally, the report states. The detectives declared that they were satisfied that ill health was the motive for Mr. Goodsight's suicide. The body was removed to the W. A. Brown undertaking establishment.

The largest creditors listed are in Long Beach. EIGHT-YEAR SERVICE IS CONCLUDED.

Carter Today Celebrates Long Period as Collector of Internal Revenue Here.

John P. Carter today will celebrate the completion of his eight years service in the responsible post of Collector of Internal Revenue in the sixth California District.

His commission bears date of July 31, 1913, but he did not assume the duties of the position until September 1, when he succeeded Claude Parker. At that time there were but nineteen attaches of the office, and the record shows that there had been no change in the personnel in the past eight years, except by death or resignation. All of the original appointees were Republican, with a single exception, and with the exceptions noted they are still in the service.

Almost immediately upon the assumption of office by the Collector, the first income tax law was passed taking effect October 3, 1913. It was the task of Collector Carter to explain the various features of this law, with its various changes since that time, and this information had to be explained to thousands of taxpayers. The income tax schools conducted by Collector Carter are well remembered.

Collector Carter yesterday, to celebrate the end of eight years in the government service, announced that there had been an increase of almost $200,000 in the collections for the month ending last night, as compared with August, 1920. The collections for August, 1921, amounted to $2,613,637.23, divided as follows: Income tax, $473,612.09; miscellaneous, $1,940,025.13.

PRESENTATION MADE BY LEGION MEMBERS.

Dr. A. D. Houghton, chairman of Post No. 8, American Legion, Fred Dean and John M. Miller, members of the executive committee, and Commander Henry Wheeler, of the same post, formed a committee representing the American Legion which visited the Million Dollar Theater last evening and presented Sid Grauman with a beautiful illuminated silver tray. This gift was an expression of gratitude for the many favors and benefits the exhibitor has given the Legion. It marks the first time the members have ever bestowed such a token of their appreciation on a private citizen. Dr. Houghton made the presentation speech.

The development of Motor Transportation

Since the appearance of the first gasoline-driven vehicle—more than a quarter of a century ago—motor transportation has advanced far beyond the greatest expectations of the early pioneers.

There have been many contributing factors; the perfecting of the motor car in comfort and dependability; the construction of smooth durable highways; the production of a motor fuel—Red Crown gasoline—which meets every test for power and mileage; and finally, the Standard Oil Service Stations at convenient locations, making Red Crown gasoline readily available to motorists.

Look for Standard Oil Service Stations and for the Red Crown sign at garages, service stations, and other dealers. There you will be able to get good service with Red Crown gasoline.

was pay day at the Wilson plant and Mr. Wagner was in the habit of cashing pay checks for the workmen.

BATTLES BANDITS.

As soon as Mr. Wagner realized the men were trying to rob him he began a violent struggle, wresting himself from the grasp of one of the men and rushing back of the counter to protect his money. The second bandit, seeing him block the way to the cash till, started firing, the first shot being at Wagner's feet, according to Mrs. Blanco.

Mr. Wagner seized his own revolver and the three men engaged in a hand-to-hand fight that was continued in the street, where Mr. Wagner was beaten on the head and finally shot through the heart. The two assailants jumped into their waiting machine and escaped. A hammer thrown by George Helkey, a carpenter, struck the car used by the bandits and lodged on the running board. Other workmen threw pieces of pipe and other missiles.

During the death struggle Mrs. Blanco was crouched under a counter, and she took advantage of the first opportunity to crawl from the building through the back entrance into a corn field. She says she was so frightened she remembers little of the gunmen's appearance. Both wore full-face masks and both seemed to be Americans. One apparently was in his early twenties. One was about five feet and six or seven inches tall and the other five feet and seven or eight inches tall.

STOLEN CAR USED.

Detective Sergts. Wood, Murphy, Zeigler and Wallis responded to the call sent in from the Wilson company plant. They found that the two bandits drove up in a Chandler chummy roadster, license number 164548, faced it toward the south and then ran into the lunch room. The car was stolen Tuesday night from George Hackathorn, 4 South Carondelet street, police reports indicate. It is a dark blue machine with white wire wheels.

The restaurant is a small place and it is believed only some one familiar with Mr. Wagner's practice of keeping large sums on pay day would have attempted to rob it.

NATIVE OF RUSSIA.

In addition to the two sons, a daughter and a widow are left, the daughter, Mrs. Elizabeth Ernst, living Pasadena. The body was taken to the Garret & Co. mortuary and funeral services will be arranged later. Mr. Wagner, who was a native of Russia, had lived in the United States thirty-five years, coming here two years ago from New Jersey.

Deputy Sheriffs Perdue, Jones, Harrington, Dennison and Valarde also were detailed to the investigation from the Sheriff's office, but returned without having made an arrest.

STANDS PAT IN HARBOR JOB FIGHT.

Mayor is Expected to Win Battle for Confirmation of Three Commissioners.

Predictions at the City Hall yesterday were that Mayor Cryer will win his battle with the City Council over the confirmation of Edwin M. Daugherty as president and W. P. Jeffries and William R. Dickinson as members of the Board of Harbor Commissioners. At a conference in the Mayor's office, which was attended by all of the members of the Council, the Mayor again reiterated his stand that the appointive power for members of the Board of Harbor Commissioners rests solely with him, and that it is up to the Council to confirm or reject the selections.

The Harbor Committee of the Council is expected to meet today or tomorrow to consider the appointments and will report to the City Council on Friday or Monday morning. Then will come the vote on each of the appointments, and it was generally believed that William R. Dickinson would be approved without opposition and that W. P. Jeffries would be confirmed over the opposition of President Criswell and Councilman Wheeler. There was still some doubt as to whether or not Mr. Daugherty's appointment would receive the five votes necessary for confirmation. Councilman Langdon will vote against Mr. Daugherty, Councilmen Allan and Mallard will vote for the confirmation and Councilman Mallard was of the opinion yesterday that when the final vote was taken Mr. Daugherty would be confirmed with the rest of the appointments.

There were issued in Los Angeles county last month, 920 more marriage licenses than in August, 1920, and ninety-three more than in July, this year, according to announcement made yesterday by Miss Emma Higgins, in charge of the marriage license department. The total number issued last month was 1160.

GIVES JUDGMENT IN FAMOUS MULE FIGHT.

FACT THAT RANCHMAN CAN'T READ, WRITE, TAKEN IN TO ACCOUNT BY COURT.

U. S. District Judge Bledsoe yesterday handed down a decision for the defendant in the long-drawn-out case of H. B. Thornberry, a mule dealer of Missouri, against R. D. Freeman of San Luis Obispo, to recover an unpaid balance of the asserted value of fifteen registered jennets that the California rancher had purchased of Mr. Thornberry.

It is ordered that all parties occupy the position held before the contract for the sale of the animals, and that Mr. Thornberry pay Mr. Freeman $2500 for a jack he had purchased at the time, concerning which there was no contention, and $125 each for the fifteen jennets, all of the animals, with the increase since the purchase by Mr. Freeman, to be delivered to Thornberry, at San Miguel.

Under the contract Mr. Thornberry was to deliver the jennets to Mr. Freeman, and they were to be registered and pedigreed. The court holds that the stock was not pedigreed, and that Mr. Thornberry had no intention of furnishing a pedigree or register, at least he had not fulfilled the law in that respect as it is understood in California. There was a total lack of consideration in the opinion of the court.

When Mr. Freeman found that the jennets did not come up to the contract, he brought an action for a rescission in the Superior Court of San Luis Obispo, that later appeared in an action of Mr. Thornberry against Mr. Freeman to get a judgment for the unpaid balance said to be due on the stock. Judge Bledsoe also declared that the fact that Mr. Freeman can neither read nor write was a factor in the case.

When the case was tried about a year ago, there was a flood of evidence on the subject of pedigreed stock, and just what a pedigree is worth.

Jones Seeks Sterling Silver Shields For Los Angeles Patrolmen

Los Angeles policemen are to wear sterling silver shields, if the recommendation of Chief Jones and the Board of Police Commissioners is approved by the City Council and the $5,000 required to purchase the new badges is appropriated. In order to outlaw the present badges, a new design has been approved by the police commissioners. The new badge will not be a star, as first proposed, but will be a shield, similar to the present design, though surmounted by an eagle. Officers above the rank of sergeant will wear gold badges of the new design.

No Value "Calms"—Instead—a New Month, New Merchandise—and the Trade Wind Events!

No "Calms" when the flag of progress might droop on the masthead—when the Port of Good Times might seem so distant as to discourage the "crew!"

It is September—and the "Trade Winds" are blowing—an analogy Hamburger's has been pleased to use in exhorting the merchandise crew to BETTER efforts!

It is September and the Ship of the Store is laden full with New Merchandise—New—beautiful — vast assortments.

New Merchandise that the "Trade Wind" events will bring to you with every close marking in price that the ever increasing volume of Hamburger business makes possible.

New Merchandise that has been bought with full belief in the Port of Good Times—with the power of Hamburger's position in the market turned to advantage in every avenue of endeavor.

YOU MAY EXPECT GREAT THINGS OF HAMBURGER'S THROUGHOUT SEPTEMBER AND THE NEW SEASON—OUR SAILS ARE SET—WE ARE COMING STRAIGHT TO PORT WITH TRADE WIND EVENTS THAT EVIDENCE ONCE MORE THE IMPORTANCE OF HAMBURGER VALUE!

Lead in the "Trade Wind" Event of 1500 Models in Six Compelling Price Groups

Others, very much higher priced in Hamburger's regular stocks, have been reduced to this low level because they are a wee bit soiled or mussed. All join forces to make this a record-breaking sale. Other equally important groups:

1.95 | 2.95 | 3.95 | 5.95 | 7.95

From the smart Mina Taylor apron models at 1.95, through the stages of modest house dresses to the wonderfully fine French ginghams and voiles fashioned into the most piquant of frock styles—one finds VALUE such as only the "Trade Wind" Event can bring. Some of the frocks have been priced to 18.50. All sizes.
